WILSON TO DECIDE ON WHEAT PRICE

Deadlock in Committee May Shift Burden to President

TWO REPORTS POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Another war burden is thrown on the shoulders of President Wilson today...

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, chairman of the committee, today said the committee would probably reach a decision during the day...

When the committee went into session on Tuesday afternoon, it confidently expected that the price of wheat would be fixed before nightfall...

Today the members of the commission declare they will make their recommendations to President Wilson...

In the light of this announcement, it was believed today that the deadlock has been caused by general fear of a price too low to suit the producers...

It is generally admitted the committee has not yet voted on a wheat price. The reason for the delay in voting has been the hope of Chairman Garfield that a unanimous decision might be reached...

CITY TO HONOR ITS YOUNG DEFENDERS

National Army Quota Will Receive Tribute at Saturday's Demonstration

A ROUSING "SEND-OFF" No army that ever marched forth to battle in all the red history of war carried with it the memory of a more inspiring farewell than will be accorded by Philadelphia on Saturday to those of her sons selected for the new National Army...

RUSSIA SHARES FAITH OF U. S. MESSAGE SAYS Brief Acknowledgment of President's Greeting Cabled to Embassy Here

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Russia today cabled the Russian Ambassador the following message for transmittal to Secretary Lansing:

WANTS CROWD TO SING Songs of patriotism and sentiment will resound throughout the length of the route of the parade if a suggestion of Miss Anne McDonough, associate director of the Philadelphia Community Music Association, is taken up...

Only by song can the emotions of all people be fused into a compact national organism," says Miss McDonough. "This has been proved by our work at Hunting Park, Leaning Tower and the Electric Bureau at Wrightstown. General Bell's phrase, 'Singing men are fighting men,' has already become historical."

"So it's all sing on Saturday. Everybody will sing, and we will all catch the fire from one more latent source of power which only needs recognition and a channel for expression to sweep us all up and onward."

The Union League will erect a grandstand in front of the league house and will also furnish a band.

Airplanes will circle high above the heads of the throngs dropping paper bombs containing a greeting from the Mayor to the citizens. There will be at least six of the airplanes, three from the navy and three from the aviation school at Essington.

An elaborate system of electrical control of the big procession has been arranged by Chief McLaughlin, of the Electric Bureau. At each of the more important intersecting streets between Diamond and Wharton will be a telephone, so that the marshal can learn at a moment's notice what is happening in the entire line.

DANIELS PLEDGES NAVY'S WAR ZEAL

Not Till Peace Treaty Is Actually Signed Will Activity Be Remitted

SWORD DRAWN FOR RIGHT CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30.—"The navy believes that in preparing for a terrible war it is taking the surest means to bring about an early and effective peace."

"Let there be no fear that rumors of peace or possibilities of a cessation of the struggle will cause us to remit one moment our activities on sea and shore, in increasing our armament, in strengthening our fleet and in every way preparing for the conflict."

"Not until the peace treaty is actually signed will we remit one single item from our program of preparation."

This message of a greater navy was brought to Charleston today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels in breaking ground for the new $2,000,000 naval projectile factory, which is the first of a series of new plants of naval construction plants which will ultimately cost $15,000,000.

Secretary Daniels was emphatic in his advocacy of Government-owned naval plants. He said if the Congressional appropriation for navy construction had been expended in 1907, when it was passed, this country would have saved millions of dollars. He declared the United States has been compelled to pay excessive prices to private manufacturers because the Government lacked the judgment to go into the business.

Outlining other naval construction work, including the building of formidable destroyers, characterized as the "terror of the submarine," Secretary Daniels said the navy had no illusions about the meaning of this war.

"The increase in our navy and the creation of a vast army," he said, "have brought the war home to us all. It is your war as it is mine. Each one of us has a personal interest in it, not only as citizens of the United States whose rights were invaded, whose ships bent on peaceful missions were sunk without warning, whose citizens were killed or drowned by a nation which waged war on us without declaring war, but also as citizens of the world, with an interest in preserving the rights of humanity and assuring a permanent peace by removing the menace of aggressive autocracy."

"Unmoved by possibility of material advantage or conquest, patient amid aggravation and aggression, hoping against hope until the last moment that this madness of the Imperial German Government would pass away, America has at last drawn her sword, not only for her own rights, not only for her own existence, but for the very existence of freedom itself upon the earth. And it will not be sheathed until victory is won."

Secretary Daniels was accompanied by Admiral Fletcher, head of the Atlantic fleet; Captain George Clark and Reuben Bakenhus, civil engineer of the navy, who formed the board which planned the extensive naval program for Charleston. The projectile plant will be in operation next April and within eighteen or twenty months the armorplate plant will be completed.

Every patriotic citizen should display "Old Glory" next Saturday and Monday. If you are not satisfied with your present one, we will replace it with a genuine.
