

THE CAMERA VISUALIZES THE WORLD'S DOINGS AS NO WRITER CAN DEPICT THEM

Photograph by Evening Ledger Staff Photographer.

VEHICLES OF WAR NOW REST WHERE-RACING SULKIES SPED

The course and paddock at the Allentown fair grounds are utilized as a garage for the ambulance corps now quartered there.

Photograph by Evening Ledger Staff Photographer.

"THIS IS THE WAY WE WASH OUR CLOTHES," SINGS SAMMEE Every member of the Allentown ambulance camp takes part in the "rub-a-dub-dub" tub chorus that marks the arrival of laundry day.

Photograph by Julian Bryan.

CAMOUFLAGE SCREENS THE BIRDLIKE ARMY OBSERVER Hidden from view by rocks and sandbags, these "eyes" of the Poilu forces peer forth from tree trunks and other advantageous shelters.

A CRAVATH IN EMBRYO

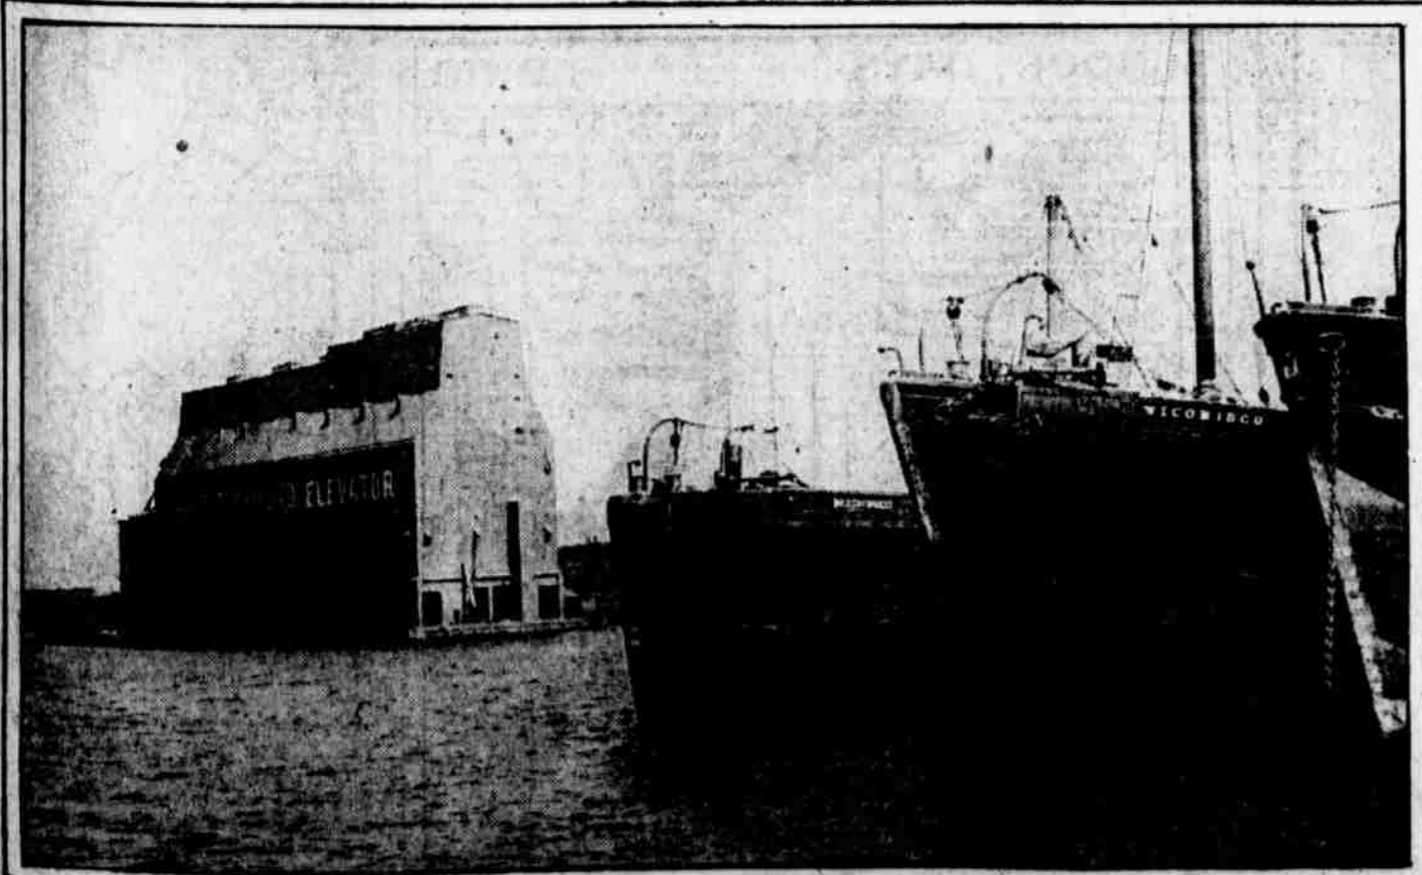

"Kid" Grogan, shortstop and "home-run king" of the Curtis Country Club baseball team.

Copyright, Harris & Ewing.

NATIVES OF SOUTH AFRICA DEFENDING STRATEGIC ROADS AS SHOWN IN ONE OF THE FIRST FRENCH OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHS ARRIVING FROM THAT FAR-OFF BATTLEGROUND

AT RIGHT, PROF. VERNON KELLOGG, STANFORD UNIVERSITY, A VOLUNTEER AID OF FOOD ADMINISTRATOR HOOVER

PORT RICHMOND'S GRAIN ELEVATORS LOOM HIGH IN PHILADELPHIA'S MONUMENTS OF COMMERCE Millions of bushels handled here yearly attest the importance of the Delaware as a cereal-carrying channel and the constantly growing trade that is transacted at this port.

MAIN LINE PRESERVATION LEAGUE MEMBERS ARE LOYALLY UPHOLDING THE HOOVER CAMPAIGN Miss Marjory Eells, Miss Ina S. Lindman, general superintendent, and Mrs. Arthur Van Harlingen, chairman, have converted the Rosemont School into a "home defense" kitchen.