NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Charles Herzer, captain of the New York Girnts, may not be seen in the World's Series when the New York Giants and the Chleago White Sox clash early next month. "Condition of my health at present is such that unless there is a marked improvement will discentinue the playing of baseball, "(Signed) CHARLES L. HERZOG."

This was quite enough to indicate that he was discouraged over his condition and that he was not condident of being able to play in the World's Series.

His absence would seriously weaken the Giants and greatly lessen their chances of winning the highest honors of baseball, Herzog is a great second baseman and one of the greatest "money players" in the game. new faces were in the line-up, the principal ones-being McAvoy and Jim Parnham, who played with Baltimore this season, and Keefe, the three-fingered pitcher.
