JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Engagement of New York Girl Proves of Interest to Philadelphians; Alice Goes Jackie One Better. Plans for Restaurant at Sporting Carnival

while doings of some New Yorkers have thing of this kind, and let me here rean interest for vus, when said New mark, I firmly believe it will be a great Torkers have visited here and have relaaves among us. Now that may be amman, respectively, and the other women will see the point. First and fore- who will have charge and perhaps act as most, there is Alleen Sedgwick's engagement to James Blackstone Taylor, Jr., also of New "ork, which was announced in that city yesterday. Alleen is the sughter of Mrs. Harry Sedgwick, of New York, and until the war lived the geater part of her life in France and grater part by returned to New York Kendrick, 2d. Mrs. Ned Roberts, Mrs. W. erly in the winter of 1915, and Alleen and her sister Adelaide made their debuts in that city then. Both of them came erer here during that winter to visit Jean Bailitt, who was a deb here and who had known them in Paris, when she spent the winter there five years ago studying Alleen attended one of the Assemblies and several private balls while the Bulhus' guest, and was very much liked by the Philadelphia men and girls, and has whited here frequently since then. She p very pretty, dark and slender, and, of cours, her education abroad has been a great asset in the matter of conversation. A girl whe has been abroad for some years can put it all over the others who have stuck close to home. The very fact of going away from home and having to rely on oreself, so to speak, is char-actar-building, don't you think? Miss Sedgwick has been staying for a short time in Chelsea and returned last week to New York. She and her mother are living at the Buckingham at present. Adelaids the other very pretty daughter. sailed for England about a month ago and will nurse in one of the hospitals there. Mr. Eedgwick died several years

sgo. Mrs bedgwick was Miss Adelaide Besies a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. G. Beales. Her mother was a daughter of the well-remembered Eugene Kelly, of New York, who was a great flagneter and philanthropist.

Jim Taylos is the youngest of 'he children of U.s James Blackstone Taylors, of 973 Park evenue, New York. (Oh what a difference between Park avenue in New Yor's and Park avenue in Philly! Fortunately for Alleen this is in New York). He has gone into the war as an aviator of course, expects to join our other American aviators in France very soon. No date has been set for the wedding, but I expect it will take place before he leaves.

THE other matter of interest connected Falls was the last place in Philadelphia de-1 with a New Yorker is the wedding of Daisy Polk, who is a cousin of Frank Poix, who married Lily Potter, of this city, you remember, and is now stationed in Washington, where he is counselor of the American State Department. (Some sen ence that, ch! wot?) Daisy is neither a New Yorker nor of the East at all, for that matter, for she halls from San Francisco. Perhaps, after all this preamble, army. The Polks stand very high in success. It will be under the direction of Mrs. John C. Groome and Mrs. Charlie Harrison, Jr., chairman and vice chairwaitresses, together with the alds, will be Mrs. Winfield Arter, Mrs. Howard

Clark, Mrs. Frank Clyde, Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Jr., Mrs. Howard Ellison, Jr., Mrs. Franklin McFadden, Mrs. Charles M. Les, Mrs. George McFadden, Mrs. Lewis Neilson, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Jr., Mrs. Frank P. Croft, Mrs. George W. H. Stone, Mrs. Archibald Barklie, Josephine and Dorothy Mather, Gertrude Heckscher and Ellen Mary Cassait.

Speaking of Cassatts reminds me, have you ever heard nicer things said about any two people than have been said about Lois and Jack Thayer? I do think it's great when two persons so suited to each other do fall in love, and Lois is so sweet and pretty. As a girl who came out the same winter with her said to me recently, "She's such a lady!" Of course you expect every one to be a lady, but sometimes she might fall short in perfect self-control and gentleness, but Lois is just as sweet and indylike as she looks. and that is saying a good deal.

Rumor says she may be married very soon, but there has been no announcement of a date as yet.

FIRST GOVERNOR LIVED IN FALLS OF SCHUYLKILL

Establishing of Methodist Church in Falls Celebrated This Week

The heautiful location of the Falls of Schuylkill made it famous in its early hisfory as a place of recreation and handsome estates. It was the home of Governor Thomas Mifflin, the first Governor of Pennsylvania under the Constitution, who by virtue of his office under the State was first president of the board of trustees of and is at present stationed at the naval the University of Pennsylvania. A neighboracronautic station at Bayshore, L. L. and. ing estate was the home of the first provost of "Old Penn," Dr. William Smith, Joseph Neef, a pupil of Pestalozzi, of Switzerland, established his school at this historic village, and all the public schools to this day feel its good influence. Tradition says the serted by the Indians. Incidentally the village was famous for catfish. The bill of fare at the famous old inns would make Mr. Hoover sit up and take notice if served now for supper-"catfish, beefsteak, brolled chicken, wafflee and coffee." In this historie village there is always a celebration going on, a celebration of the starting of a church or society $9 or 100 years ago.

This week marks the celebration of the csco. Perhaps, after all this preamble, you might like to know who it was that Paisy married. Well, his name is Marie Joseph Louis Robert de Buyer, and, what is more, he is a general in the French arm, The Polks stand very high in Mass Episcopal Society was first recognized Washington, I understand, and you re-member when the Hon, Arthur Balfour and was connected with the Mount was here their home was one of the few the care of that church until 1855, when the Falls Church was organized. Like all the churches at the Falls, its early meetings were held in the old Academy Building. In order to have Methodist preaching every Sabbath day a building was purchased at James and Frederick streets, and in three months and eleven days the alterations were completed and the church dedicated. The present edifics on Queen lane was completed for public service in 1873 and was completed and dedicated in 1875. This evening the oratoric of the Mes-siah will be rendered by local talent, with Mr. Joseph Smith. conductor. and Miss I. Rachel Minsker, organist. Miss L. Ruth Swartley was the soloist on Wednesday.

Madame de Buyer before her marriage had been in charge of the reconstruction of the village of Vitrimont, which Mrs. William H. Crocker, of San Francisco, has undertaken to do. She had put the former Miss Polk in charge of the undertaking, and I hear she will keep up her work there.

"What is nead, Mamma" she asked, and Mother tried in simple words to express to her the Christian doctrine of life, death and resurrection. And after Alice begged several times to go to uncle's funeral. Mother thought maybe she should let the child see her uncle and by talking natur-Riv of it, perhaps she would not get the wrong horror of death that many children have, hus when they returned home and Alice puckered her tiny features as if debating some great question, the mother began to have qualms as to her fecision, and thought she should have walted until Alice was a hit older, especially when the sturdy youngster did not eat her dianer.

Just before bedtime, however, Alice seemed to have settled the grave question which had disturbed the even tenor at her way and climbing into her father's hep, she patted his face and announced molemnly, "Mother, when Daddy dies. we'll have him stuffed."

"Why, daughter!" gasped Father. "Junerals are no good." Alice ex-mained, "Mr. W- had his dog Jack stuffed and he lets us go in his library and stroke his head, and I want to pet You, Daddy," Dear little lambs, these lit-He tots, what would the great, sad, sorrowful world do without them?
