

VIEWS OF THE CARTOONISTS AT HOME AND ABROAD

From the Passing Show (English)
COMIC RELIEF

Lutepase in the Newark News
"STAY WITH IT, PARD"

Donnell in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat
"KEEP SIFTIN', UNCLE"

Cassell's Saturday Journal (English)
"KILL THAT WASP"

Page in the Nashville Tennessean
SO FAR AND NO FARTHER

Harding in the Brooklyn Eagle
THE BIG PUSH

From the Westminster Gazette (English)
CAMOUFLAGE

IT SEEMED AS IF THE BABY HAD GOT TIRED OF HIS PLAYHOUSE UNTIL HE AND THE POWERFUL KATRINKA INVENTED A GAME CALLED "CYCLONE"

By FONTAINE FOX

THE PADDED CELL

CHORUS OF THE INNOCENTS—ANY QUIET AFTERNOON ON THE PORCH, MISS SMITH IS STARTING A NEW SWEATER.

Restful Vacation

We "took a cottage" for the season to get a badly needed rest, for folks told us when that's the reason for going away it's always best to dodge the big hotel's attraction, where dancing, singing girls and boys would almost drive us to distraction with midnight revels, song and noise. I guess we rested half an hour in all the time we were away, and that was when a heavy shower prevented any kind of play. The quiet cottage couldn't hold us. We quickly sought the big hotel. In spite of all that folks had told us, for every noisy stunt we fell, and all day long we kept on going, from early morn till late at night—went bathing, fishing, sailing, rowing, and doing stunts with all our might. The rest that was so much desired! We didn't rest a bit, it's true; for resting always makes me tired—it's such a stupid thing to do. But next spring when that tired feeling makes me weary and distressed I'll cast my eyes up to the ceiling and tell the boss I need a rest. I'll gather up my wife and baby and seaward quickly disappear. We'll rent another cottage, maybe, and rest just like we did this year.

WILL MOORE

Answer Yes or No

Very Rude Boy (bawling through crack in bathing machine)—Why aren't you in khaki?

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says she imagines the airplane isn't so very dangerous if you have good, powerful brakes.

Following the Textbook

A teacher asked her class to write an essay on London. She was surprised to read the following in one attempt:
"The people of London are noted for their stupidity."
The young author was asked how he got that idea.
"Please, miss," was the reply, "it says in the textbooks the population of London is very dense."—New York Globe

Suspicious Stammering

Male Customer—Er, er—er, Um, Ah, Er—He—ha.
Jeweler (to his assistant)—Bring that tray of engagement rings here, Henry.

An Automatic Check

Bilton—Aren't you spending too much?
Mrs. Bilton—No, dear, you don't make enough for me to do that.—Life

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

