Big Sale of Two-year 6s

"We have just bought and sold $280,000 of the two-year 6 per cent notes of the American Public Utilities Company," said the manager of the investment department of Bioren & Co., bankers, Chestnut street near Fourth.

"These notes," he remarked, "are secured by the first and refunding 5 per cent bonds of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Company. This company owns and operates electric light and power, street and interurban railway, gas, domestic water and hotwater heating properties in Eau Claire, La Crosse, Chippewa Falls and Menominee, Wis, and Red Wing, Minn. It is controlled and managed by the American Public Utilities Company through ownership or common stock."

Did the Kaiser Upset Yesterday's Market?

There were all sorts and conditions of rumors on the street and in the offices of the investment houses in the city yesterday to explain stock market conditions. One of them was given by a usually level-headed broker, whose specialty is public utilities

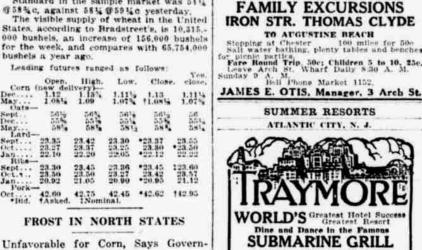

"I heard," he said, "that the market condition was brought about just as an almost similar condition was brought about early in the war, and that was by the Germans dumping $100,010 into the New York Stock Exchange to upset the market."

Spacious Firegroof Garage

ment Report WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 .- The Government weekly weather bulletin says: "There was some frost damage in the extreme northern States. Cool weather which pre-vailed in most central and northern States was decidedly unfavorable for the rapid

Another and perhaps more plausible reason was given by the head of a large banking house. He said that he heard it was the persistent rumor of peace before Christmas.

"There is no doubt that the next meeting of the Reichstag is going to produce results in Germany which will be revolutionary," he said.

"President Wilson's reply to the Pope is simmering in the German brain and the results will be seen before long," he observed. "The German people will naturally, at first, be disinclined to change their present form of government on account of the great prosperity which came to that country in the last two decades, but they are commercial enough to know they can't make enemies with the whole world."

Predicts Rising Market

"The market conditions don't disturb me," said a well-known banker. "We must have a rising market if we are going to sell the next issue of Liberty Bonds-and we are going to sell them. This is the time to buy standard stocks, as they are bound to go up as soon as the Liberty Bonds are decided upon as to terms, etc."

Public Utilities Quiet

"Public utility securities are very qulet." said the head of a firm in the Stock Exchange Building that specializes in that class of securities. "I am glad to see the public service commissions all over the country taking a broad view of the relations of public utility corporations to the public. Many of these concerns, especially the tractions and interurbans, must be reorganized before long, and in the meantime the public service commissions recognize they must charge the public more for service if they are to continue to operate until such reorganization, or until conditions improve as regards coal, material and labor."

A Suggestion to Popularize the Next Liberty Loan

Spencer Trask & Co., 25 Broad street, New York, in a communication issued to their correspondents, say:

The suggestion has been made to issue a national loan in denominations as low as $1, and have investors in this loan contribute in small amounts and receive a stamp or some other evidence of deposit from the agencies of the Federal Government, which would be later convertible into a bond of largr denomination when sufficient money had been saved for this purpose. When it is considered that less than 4 per cent of the population of the country, as a whole, subscribed to the Liberty Loan, notwithstanding its success, the possibilities of a loan of the type given are of tremendous import. To the extent, therefore, that a larger percentage of the population as indicated contribute to such a loan, so much more relief would come to the banks, institutions and larger investors, and make the gigantic task of financing the present war considerably less onerous."

Deepest Oil Well Abandoned

Speaking of oil production and oil fields recently, a well-known oil operator said that the deepest oil well in the world had at last been abandoned. This well was located at a place called Candor, near McDonald, on the Pan Handle Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, some miles out of Pittsburgh. -

The McDonald region was one of the famous fields in the early days and still produces a considerable amount of oil. Passengers on the Pan Handle coming or going to Cincinanti have often wondered at the forests of oil derricks which extended from the neighborhood of McDonald to the Ohio River at Steubenville and

This well at Candor has been drilled to a depth of 7245 feet, and it was com-20nly reported that the drilling was being done by the Standard Oil Company, which, it was said, had given orders to drill until the drills melted or dropped through at the other side of the earth. Over half a million dollars had been spent in the drilling. The abandonment was brought about through the fact that at the bottom of the well are two full strings of tools, one spear, one loose bit, a forty-five-foot stem and bit and 410 feet of parted and collapsed casing.

Many visitors have made a journey to this well as one of the world's wonders.

London Pays High Price for Loan

The increasing cost of foreign borrowings in this market was emphasized yesterday in the announcement by the group of New York bankers who have purchased the $6,490,000 one-year discount bills dated September 18, 1917, of the Metropolitan Water Board of London, which have been placed on the market on a 7 per cent discount basis to redeem a like amount of discount notes which mature September 18.

The Metropolitan Water Board operates the public water works which supply the entire county of Middlesex, which virtually means the city of London, and parts of five counties adjoining, serving a population of about 7,000.000. The service is performed virtually at cost, but the board has power to lavy taxes on the
