

VIEWS OF THE CARTOONISTS AT HOME AND ABROAD

IT WONT BE LONG BEFORE BABY CAN TALK AND FOLKS CANT USE HIM SO EASILY AS AN ALIBI

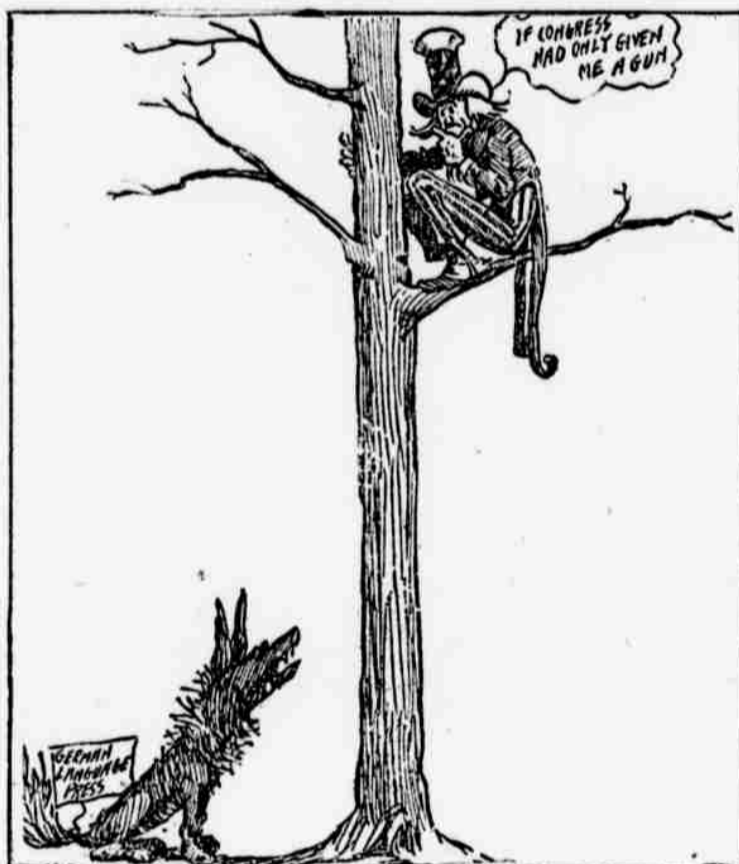

Boilin Kirby, in the New York World.
CRAWLING OUT

Pechner, in Financial America.
HOPELESS

Barclay, in the Baltimore Sun.
"CHURE, IT WOULD BE CROOL"
"German loyalty will bring to nought all attempts to separate the German people from their Kaiser."—From the Kaiser's message to the Bremen merchants.

From the Indianapolis News.
HE NEEDS ONE

Donahy, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.
BACKING UP THE BEAR

From Reynolds's Newspaper (English).
THE DOVE DECIDES
The Allies' Dove: "Coo, Coo!"
The German Dove: "I don't like your nest, but I'll drop in and hear what you have to say."

From A. Natta, Rio de Janeiro.
THE HINDENBURG LINE RUNS TO GERMANY

Brown, in the Chi ago News.
KILLING THE GOOSE

By PONTAINE FOX.

(Copyright.)

A Good Plan

What is the greatest policy this nation has supported? Not that which sets the price of tea or other things imported, not that which hit John Barleycorn to save the grain for horses and held distillers up to scorn for wasting our resources. 'Tis that insurance on the lives of boys who wear the khaki to keep their little ones and wives from finding life too rocky! The game of war is far from nice and we don't like to play it or think about the awful price, but, since we have to pay it, it's good to see such common sense and such consideration and gives us all more confidence in those who rule the nation, to see them settle on a plan to do what's necessary and save the khaki-clothed man a lot of useless worry.

WILL MOORE.

Learning to Talk

—London Opinion
Bill—Sandy, man, what's the French for "How's yer father?"

THE PADDED CELL

CAMOUFLAGING

HEAR REE! THE DRESSMAKER IS HERE! WILL YOU GIVE ME $20 - HEAR REE! WHERE ARE YOU?

HAYWARD

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

A testimonial from her loving pupils

Not a Doubt
Assistant (to old lady who has handed in a badly spelled telegram)—What's this word, please?
Old Lady—Never mind that, miss. It's none of your business. They'll know it at the other end.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says her garden overalls are severely padded without a particle of embroidery or padding on them.