

SCENES OF WAR AND PLAY SHARE IN THE PICTORIAL ROUND-UP OF THE DAY'S NEWS

UNCLE SAM PREPARES FOR CONQUEST OF THE AIR
 Copyright International Film Service.
 This photograph, passed by the Committee on Public Information, shows the men of a United States army balloon company at the Fort Omaha, Nebraska, training school removing a balloon from the hangar. At this school the observers are trained for service on the French front.

SOLDIER BOYS ENJOY OPERATIC CONCERT IN THEIR CAMP
 Copyright Underwood & Underwood.
 Miss Anna Case, famous American soprano, presents the national guardsmen encamped "somewhere in New Jersey" with a war phonograph, which plays her record of the "Star Spangled Banner" while she sings the words of the national anthem.

"WHO IS SHE?" INTRODUCES JOSEPH E. BERNARD TO PATRONS OF THE B. F. KEITH THEATRE

LOOKING DOWN FROM THE BELFRY OF INDEPENDENCE HALL
 Remarkable photograph obtained by an EVENING LEDGER staff photographer showing how the Barry statue and Independence Square appear from an observation point in the historic bell tower.

FLOSSIE EVERETT IS AT THE CASINO THIS WEEK WITH THE "BURLESQUE REVIEW"

NOW TRAINING AT FORT OGLETHORPE
 Howard C. McCall, son of the president of the Philadelphia Electric Company, is at the advanced flight camp.

A GLIMPSE OF GERTRUDE VALERIE, A HEADLINER ON THE BILL AT THE WILLIAM PENN

FROM KITE FLYING TO AVIATION AT A BOUND
 Photograph by Underwood & Underwood.
 China's rapid strides in military development are exemplified in a striking manner by her aviation schools, having introduced this most modern innovation in warfare with considerable success. Her student flyers and schools are demonstrating their efficiency and have added to the efficiency of the Celestial army.