

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Society Is Much Interested in the Coming Announcement of Miss Lois Cassatt's Engagement—Other Matters Discussed

WELL, of course, with all these exciting announcements in the New York and our papers that Lois Cassatt's engagement is to be announced next Monday by her grandmother, Mrs. Alexander J. Cassatt, it's quite normal and natural that the whole town should be agog and asking who is the lucky man? The conjectures are many, of course, and the guesses include men from Newport and New York and other places, for Lois has never spent a summer at home since she came out and it is but natural to think that some of the many beaux of other towns should have been in the running; but the wee bird tells me that the lucky man's front gate is just about a stone's throw from Lois' own front gate out on Cheswood lane, in Haverford, and, in fact, that he is none other than young Jack Thayer, who was recently made a lieutenant at Fort Niagara. He is the son of the late John B. Thayer, who was drowned in the Titanic disaster five years ago. Jack had quite a miraculous escape himself at the time, for he was then sixteen or seventeen years of age and refused to take to the boats with the women and children and stood bravely by his father on the deck ready to give up his life if the call came. He went down with the ship and then when he first came up, finding he was free of the wreckage, started to swim. He came to one of the boats, which had room for one more and they took him in, and the next morning he had the joy of greeting his mother on board the Carpathia, both having been rescued by that gallant ship and her crew.

would resent it and turn him down for keeps. Imagine his joy on half apologizing to Alice when he met her to find she did not know what on earth he was talking about. He immediately thought that some mutual friend had played a practical joke on him and breathed content. Afterward he married Alice and neither he nor his wife can in any way account for the coldness of his sister-in-law Edith.

I VISITED the Germantown Hospital yesterday, and such wild excitement I have never seen. Such crying and screaming, such gurgles of delight and so many ahs and goos as never before appeared in any one vocabulary. And in the midst of it all, "Oh my, dear, but isn't he a dear little soul and don't you think he looks exactly like his father, you DON'T more like his mother?" Well, really! look at the way he waves his hand, as if about to address an audience. I just know he's going to be a lawyer; no! no! look, he's folding his hands in prayer; he'll be a bishop, nothing less," and so it went.

The explanation of it all is that at the hospital there are three new babies to augment the population of Germantown. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Potter, Jr., you know, have a son, the Earle Cooks a cunning little girl named for her mother Lorra, and right next door is young Eric Wilkinson, son of the Joseph Darlington Wilkinsons.

Well, some one wanted to see the young Wilkinson infant, so the nurse was summoned, only to tell the fond mother that Eric, aged one week, was visiting. He had gone to pay a visit on young Sheldon Potter, who is also of that same venerable age. Just what they discussed will probably never be known, but whatever it was it was punctuated with squeals of delight, and I strongly suspect there was a good story or two exchanged, for they were fairly doubled up with glee. And you must acknowledge there are some things we grown-ups don't know everything about, after all.

LOIS CASSATT is the daughter of Captain Edward Buchanan Cassatt by his first wife, who was Miss Emilie Phillips. They were divorced many years ago and, both having remarried, Lois has spent most of her time with her grandmother, Mrs. Alexander Cassatt, who has been much alone since the death of her husband, as her four children all married rather early in life with the exception of Katherine, who married Doctor Hutchinson some ten years ago, and died about two years later. Lois is just about Jack Thayer's age, if not perhaps a year or so older. She is extremely pretty and has one of those lovely rose-complexions, rather fair curly hair and extremely pretty eyes.

Do you know I'm glad she has fallen in love with one of our own men; I sort of hate so many of our nice girls to marry away from home. This is all if it is Jack Thayer, for Grandmother Cassatt refuses to reveal his identity before Monday.

THE days of Betsy Ross are not over by any manner of means, let me tell you: a group of Germantown women have just finished a flag which they made themselves and are going to present it to the Minute Men of Germantown on Sunday week, the 16th of September, amid much ceremony, I do assure you.

Of course, the ceremony will take place at the Germantown Cricket Club, and the military organization of that club will be present, as also the Home Defense Guard, of Chestnut Hill, so, altogether, it will be some gala occasion. And the whole of Germantown and Chestnut Hill will get chummy over another thrilling occasion, for they are proud, and rightly so, of their home guard and the women who guard the home guard, too.

I WAS taught in my youth that it is not always best to say ALL you think about people and most of us have been taught the same thing, but alas! how few of us live up to the lesson. "Oh! well, you see I only told it to Polly and Polly, you know, never tells anything you confide to her. It's just as if it were buried after you have told it to her, and it's such a relief to have some one to talk to when you know something perfectly thrilling about some one else." "What? Polly told it to you, the mean thing! I'll never trust her again; that's the third time she's repeated something I've told her. I declare, you can't trust any one these days, can you?" "Well, if you'll promise not to tell, I'll give you a hint," and so it goes. However, this has nothing to do with breaches of confidence. It's simply a little tale of a man who said what he thought, and happened to say it to the wrong person, and now he wonders why his sister-in-law does not seem to greatly appreciate him.

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL PORCHER, of St. Martins, are at White Sulphur Springs. Eleanor Porcher was married this spring to Butler Windle, if you remember, and the younger daughter, Mary, came out last year. Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Simler, and Wharton, Jr., of Elkins Park, are down there, too. So you see, any way you look at it the summer season away from home is not over yet, no matter how sick of it we are at home.

MR. CRAIG LIPPINCOTT is coming home today from his camp at Paul Smith's in the Adirondacks. She will open her country home at Bethayres. Mr. and Mrs. John Conyngham Stevens, of Sunnyside, Rydal, are coming back today, too. They have been in Beverly, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wanamaker and Isabella are at Rochester, N. Y., where there is a horse show going on. Anywhere that a horse show is in progress you may be sure to find either Isabella Wanamaker or Constance Vauclain, and usually both of them. Isabella's entries in the Rochester Show have won several blue ribbons.

I HAD an awful scare the other day. There are two boys of a family that I know very well on one of the submarine-chasing yachts. The boat was recently launched at Cape May, and while the crew was off duty they took a trip to Asbury Park. Not having had enough of something for his beloved, and exclaimed with fervor, "Why, of course, anything on earth I can do will only be a privilege." "Well I want you to take my sister Edith to the dance at the Country Club tonight, instead of taking me." There was a sudden horrible noise and spluttering over the phone, and then to Edith's consternation she heard issuing forth these emphatic words: "Nothing doing. I'm awfully sorry, but I simply won't take Edith. She can't dance any better than I can and, besides, I don't want to, I want to take you." Edith managed to stammer out, "Oh, then, I shall have to go," and hung up.

NEWPORT had the same kind of excitement on Tuesday that we had on Saturday; that is to say, a parade of the new draft army just starting for Camp Ayer. The summer people were as enthusiastic as the all-year-round Newport people, and in the afternoon there was a review of the sailors at the training station. The training station at Newport is a most interesting place. There are always any number of sailors and marines around there, and they have such a businesslike air that it makes you quite realize that they are not there just for the sea breeze or the roller skating. If they didn't give you this martial idea you might think they were there to help make the place picturesque—for that wide court on the shore of the bay, with the steps leading up to the huge, low building, is a wonderful sight from the water, but when it is furnished, so to speak, with several jacksies in white, with puttees and cartridge belts and that jaunty swing that they all have, it makes you feel as if you were in the midst of a stage setting.

SEPTEMBER always draws a crowd to Atlantic City, and this year is no exception. Mr. Robert Southall Bright is down there with Douglas and Jobey Foster. Douglas is soon to go with the ambulance corps, I believe. Where? Over there, of course; where does any man go these days? Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Newbold are at Atlantic, too, on a motor trip. Mrs. Newton Bates and Miss Jeanie Fray are at the Marlborough for some time, and Mrs. Joseph Coleman Bright is another fall visitor.

ENTERTAINMENTS GIVEN IN SOUTHERN PHILADELPHIA

Dance for Residents Who are Going to France—Carnivals to Be Held for Church Benefits in Southeast

LAST night just splendid the way the people are entertaining the soldier boys! Almost every one you meet is trying to make their last few weeks with us just the merriest possible, and it surely has helped lots to keep them in the best of spirits. Quite the nicest affair even downtown is the dance to be held this evening in the St. Rita Club, Broad and Ellsworth streets, to which all enlisted members, all drafted members and a host of guests from the army and navy have been invited. The committee in charge calls it a farewell dance to their departing members, as it will be the good-by of the club and will carry with it the very best of good wishes.

There will be a delightfully informal dance, interspersed here and there with musical numbers and monologues, and followed by a buffet supper. The committee in charge, of which Mr. Joseph C. Adelizi is chairman, includes Mr. Frank Bennett, Mr. Frank Jewell, Mr. James McEotter. The members who have already enlisted in some branch of the service are Mr. John Maloney, Mr. John J. Murphy, Mr. James Ryan and Mr. Joseph Somers. Those who have answered the draft call include Mr. Thomas Curry and Mr. Harry Curley, Mr. Richard Wallam, Mr. John Sillers, Mr. Theodore Froth, Mr. Thomas Maloney, Mr. Law-

Among the invited guests from the army and navy are Mr. Albert Chestnut, Mr. Thomas Sheridan, Mr. Lawrence Flynn, Mr. James McNamee, Mr. Frank Kearney, Mr. Joseph P. Dougherty, Mr. Patrick Crilly and Mr. Michael Dougherty. Of course a dance would not be a "dance" without its share of gifts, and those invited include Miss Sue Wright, Miss Marie Gallagher, Miss Catherine Short, Miss Aize Verrecchio, Miss Adelaide Moore, Miss Mary Henry, Miss Mary McDermott, Miss Florence Hillegass, Miss Frances Mulhern, Miss Helen Quinn, Miss Mabel Down, Miss Agnes Golden, Miss Regina Collins, Miss Elizabeth Grogan, Miss Helen Grogan, Miss Margaret Stanton, Miss Rose McMonigle, Miss Loretta McMonigle, Miss Mary McLaughlin, Miss Eleanor Meehan, Miss Julia Fitzsimmons and Miss Eleanor Walsh.

Mr. Martin Manion, of 714 South Twenty-third street, has been the guest of City Treasurer William McCooch at his summer home at Ocean City during the last few days. Mr. Manion is one of the popular young men in South Philadelphia, and seems to have the happy faculty of being around when any one is in trouble—to lend his helping hand. He and Mr. Andrew Shields, another well-known figure of Twentieth and Christian streets, motored recently to Sunbury, Pa., where they were the guests of Mr. Erb Schreffler. Mr. Schreffler recently received a commission in the navy, and before going abroad decided to visit his relatives in Sunbury. He has been in business here in Philadelphia for several years, and is well known to many South Philadelphians.

GERMANTOWN BOY IN FRANCE

Dinner Given by Miss Blizard—Vacation Trip Come to an End With the Beginning of Autumn Weather

WHAT marvelous changes have come within the last few months! Just imagine anything but this ghastly war making it possible for a mother to be in the least content with this news of her only son, "Safe." That is the message received by Dr. and Mrs. W. Healy Jennings that their son Arnold is safe somewhere, but just where is not known. Mr. Jennings is with the medical reserve corps in France. Dr. and Mrs. Jennings have returned from a short trip to Bay Head, and their daughter, Miss Judith Jennings, will leave within a few days to visit friends in North Carolina.

Miss Natalie Blizard, of Pataucki avenue, gave a dinner last night. The guests were Miss Annie MacCrack, Miss Sarah Cooke, Miss Edith Ketcham, Miss Marian Smith, Miss Mary Louise McCowen, Miss Mary Richmond, Mr. George Stevenson, Mr. Franklin Sheple, Mr. William Housler, Mr. Archibald Humphreys, Mr. Richard Tausig and Mr. Edward Ketcham. Miss Blizard will leave on September 16 for Bradford Academy, where she will attend college, accompanied by Mr. Livingston Bailey, has returned from Pocono Pines.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grantham and their son, Mr. Leslie Grantham, who have returned from a three weeks' motor trip through New England.

Mr. Roy Coffin and Mr. Conrad Clotier have returned home after spending several weeks in the States.

Lieutenant Commander Earle S. Cook, U. S. N., and Mrs. Cook, of the Wismaholic Apartments, are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Cook will be remembered by Mrs. Corina Megargue, before her marriage and is a sister of Mrs. Herbert Tilden, Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Frederic Tunnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Van Dusen, of Morris street, Germantown, have closed their bungalow at Wernersville, where they spent the summer.

Second Lieutenant E. Thorpe Van Dusen has gone to Camp Meade, Md.

Mrs. Carl Williams, who is at the Bellevue Hotel, in Ocean City, has been joined by her two daughters, Miss Anne Williams and Miss Jane Williams. They will return to their home in Greensboro, and School House lane, about September 20.

There are still a lot of suburbanites at the shore enjoying these glorious fall days in the wheel chairs and not forgetting a dip and eighteen holes of golf. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Brown, of Indian Queen lane, have taken their cunning children, Eleanor, Anne and young Charles, Jr., to the Hotel Creston, Atlantic City, where they are spending several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hughes, of Germantown, are occupying their cottage at Longport.

Lieutenant John Keyes has been transferred to Camp McClellan, Aniston, Ala. His engagement to Miss Theodora Ross was recently announced.

Miss Lilla Reed, of Gowen avenue, Chestnut Hill, is the guest of Mrs. Richard Knight, who has a summer home in Canada. Mrs. Knight's sister, Miss Lucia Parvin, of Leominster, Pa., is also her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, who have a cottage in Ventnor, have Miss Marion Butler as their guest. The Browns will open their Chestnut Hill home the latter part of this month.

TIOGA CHILDREN GIVE TO RED CROSS

Soldiers, Sailors and Marines to Be Entertained on Sunday by Men's Bible Union

In the old-time schools children have stood on the platform and recited from the old-fashioned readers paragraph after paragraph telling "what a little child can do." But in our time the children haven't time to tell us about every thing they do; they just go ahead and do it. Twenty children in Tioga, living in the block from 3700 to 3800 on North Marshall street, gave a delightful dinner, carried a short time ago in aid of the Erie avenue group of Auxiliary 92, of the Red Cross Society. Each child contributed three cents to be in the party, and with this fund as a starter they began a financial enterprise that netted $70. They sold all sorts of good things to eat, and sold them because they had dainty and artistic ways of displaying their wares. Of course, the purchases were all decorated with the national colors; there were all sorts of amusements, and last, but not means least, there was a wonderful up-to-date musical entertainment. For a child in the neighborhood missed a ride, for each one was given a chance. The young workers, who deserve much praise for their labor of love for their country, were Erna Fischer, Anna Bay, Barbara Louise Rousher, Laura Rousher, Earl McCalum, Carl Noberle, George Boyer, Norman Riley, Lillian Gussick, Fanny Sibson, Reba Webb, George Weigenfus, Mary Zolgenfus, Anna Hayward, Lily Widdows, Theresa Banks and Elsie Graf.

The Erie avenue group of Auxiliary No. 92 is headed by Mrs. Samuel Woody. It is only two months old and has 186 members. In addition to the five and a half dozen bathrobes made, comfort kits and numerous knitted articles finished and the hanging of ten dozen towels, the group sent two of its members each week during August to the Red Cross workrooms at 1714 Walnut street to assist with the work at headquarters. And besides all this they have collected more than $400. Mrs. M. Frick is vice chairman; Miss Emily Woodward, secretary, and Miss Elsie Fredericks, treasurer.

This Sunday will be soldiers, sailors and marines' day in Tioga. One hundred of them have been invited to the Erie Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Seventh street and Erie avenue. They will attend services at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and will be the guests of various members of the congregation at midday dinner. At 2:30 in the afternoon they will be the guests of the Men's Bible Union. Every member of the congregation is putting on a friend who owns an automobile will be at the church at 6 o'clock and "our boys" will be taken through the most beautiful park in the world, our Fairmount Park. On their return they will be welcomed for tea, also, and what more could a rational community crowd into a perfect day? The Rev. John T. Hays, pastor of the church, will be assisted in receiving the men by Mr. Walter B. Bright, Mr. Robert Wilson, Mr. Edgar F. Ott, Mr. Arthur T. Moore, Mr. George Barnes, Mr. J. Allen Burton, Mr. Joseph Johnson and Mr. Frank D. Hemen.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tioga Presbyterian Church has a committee to see that each man in uniform attending the service is invited to dinner by a member of the congregation, and that each father and mother having a boy in France or in the training camps is glad to have the opportunity to welcome a stranger to the home life of the City of Brotherly Love.

The many friends of Miss Edna Marian Lindner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lindner, of 260 North 15th street, will be glad to hear of her recovery from a recent illness. She will leave on Monday for a trip to New York, Brooklyn and along the coast of Long Island Sound, accompanied by her father and her son, Lieutenant T. Brunley Flood, and then spending a week in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz are traveling through northern Pennsylvania. Mrs. Schultz will be remembered as Miss Thekla Seifert.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steess have gone to Atlantic City for the early autumn.

Miss Hannah Fifth Evans, of West Ontario street, who spent the early summer at Wayne, Pa., has gone to Asbury Park to remain through September.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hobson left last Saturday for a trip to Montreal, Quebec, along the St. Lawrence River and to Lake George.

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson have gone to South Norwalk, Conn., for the early fall. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Trotter, who spent a week at Old Orchard, Me., have gone to Narragansett Pier.

NAVY YARD NOT VERY BUSY IN A SOCIAL WAY

Officers' Wives See Husbands Seldom, as War Keeps Them Far From Home

With so much terribly important business on hand, do you know it is a real treat for some of the wives of the naval officers who are stationed at the yard at a time? They manage to snatch a few hours now and then to catch the express to Philadelphia and sometimes two or three hours in the extent of their visit. When you think that many times they find it possible to wire or telephone is it to be wondered that these visits are the most precious they have had in years? You know the whereabouts of the different fleets are unknown to any except those "inside," and besides being unexpected and short these hurried visits are full of surprises.

Commander Raymond S. Keyes, U. S. N., managed to get home to his pretty little wife and children on Friday last, and was able to stay until Tuesday evening, quite the longest visit they have had in months.

Dr. Ernest Brown, U. S. N., and Mrs. Brown, of 2314 South Twenty-first street, gave a little dinner party on Sunday evening. The few naval officers who were on leave. Their guests were Naval Constructor Charles L. Brand, U. S. N., and Mrs. Brand; Commander R. S. Keyes, U. S. N., and Mrs. Keyes, and Lieutenant E. S. Carter, U. S. N., and Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. E. E. Galbraith, Mrs. Keyes's mother, who has been visiting her during the last month, has gone on to Maine to visit some friends. She expects to return very shortly to spend a few days further west, and will then go down to Annapolis, where her son is stationed, and from there to Florida, returning to her home in California about November.

Social Activities

Dr. and Mrs. Fielding O. Lewis, 261 South Seventh street, are spending several weeks at the shore. Mrs. Lewis is staying there and Doctor Lewis comes down over Sundays.

Mrs. K. Hafer Baugler and Miss Edna Edna Baugler have returned to their home, 3805 Chestnut street, from a trip to Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hotz, of 321 South Forty-fourth street, have returned from Ocean City, where they spent the summer. Miss Madeline Bartholmea has just returned from Atlantic City, where she has been visiting the Farrells, of New York.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Mabel R. Virginia Wilson, 609 North Seventeenth street, and Mr. James W. Telfar, 1801 Wallace street. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

Miss Alice McCauley, of 1523 McKean street, is spending a pleasant vacation during these two weeks at Cape May. She is accompanied by Miss Margaret Sher, of 1002 Snyder avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Welsh, of 2046 Morris street, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Joseph Wilson, have spent the summer at their cottage in Atlantic City. They expect to return about September 15.

Mr. Joseph Tansully, of 1521 South Second street, spent the last few days at Atlantic City.

PALO ALTO FOR EMERGENCY

Work on Camp Will Be Resumed if Sanitary Conditions Are Assured

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Secretary Baker has ordered resumption of construction work on the National Guard camp at Palo Alto, Cal., providing State health authorities will approve a camp sewer system involving expenditure of not more than $13,000 additional.

Measurable orders will not be changed for sending the National Guard troops from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming to Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. The War Department plans to use the Palo Alto site as an emergency camp.
