

ACTIVITIES OF VARIOUS SORTS CONTRIBUTE THIS UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PICTORIAL PAGE

Copyright International Film Service.
A WONDER OF THE TENNIS COURT
Miss Mary K. Browne, after contesting Miss Bjurstedt's championship laurels at Forest Hills, now prepares for Red Cross work at the French war front.

PLACING HEAVY CROSS GIRDERS AT OVERINGTON STREET FOR THE FRANKFORD ELEVATED

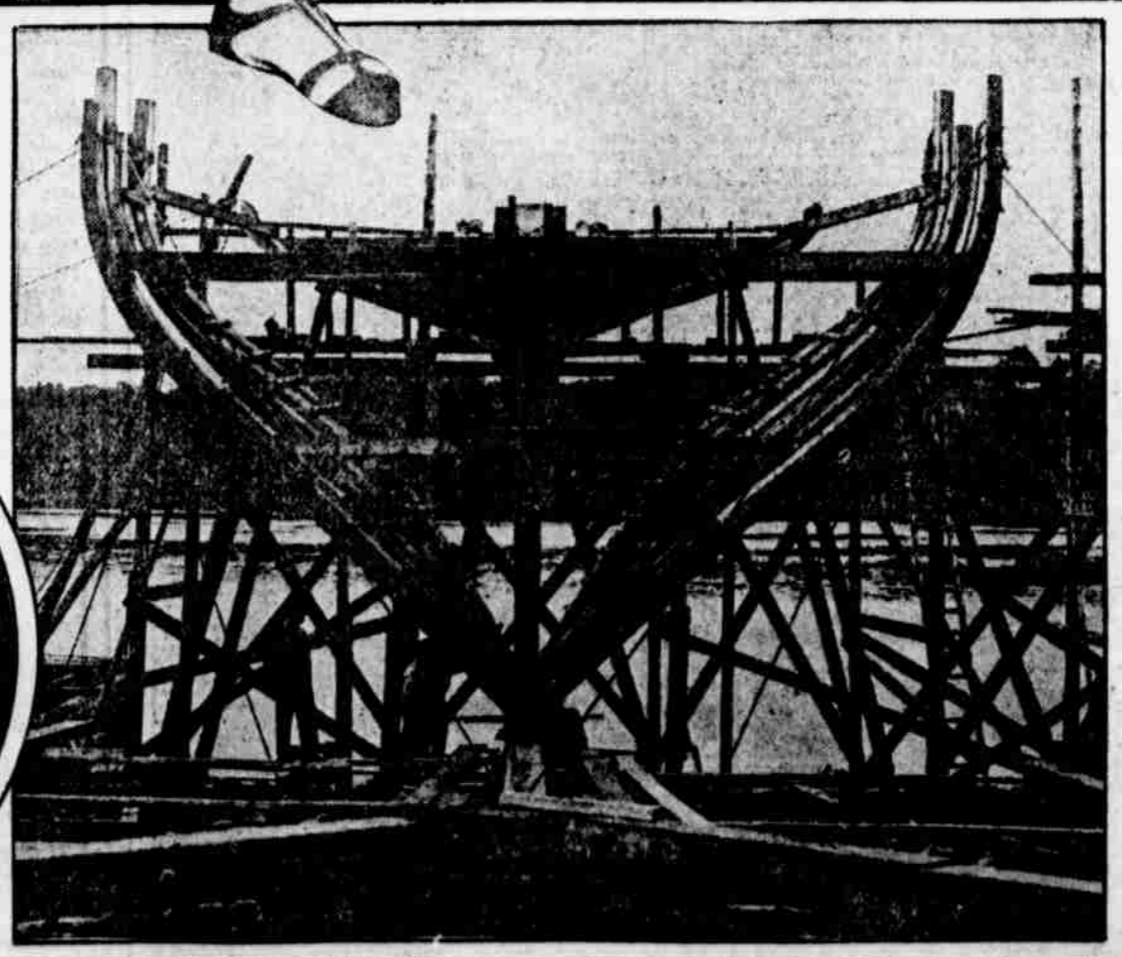

STARS OF CURTIS GUN CLUB SHOOT
Frank Pratt (at left), who broke fifty birds straight, is shown at the traps. C. H. Newcombe, winner of second honors, is shown above.

Copyright International Film Service.
WINS PRIZE AT NARRAGANSETT
Miss Dorothy Norris, of Philadelphia, takes first honors at the Casino costume ball.

Copyright International Film Service.
PHILADELPHIANS AID CHARITY
Harry D. Holloway carries off first prize for man in the costume ball held Saturday at the Casino.

Copyright International Film Service.
WOODEN WALLS OF REANIMATED AMERICAN COMMERCE ARE RISING
Laying down the keel and stern of a 3000-ton wooden ship at the Kelly & Spear shipyards at Bath, Me., where wooden vessels, destined to convey export products to neutral nations, are being rushed to completion with all the speed and power of the best shipbuilding skill that American labor affords.

Photo from Underwood & Underwood.
A CELESTIAL SKY WARRIOR
Lieutenant Pau is the foremost aviator in the corps of aerial fighters whom the United States has sent to the front.

Copyright Harris & Ewing.
IS BUTTER AND EGGS ADVISER
George E. Haskell, largest dealer in dairy and poultry products in the United States, will advise Food Administrator Hoover.