

NEWS OF THE CARTOONISTS AT HOME AND ABROAD

THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY

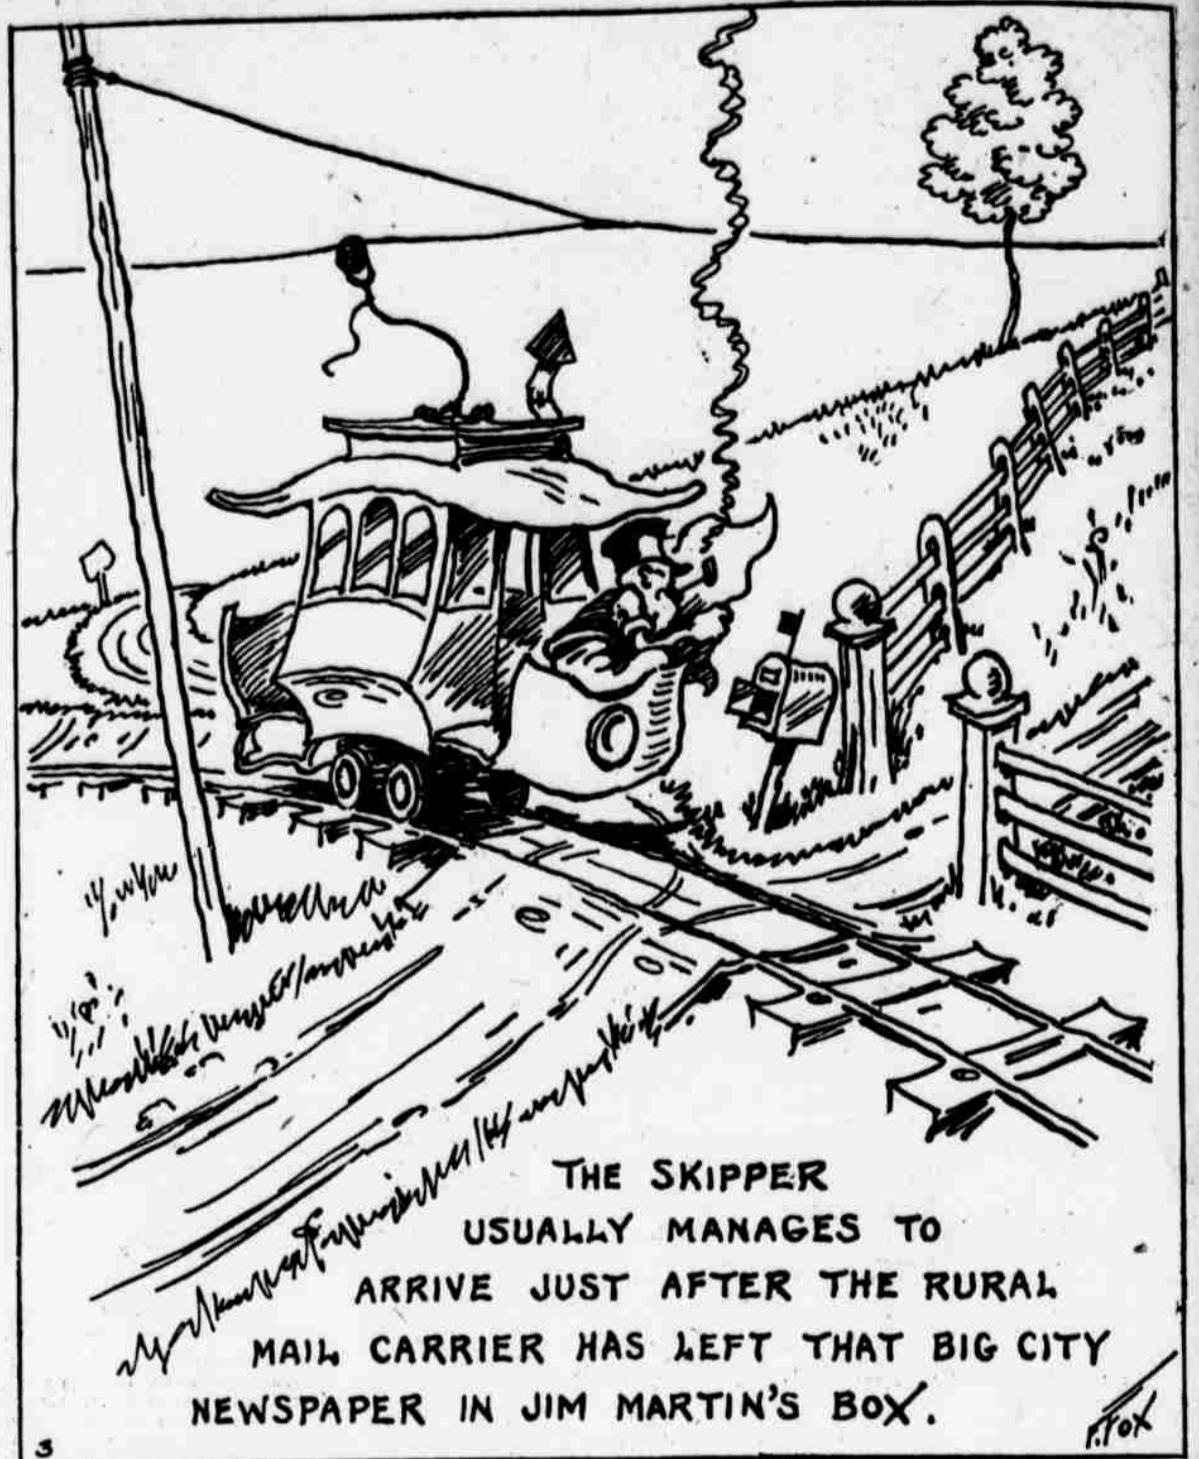

By FONTAINE FOX

From the Passing Show (London).
THE PALMIST: "YOUR HINDENBURG LINE IS BADLY BROKEN!"

Aymond, in the New Orleans Daily States.
THE AWAKENING

THE SKIPPER
USUALLY MANAGES TO
ARRIVE JUST AFTER THE RURAL
MAIL CARRIER HAS LEFT THAT BIG CITY
NEWSPAPER IN JIM MARTIN'S BOX.

From Life (copyright).
RUNNING WILD

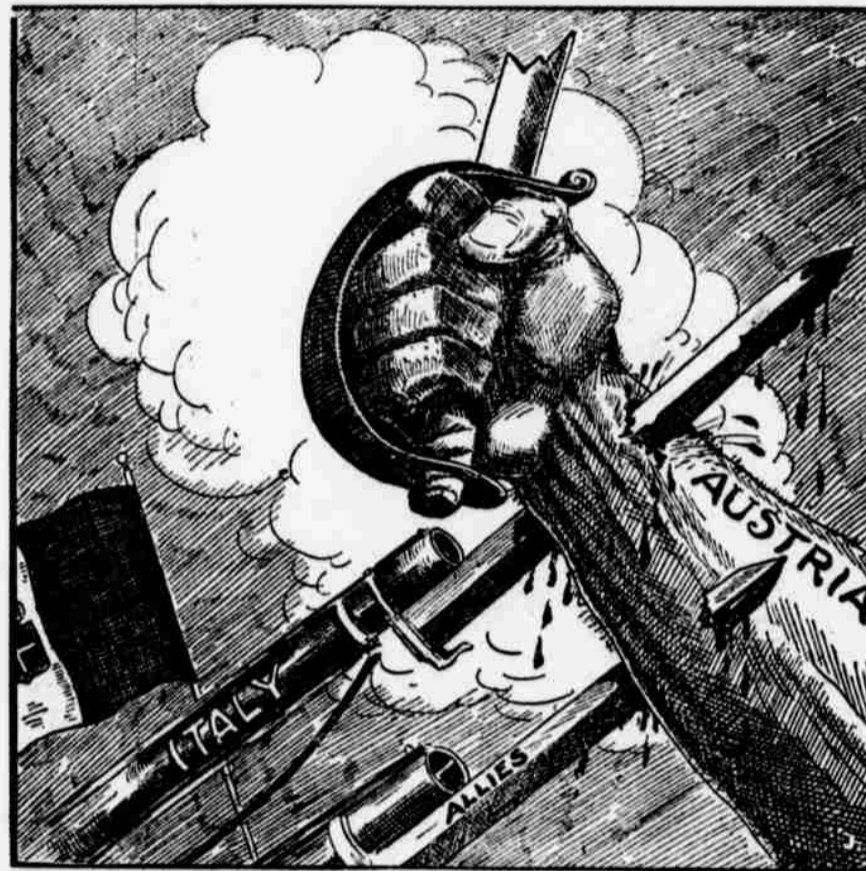

From London Opinion.
THE MISCHIEVOUS MONKEY

From John Bull.
THE LEECHES AND THEIR VICTIM

Rogers, in the New York Herald.
MOVING FOR PEACE—AND MOVING FAST

Dannell, in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
GERMANY'S RIGHT HAND

QUIGGAND
Tutill, in the St. Louis Star.

Rehas, in the New York World.
TWO WHO WON'T RESIGN

Edison

The Germans place a great reliance on scientific schrecklichkeit; they seem to think that Teuton science will win by making war a fright; but they forget that since we're fighting there's Yankee science in the fray—the man who made electric lighting is on the Kaiser's trail today. For Edison is still inventing; the wizard of resourceful bean will find some clever scheme for denting the gizzard of the submarine. They say he's working sixteen hours out of the daily twenty-four to circumvent the Central Powers and help our Allies win the war. Within his vine-clad laboratory he works while others slack or sleep. When he succeeds all earthly glory on him a grateful world will heap. All honor to the grand old toiler! And here's more power to him, too! May he outwit the world's despoiler and cause a German Waterloo. May he whose fertile cerebration made wax and needle sing and play, turn out to be the world's salvation and give the Kaiser his conge.

WILL MOORE.

—Cassell's Saturday Journal.
"Hello! What's happened to George?"
"Oh, some idiot persuaded him to get under a mule to see why it didn't go."

THE PADDED CELL

AT OUR SUMMER HOTEL

NO, THIS ISN'T A MOON LIGHT IT'S A COIN WE FOUND ON THE FRONT PORCH, WE CAN'T SHOW IT TOO PLAINLY BECAUSE THE GOVERNMENT MIGHT THINK WE WERE COUNTERFEITING OR SOMETHING, BUT THIS IS JUST THE SIZE OF THE COIN. WE HAVE FRAMED IT, IT'S THE ONLY THING WE EVER GOT FOR NOTHING AT THIS HOTEL AFTER THREE WEEKS HERE WE CONSIDER OURSELVES LUCKY IF WE CAN BREATHE FREELY, BUT THEY'RE GOING TO BE KIND! THEY'RE GOING TO LET US TAKE OUR CLOTHES HOME WITH US!

HAYWARD

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says that at first she didn't believe the story that the Germans had been selling poisoned court plaster in this country, but she guesses it must be true, after all, as she overheard the doctor say that there are many active germ agents...