some way or other; all the housewives are getting ready to provide cake, homemade candles, fancy work and useful articles; the farmers are getting ready for the big patriotic exhibition of farm produce and entries are pouring in for the horse and dog shows, the two big sporting events which are to be held in consection with the carnival, and which give the affair its right to the title "sporting." Entries for the horse show closed of scially Saturday and those for the dog show closed at the same time. Many prominent Main Line exhibitors of horses are going to take part in the affair and majority of the boxes have already been disposed of, something quite un heard of in the annals of a horse show.

Mrs. David B. Sharp, at the meeting yesterday, announced that much interest to being taken in the hunt teams and that there are certain to be several teams of women, of which at least one will ride sstride. There never has been such an exhibition at a horse show, with the mixture of side and cross saddles. The Radnor Hunt Club will be represented by several teams and other clubs will also be represented by women. Many of the men are away in the various branches of the service or on special duty for the Government.

Among the exhibitors for the show will be Frances and James Mills, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Denckla Mills; Archibald Barklie, Isaac H. Clothier, Jr. William J. Clothler, Catherine B. Clothler, Thomas B. Harvey. Robert L. Montgomery, Mrs. A. J. Antelo Devereux, Edwin L Blabon, Dr. George C. Stout, Harry Wain Harrison and Ellen Mary Cassatt.

BOXHOLDERS for the horse show inton Barnes, W. H. Barnes, Mrs. William Henry Brooks, Mrs. Benj. Chew, Dr. Wilbur Paddock Klapp, Isaac Clothier, Jr., Mrs. William Clothier, A. B. Coxe, De-Witt Cuyler, William Struthers Ellis. Mrs. John Harvey, Mrs. Maurice Heckscher, Mrs. Charles Custis Harrison. Charles Custis Harrison, Jr., Harry Waln Harrison, James Hancock, Mrs. Mahlon Hutchinson, Hartman Kuhn, William Lieber, Charles Mather, A. C. Meeley, Mrs. William P. Morris. Mrs. W. W. Jr. Dr. George C. Stout, Mrs. Robert E. Strawbridge, Mrs. Archibald G. Thomson, Frank Graham Thomson, Mrs. Henry Tatnall, Senator Edwin H. Vare, Alexander Van Rensselaer, Charles Wheeler and Mrs. Thomas D. Wood.

ONE of the new features of the carnival, and something new for a sporting affair, will be a real baby show. Mrs. Edward H. LeBoutillier and Mrs. F. W. Marshall form the committee in charge of this feature.

The real baby show portion of the program will start at 3:30 on Saturday afternoon, and will be for children from one to four years old. They will be judged as the cutest, fattest and prettiest babies Then there is to be a second half of the baby show, a class from one to five years, when the babtes will be voted upon by fond grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins, and where votes will cost ten cents apiece. It is hoped that every one will vote early and often.

MRS. PAUL DENCKLA MILLS announced that Madame Zita, the palmist, will "do her bit" for the Red Cross by giving her services free on both days of the carnival in the Midway, which is under the direction of Mrs. Mills.

There will be ten side shows on the Midway, including an automatic racing game, tenpins and a baby game. Also there is to be an exhibition of gas helmets, revolvers and other war paraphernalia picked up on the battlefield at Verdun. Both French and German implements will be shown.

How many times have you been annoyed to the limit in the movies by a howling baby? It's bad enough in the city, where the babies are only occasionally brought along with father and mother, but in a small town where the movies are the only diversion, and the only thing to do is to bring your baby with you, or leave him alone in the house, the noise is sometimes pandemonfous. In one of those little towns there was a group of Philadelphia people spending a month this summer. Every night they all met their friends in the movies, and sat there listening to the crying of myriad chile

Two young men had stood it as long as they could one night, and when they saw a young father and mother approaching one of them grouned and started to get up. "Stay where you are," the other one manded; "the Browns are all right. They have the right idea—they park their haby." I wonder if the people with shom the Browns "park" their baby feel hat the Browns "have the right idea?" She's three years old and mighty cunning.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AS RESULT OF ROMANCE

Pennsylvania Athlete Engaged to New Jersey Girl

As the culmination of a remance which began at a University fraternity dance, announcement was made last Friday of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Babbage, of Glen Ridge, to Mr. Robert P. Swan, of Pittsburgh. Miss Babbage is the daughter of Mayor Henry Babbage and Mrs. Babbage, of Glen Ridge. Mr. Swan, who was a star athlete at the University of Pennsylvania last year, is the son of Mr. Robert Swan, former superintendent of highways at Pittsburgh, and is now a quartermaster in the naval reserve.

Before his graduation from the arts and science department of the University last spring Mr. Swan lived at the Theta Chi Fraternity House, 3459 Walnut street. About a year ago his roommate, Mr. Chester Babbage, brought his sister to one of University functions, and there she

A GOOD SUGGESTION

OUR ENEMIES

It is with great regret that we are compelled to call the attention of the people of Philadelphia to a misrepresentation which apparently is being promoted by unscrupulous persons who, for selfish reasons of their own, oppose an enterprise which seems to conflict with their own interests.

These persons have apparently circulated a malicious and untruthful statement which seems to have obtained widespread credence in Philadelphia and vicinity. That it is a business trick of our enemies can scarcely be doubted. This report, which we take this means of publicly denying as a piece of unwarranted misrepresentation, is that the big spectacle of "The Wanderer," to be presented at the Metropolitan Opera House, beginning next Thursday night, is a MOVING PICTURE. We desire to emphasize in this announcement that "The Wanierer" most certainly is NOT a moving picture. It is the biggest and most spectacular drama seen on the American stage in this day and generation. It is acted by a company of more than 200 living people, among them some of the greatest artists known to the dramatic stage. It has been staged on a scale of wenderful magnificence by the greatest stage producer of this period, DAVID BELASCO, who contributed his services as a labor of love for a great play.

We appeal to the great public of Philadelphia to tell all of their friends who may not see this announcement that "The Wanderer" is NOT a moving picture, thereby foiling the schemes of these unscrupulous enemies. We repeat-"The Wanderer" is NOT a Moving Picture. We thank you sincerely.
