

FIRST ARTILLERY AT CAMP HANCOCK

Regiment Is Expected to Be Under Canvas by Tonight

GENERALS MAY BE MOVED

CAMP HANCOCK, Augusta, Ga., Aug. 31.—Although headquarters denies official information of its arrival, the first field artillery, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, is expected to be under canvas in Camp Hancock before night.

Should these contingents arrive three complete regiments of Pennsylvania's twenty-eighth army division will be in the field. With the exception of three batteries all the units of the first artillery are from Pittsburgh.

Major General Clement and Brigadier General Sillwell, Logan and O'Neill have received their commissions in the National Army. That means they are not officers of the Regular Army nor of the National Guard of the United States, but of the new army, and according to the opinion of officers here can be transferred to the command of the conscript forces at the discretion of the President.

No one in the field has any knowledge of what the reorganization plans may bring about; the earnest hope is expressed that the commanding officers of the division will not be shifted. Commanders of the National Army were assigned some time ago, but it is realized that changes are contemplated.

It was learned yesterday that efforts have been made by members of the staff of General Clement to learn why the remaining units of the Pennsylvania division were notified that the camp is ready for the first sixteenth and eighteenth Infantry Regiments, the field bakery and several other units. No explanations, however, have been received.

Men Who Failed to Report for the Physical Examination Being Rounded Up

Lists of men who have failed to report for physical examination are rapidly coming in to T. Henry Walnut, special assistant United States Attorney. Government investigators have been assigned to round up these men. Heavy penalties, Mr. Walnut would be imposed on the men should they fail to appear at the cantonments, as they have automatically become soldiers in the new National Army.

AN AMERICAN PORT, Aug. 31.—How the largest freighter now plying between the United States and European ports narrowly escaped destruction by a German submarine was told when the big freighter reached this port today. A British destroyer, which was conveying the freight ship, shelled the U-boat and forced it to submerge after it discharged a torpedo, which passed astern of the freighter.

HOSETTE HERE; HEBE'S HIGH HOSE HIES HENCE

TROOPS AT CAMP EDGE

TO MOVE OUT RAPIDLY

Orders Expected at Any Time for Others to Go to Camp McClellan

CAMP EDGE, Sea Girt, Aug. 31.—Troop movements show, when so ordered, may be more extensive than those anticipated a few days ago. It was planned to send with the next contingent the Divisional Headquarters Troop and Company C, Engineers, from this State, and the First Maryland Infantry and the First Delaware Infantry. These troops have not been moved as rapidly as it was thought, and, as a consequence, it is understood that a more general movement may be ordered.

Just what troops may be ordered out is not known. General Barber stated again this morning that he had no orders covering any troop movements, dispelling a hundred and one rumors that sprang up like mushrooms following yesterday's shower. However, it is so secret that the authorities here will not be surprised to receive instructions at any time concerning the start of other organizations or detachments from Camp McClellan.

There is no outfit more interested than the cavalry. After five weeks in camp here they know no more than when they came about what the Government expects to do with them. Of course, they want to remain as cavalry, but the chances seem to favor their being converted into the machine-gun battalion that is made a part of every divisional organization under the new plan.

Both the infantry and the divisional headquarters troops are launching forth on a program of practical work to be done in the country near Sea Girt. It will include teaching the reading and the reconnoitering. Such work was started a few days ago by the headquarters troop and the hike of the Third Regiment home from Asbury Park on Wednesday showed Colonel Thomas D. Landon, the commander, that they were also ready for such work.

All work on the muster-in of the new State militia must be finished tonight. Lieutenant Colonel Robert Patterson, of Elizabeth, will make a complete report to Governor Newton tomorrow. Tonight units will be mustered in at Jersey City, Atlantic City, Bayonne, New Brunswick, Dover, Philadelphia, Newton and Somerville. Last night mustering officers admitted organizations at Passaic, Cape May and Trenton.

LOCAL BOARDS CERTIFY TO FIRST DRAFT QUOTAS

Several of the local boards have partly completed the work of certifying men for the first quota of men to leave here September 1, 1917.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield assumed his duties as coal administrator today. The first act taken was to assent to a request for a conference from a number of coal operators.

THE HOSETTE COMES PRETTY HIGH, BUT NOT HIGH ENOUGH, SAY SOME

The Bare Fact Is the Latest Smart Feminine Specialty Causes Some to Wonder Where the Vogue Will Stop

By MLISS

The hosette is here. Financially speaking, it comes pretty high, but the latter, one might say the bare fact of the matter, is that the hosette is scarcely more than a sock. And taking this into consideration there are some who believe it doesn't come nearly high enough.

Just everything depends on the knee. Some say that the Scotch kilts, known to our enemy as the "Ladies from Hell," are responsible for the vogue. Others who are not priced it, attribute the hosette to war economy. At any rate the pair displayed in the window of a specialty shop on Chestnut street has caused one more speculation as to what the world is coming to anyway.

The hosette costs a dollar and a half per pair and up to the present time has appeared only in black silk and a gay blue and white striped effect. Its success was immediate.

VICTORIA—"To the Death" Rolfe-Metro, with Olga Petrova and Mahlon Hamilton. Story by Russell. Directed by Burton King. Photographed by Harry Harris.

This is an interesting melodrama, as mechanical as a windmill, but with plenty of breezy in its sails. The most remarkable feature of the production is the emancipation of pale, passionate Petrova from her former tiresome repression.

The Victor also offers a most amusing farcical melodrama, "The Goodness Gracious!," starring "The Show-Biz" duo.

STATE HAS NEW PLAN TO MOVE DRAFTED MEN

Original Method of Mobilizing First 5 Per Cent Quota Found Unsatisfactory

COMPLETE GROUPS TO GO

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—The plan mapped out for the movement of 5 per cent of Pennsylvania's quota for the new National Army which begins September 1 is the only one of its kind in the country, and was worked out after consent had been obtained from Provost Marshal General Crowder.

The original plan provided that the movement of the quota should be completed in five days and that each district should send one-fifth of the 5 per cent quota each day. In some districts where 5 per cent called only a few men it was pointed out that on each of the five days only one or two men would be sent to the mobilization camps.

The special trains will be started at various points, different each day, and the selected men will be notified to be at stations along the line, so that they may be picked up. Local boards are being notified today of the places the selected men must report.

Although no claims have yet been announced for the movement of 40 per cent of the State's quota on September 15, it is considered likely here that the same plan will be adopted.

ENGINEERS REACH CAMP

MILLS FROM S. CAROLINA

Portion of General Mann's Staff Arrives

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Aug. 31.—A portion of Major General W. A. Mann's staff of twenty-seven officers is expected to arrive here today. They accompanied General Mann from Washington when he came here to confer with Brigadier General Lenthall.

General Mann has returned to Washington where he is detailed to inspect military affairs of the camp, but will be back in a few days to take command of the Rainbow Division here.

The South Carolina battalion of engineers, numbering 750 men, has arrived from Unionville in command of Captain F. M. Johnson. An equal number of Georgia infantrymen is expected tonight.

A squad of stragglers who disappeared from the 16th Regiment in digger ditches today under guard, the men came back to the camp last night after having been impressed with the gravity of a desertion charge.

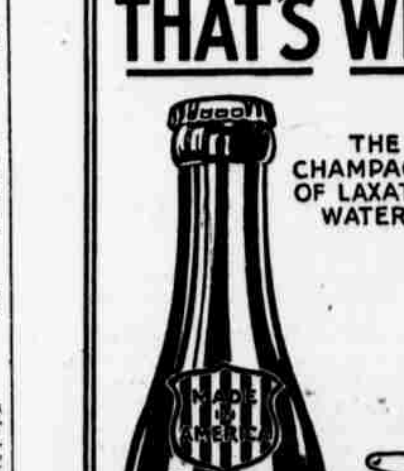

SHIP ARRIVALS

Following is the United States Government list of ships arrived at ports on the Atlantic coast and Gulf of Mexico for twenty-four hours ended August 29, as posted today in the custom house. The list shows arrival of fifty-eight vessels, of which thirteen are American, twenty-seven British, two French, nine Norwegian, four Danish, and one each Spanish, Swedish and Honduran.

U.S. TO LEAD ALL IN AVIATION WORK

Now Constructing, Somewhere in France, Greatest Flying Field in World

TO BE TEN SQUARE MILES

By DANIEL DILLON

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE

America is to have the biggest aviation field in the world. I saw it under construction at the American aerial base on a five-day motor tour of the American military establishments which ended today. The site of the aviation camp is ten miles square, and the barracks, now being erected, will house 15,000 men. Hangars are being constructed to accommodate enough machines for use by these men. In sixty days sufficient hangars will be completed to accompany 1500 airplanes. The remainder will be finished by January.

This is the first announcement or view of the aviation camp to be permitted by the American military authorities. Hundreds of young Americans are already there in training.

America's gigantic war preparations are just beginning to show their true extent. After a five-day motor tour of inspection of the organizations of the American quartermaster and the medical units, behind the lines, as well as the sites for permanent medical establishments, one strengthens the conclusion that the part of the United States in this war is going to be tremendous.

Thousands of young Americans now are receiving aerial instruction. One training school has been set aside temporarily by the French for use by the Americans until the American plant for training is completed. This has aroused some slight concern among the French instructors.

An American member of the Foreign Legion who was conducting a class in technical matters, pronounced the Americans the best pupils he had ever seen.

A majority of the army men are college graduates and all of the officers of the navy.

At present, no provision has been made for the naval students to receive commissions when they have finished their training. This has aroused some slight concern, as the naval men complain that the army fares better than the navy in this respect.

Work at the aviation training camp begins early. The men are up before dawn and 4:30 finds them flying or getting their machines in shape for flight. They remain in the air until 10 o'clock when the technical instruction begins. At 4 in the afternoon they again take the air and stay up until darkness falls.

A hearty supper is appreciated at the end of such a strenuous day and the men then lose no time in "hitting the hay."
