Cadorna Continues Effort to Cut Off San Daniele, Despite Bad Weather

BIG GUNS ROAR ON CARSO

ROME, Sept. 19.—Fighting an unseen foe has come to be a favorite piece of work for the Italian army engaging the Austro-Hungarians on the Julian front. With the coming of autumn bad weather has set in and frequently the artillery is active for a whole day against positions that are obscured in fog and rain.

During the last forty-eight hours the chief activity has centered around the Bainsizza plateau, where the Italians are still driving eastward in an effort to cut the lines of communication supplying the Austro-Hungarians on Monte San Daniele.

South of Gorizia, on the Carso plateau, artillery combats are in progress.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Except for a successful raid in Inverness Copse, on the Flanders front, Field Marshal Haig said he had "nothing special" to report today. The raid was carried out by York and Lancaster regiments.

The first official Portuguese report on military operations records the defeat of a German attack on the trenches held by the Portuguese troops at Neuve Chapelle. Apparently the Germans succeeded in entering the Portuguese trenches, but were driven out, leaving a number of dead and prisoners.

BRITAIN, Sept. 19.—Heavy losses were inflicted by German troops against a violent French assault on the east bank of the Meuse, today's official statement asserted.

ACCUSED MAN TRIES TO KILL DETECTIVE

Prisoner, After Failing to Use Revolver, Makes Attempt to Escape

After attempting to kill District Detective Kennedy, who arrested him at Fifty-second and Market streets, this afternoon, Herbert Welsh, who gave an address on North Wats street, tried to escape on reaching City Hall. He was recaptured after a fight in the corridor in which Kennedy was the victor.

Welsh, according to the police, tried to pawn a stolen diamond brooch at a pawnbroker's shop, Fifty-second and Market streets. The pawnbroker was suspicious, and while engaging Welsh in conversation signaled one of his clerks to notify the police. Kennedy arrived as Welsh was leaving the place.

When Kennedy attempted to arrest him, it is said, Welsh drew a revolver and tried to shoot the detective in the stomach. Kennedy disarmed him after a struggle and took him to City Hall.

While Welsh was on the way to the rogues' gallery he broke away from Kennedy and ran down the sixth floor corridor. Kennedy was after him like a flash and finally overpowered him.

Welsh will have a hearing before Magistrate Watson in the night court.

CHESTER COUNTY TURNS OUT UNUSUALLY BIG VOTE

Interest Centers in Selection of Republican Candidate for Controller. Stickers Used Against Judge Butler

WEST CHESTER, Sept. 19.—The vote in Chester County, especially in the towns, is an unusually large one today and much interest is being taken in many local fights. The selection of Republican candidates, which usually means election for those chosen, is the only matter of interest, but the workers of all parties are active getting out the voters and motorists are busy in all sections carrying sick and aged voters.

The chief interest centers on the selection of a Republican candidate for County Controller, the candidates being George W. Devoes, a member of the Chester County bar, who is the choice of the organization, and George H. Baldwin, a business man, of this place.

That Judge William Butler will receive the nomination is conceded, but stickers containing the name of Walter S. Talbot, a member of the county bar, are being used freely in many precincts. Just where these stickers were printed or by whom issued is a mystery, but it is alleged in many quarters that they are the outcome of the fight of the liquor men, many of whom lost licenses recently before Judge Butler.

It is said the move is a quiet one made to decrease his vote for future city of P. L. Eyre, the leader of the stalwart faction of the Republican party, declares the move is not one by the leaders and Mr. Talbot himself disclaims all knowledge of the matter. He has been absent from town for some time on a vacation and on return declared the matter a mystery to him, as he has always been a firm supporter of Judge Butler.

Automobile Stolen and Burned

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 19.—The automobile of Thomas Wertz, of Eden, was stolen in Lancaster last night, and today the police learned it was burned near Martintown. Persons attracted by the blaze saw two men jump into another car and start toward Lancaster. It is supposed the thieves had confederates and that the car's destruction was due to a grudge against the owner.

PHILADELPHIA DRAFTTEES ARRIVE AT CAMP MEADE

to leave the train and was greeted by Major General Kuhn.

"What is your name?" asked General Kuhn. Barnett told him, and added that he lived at 4021 Hazel avenue.

It was evident that Barnett was embarrassed when General Kuhn informed him that as commander of the camp he wished to extend his greetings.

"Have you any brothers or sisters?" asked the general.

"I am the baby of seven," said Barnett, who by this time had gotten over his stage fright.

General Kuhn, in a few words, informed Barnett and a dozen other draftees that he would do everything to make them happy. The second man to leave the train was Martin L. Ritter, of 5409 Pine street. Ritter did not appear to be in the best of health, but he accepted the situation with good grace and made it plain that they had left their "kicks" at home.

packed with relatives, sweethearts and friends of the departing soldiers.

It was just 1:23 when the six coaches carrying the men steamed out for Admiral, Md. Many wireless kisses followed the line of protruding heads, and they mingled with the strains of the anthem, which was the last sound that the departing men heard as they sped away.

Incidentally the West Philadelphia districts gave thirty-four more men than required by its quota, which was 342.

COLONEL TURNER SENT HOME TO RECUPERATE

Physicians Compel Temporary Retirement Following Extended Illness, Deemed Not Serious

CAMP HANCOCK, Augusta, Ga., Sept. 19.—Colonel Hamilton B. Turner was forced to surrender command of the Second Artillery this afternoon after striking and becoming ill because of illness.

The colonel left Augusta at 12:45 o'clock accompanied by Mrs. Turner, who arrived here yesterday. The colonel's condition is not regarded as serious, but physicians advised him to return home for a rest. It is anticipated he will be able to return to camp by October 1.

JOYRIDERS SMASH ICE WAGON

Four Men Arrested After Collision and Attempted Escape

hundreds of persons left the street cars to join in the hearty send-off. The cars were tied up for many blocks, but the motormen and conductors ignored schedules for the time being and left their voices to the chorus of patriotism.

The man of the Forty-ninth Draft District, numbering 125, assembled at the Fifty-fifth and Pine streets police station. Led by the West Philadelphia Band, which was furnished through the generosity of William R. Tyler, a patriotic citizen of the neighborhood, the men marched up Pine street to Fifty-sixth street, thence to Spruce street, where they boarded trolley cars for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station. Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets. Marching at the head of the men, with American flags, were the officers of the district draft board, Monsignor Crane, of the Church of St. Francis de Sales; the Rev. Dr. George M. Broadhead, pastor of the Sayers Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, and A. D. Webster.

Similar scenes marked the departure of the sixty-nine draftees from the Thirty-third District, Sixth and Market streets. They took the elevated line to the east side of the Schuylkill, where they detrained and marched to the station. James Travis, chairman of the board, and scores of others joined in the good-by.

The Baltimore and Ohio station was
