PERCY LAWRENCE WINS BIKE TITLE

Leads in Race for Fifty-Mile Championship from the Start to Finish

HUNTER IS PACEMAKER

The following announcement made by Bobby Calboun, the chief and only announcer of the Point Breeze Park Motordrome, made at the finish of the bike race last night, tells the results of the championship motorpaced race in a nutshell: "1517 championship cup race, won by Percy Lawrence, of San Francisco, the new world's motorpaced bicycle champion, paced by the peerless Jimmy Hunter, the new world's champion pacemaker; second, Fred Eerbert, of Boston, paced by Provost; third, Clarence Carman, the ex-champion of the world, Distance, fifty miles; time, one hour four minutes and twenty-five seconds."

Percy deserved to win the title as he was the first to catch his pacemaker, at the beginning of the race, and held the lead the entire fifty miles, finishing three laps in front of Herbert, of Beston, who had been substituted at the last minute because Vincent Madonus had round at impossible to compete. Carman had trouble all evening and the best he could do was to ning and the best he could do was to him had been substituted at the last minute because and the least minute because and the least minute because the first large of the last minute because and the least minute because the last minute bec

Paced by Hunter

Lawrence was lucky and drew first choice of pacemakers, selecting Jimmy Hunter, the local speed king. Carman had second pick and surprised the wise ones by choosing Billy Vanderberry, another local man, over Morin and Stein, both of Boston, who came here with great "reps." Morin did not have a chance to show the local bike fans his ability, as George Cameron falled to get going after having a puncture in the fourteenth mile. Stein made a good impression.

Judge Eugene Bonniwell started the six riders off on their long grind, Lawrence taking the lead, closely followeed by Collins, paced by Stein. Collins kept within twenty yards of Percy in the first four miles, but a puncture in his front tire spoiled whatever hopes he had of winning the champlonishly, he losing five laps because of the accident.

Rides Safely

Hunter kept Lawrence safe in the lead the remainder of the race and it was only the occasional brushes between the lead-ing men that held the interest of the 10,000 ing men that held the interest of the 10.000 spectators. In the twenty-second mile Stein and Hunter rode neck and neck around the bowl for an entire lap until Collins could not hold the record-breaking sace any longer. Again in the twenty-ninth mile, although he was several laps behind. Stein would not allow Hunter to pass him, and this time it was Lawrence who was unable to contribute the fact mee.

to continue the fast pace. Starting the thirty-fifth mile, Vander-berry, who was having motor trouble, exchanged places with Stein, the local man taking collins, who was now out of the running, and Stein becoming Carman's pacemaker. This change worked all right for a few miles, but Carman evidently had
