

Copyright, International Film Service
A NOTABLE GROUP OF PROMINENT AMERICANS
 From left to right, in the front row, are Major General Hugh L. Scott, Oscar Straus, Elihu Root, Mayor Mitchel, of New York, and Admiral Glennon. The photograph was taken on the steps of the New York City Hall.

MISS LILLIAN BOWEN
 Of Nanticoke, Pa., and a graduate nurse of Jefferson Hospital, who is to go to France with that institution's hospital unit.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood
KING GEORGE AND KING ALBERT RECEIVE BELGIAN OFFICERS
 Both the British and Belgian rulers welcomed the remaining leaders of Belgium's army on the western front recently. This photograph, which is an official British picture, is one of the few showing the two monarchs together behind the battlefield, where they are spending a great deal of time.

Photo by American Press Association
AMERICAN TARS ARE RIVALS OF THE "SAMMEES" IN THE AFFECTION OF THE FRENCH POPULACE
 Here are a few of the sailors who landed at a French port with the first contingent of United States troops. They are "doing Paris" while their ship is being overhauled. Kneeling in the foreground is their English guide and interpreter. Note the typical French girl at the right, and how much taller the Yankees are than the Frenchmen. The photograph was taken in front of the Grand Opera House.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says a great many German ships are interned in our harbors, but no one seems to know how badly.

She Knew

He—I wonder why three-fourths of the typists in business offices are women?
 She—I think it is because men like to feel that there is at least one class of women whom they can dictate to.

THE POLICEMAN TOLD THE POWERFUL KATRINKA THE BABY MUSTN'T WADE IN THE FOUNTAIN, BUT HE DIDN'T SAY ANYTHING ABOUT THIS

By FONTAINE FOX (Copyright)

THE PADDED CELL

He's Satisfied

A very stout lady at the Zoological Gardens was seeing the lions fed for the first time and was rather surprised by the limited amount of meat that was given them.
 "That seems to me to be a very small piece of meat for the lion," she said to the attendant.
 The man looked at her with a glimmer of amusement in his eye.
 "It may seem a small piece to you, mum," he said, "but it's heaps for the lion."

Good for One Meal

"So your new cook came this afternoon. Do you think you can keep her long?"
 "Well, she can't get any train back now till tomorrow morning."

'Tis a Sad World
 "I am sorry to hear, Daniel," said he, "that your good wife is dead."
 "Sure, 'tis a sad day for me, sir," replied the Irishman. "The hand that rocked the cradle has kicked the bucket."

By the Sea

—London Opinion.
 "It's jolly hot where I've been."
 "Oh—just back from the front?"
 "Yes—at Brighton."

THE MILITARY VALUE

—Sydney Bulletin.
 Teacher of Scripture Class—Yes, children, then Nero ordered his centurions to give the slave twenty stripes—
 Mabel (whose father is in camp)—Lord, mum, that must 'a made him a blooming colonel!

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Corrected

"Yes," said Amy to Mildred, during the discussion of some circumstance or another, "that's about the size of it."
 "My dear, don't use that slang," gently corrected the high-school girl.
 "Say, 'That approximates its dimensions.'"

Seasick

—The Passing
 "Cheer up, Bill, you don't leave though you're goin' on leave first time for two years."
 "No wonder! Just 'ad a letter, the missus sayin' as I've got to her and the kids at the—(sniff)—side."