PRESIDENT WILL PROBE CONVICTION OF MOONEY

San Francisco Bomb-Throwing Case Assumes International Import

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—President Wilson will direct a new and searching inquiry into all developments surrounding the arrest, conviction and death sentence of W. J. Mooney, alleged San Francisco bomb thrower.

This investigation follows an international protest of labor organizations that Mooney has been "railroaded." President Wilson also is informed that western labor unrest may be laid finally to the Mooney case.

The Department of Justice will make a complete report on the case to the President. The new western labor investigating commission named by the President recently and headed by Secretary of Labor Wilson will go to the bottom of the Mooney case.

Mooney is a big figure in Russia, having been one of the leaders of the Russian freedom movement there. His following in many countries is such as to make his case one of international importance, the President has been told.

While the President is working on this problem, labor is preparing to send a delegation of union men to Russia to dissipate distrust there in America's war purposes.

President Wilson will not name these delegations, because of the difficulties involved in arranging up labor and Socialist antagonism to the United States, particularly in Russia, but also in France and England.

PRINCETON HEAD TALKS WAR AND AFTERMATH

In Addressing Student Body Emphasizes Tremendous Import of Work Faced

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 25.—War and the part the young man of this country will take in upbuilding the nation when peace is finally declared, were the dominant notes struck in President John Grier Hibben's address at the opening of Princeton University today.

In addressing the student body, President Hibben called attention to the tremendous significance of their approaching task. "All things are possible to a nation whose youth are seekers after knowledge, determined to know in order that they may better serve," said President Hibben.

"Are you willing to sacrifice ease and comfort, to endure hardships, to work with dogged perseverance, to grind and dig, in order to know, and, knowing, to command—to command yourselves and others and the powers of the world about you?" he asked.

Pointing out the serious problems confronting in particular the youth of this country, President Hibben continued: "The world in which you are to live your lives and do your work will be a hard world, in a certain sense a grim world. Its difficulties can be overcome, its dangers met, only by the spirit of an enlarged and exalted manhood."

What your country will demand of you is intelligent wisdom, industry, courage. Such qualities are the reward of labor.

You are not only destined to earn your bread by the sweat of your brow, but in like manner you must win your right to a place in the new world now in the process of becoming. It is a world in earnest and so soon will be found within its boundaries for one who is not himself desperately in earnest, who is not willing to strive to the limit of his capacity, and in whose heart no fire of high endeavor has ever been kindled.

Referring to a letter received during the summer from the adjutant general of the United States Army, President Hibben said that the reason he gave for the principal failure of a number of the applicants for commissions in the army training camps was—"stupidity—of manner, carriage, and disposition, and in many cases a plea that the young man just entering college bear in mind the need for an earnest application to their work so as to prepare them for intelligent leadership in the affairs of their country."

MRS. BINGHAM'S RELATIVES AWAIT MEDICAL TESTS

Pending Result of Autopsy Surviving Husband's Legal Representatives Follow All Moves

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 25.—Plainly harboring suspicions of untoward events in connection with the untimely death of their multimillionaire relative, Mrs. Robert Bingham, members of the Keenan family here patiently awaited results of medical tests upon organs of the dead woman.

A report of six medical experts whom they summoned to perform a midnight autopsy on the body last week will probably not be made for several days, it was indicated.

MEANWHILE legal representatives of Judge Bingham, Mrs. Bingham's husband, were here endeavoring to follow all moves in the unexpected inquiry decided upon and made without their client's knowledge.

PRIMARY ELECTION IN CAMDEN TODAY

Word "Republican" After Name of "Regular" Implies "Who's Who"

HAINES AFTER DRY VOTE

Camden's primary election, which is being held today, centers chiefly in the contests among the Republicans for county offices and for State Senate and the Assembly.

The word "Republican" inserted after the names of the "regular" Organization candidates on the primary ballot, independent voters declare, plainly implies "who's who" in Camden, in the eyes of the "powers that be," and no misguided, rock-ribbed Organization man can possibly excuse himself for his vote on the grounds that "I didn't know."

Sheriff Joshua C. Haines, who is designated an "Republican" on the Republican ballot, is running against John H. Fort, undesignated but on the same ballot, for the nomination for State Senator. Sheriff Haines's friends believe his last minute reiteration of his stand in favor of prohibition will give him the entire "dry" vote of the city and county.

A three-cornered fight for surrogate is on between Harry Reeves, the "Republican" on the Republican ballot, and Willard J. Simpson and Alexander J. Millette. Spencer Gibbs and Charles A. Wolverson, Republican candidates being Ralph N. Kellum, Dr. Paul N. Littlefield and Charles A. Wolverson. Wolverson and Kellum are seeking re-nomination. William Penn Corson is opposed for Sheriff on the Republican slate.

EARLY VOTING LIGHT The polls opened at 7 o'clock and will remain open until 9 o'clock tonight. Voting was very light throughout the early hours of the morning, the election being merely a perfunctory matter, as few contests were recorded. In the Second and Fourth Wards there are no Republican contests and the Democrats failed to file tickets.

Republican opposition to Councilman Carney, of the Fifth Ward, is being made by Horace B. Sparks, while Walter A. Mendell is seeking to wrest the toga from Councilman George J. Schneider in the Seventh Ward.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 25.—Property owners around Leaman Place are excited over the reported discovery of petroleum, as well as the premises of James Walsh throwing off with the water considerable oil. Experts are now investigating.

On the Democratic side, a brisk fight is expected on the nomination for Excise Commissioner. There are five to be nominated and six names appear on the ballot. They are: Joseph Ait, John J. Walsh, W. J. Chadwick, Frank A. Kendall, Frank Alcott and John J. Tischner.

The only other Democratic contest is in the Seventh Ward, where the Polish citizens have filed a Progressive Democrat ticket for all offices. A councilman, freeholder, justice of the peace and constables and members of the county committee are to be nominated in each ward.

The Economy and Stability of the OWEN MAGNETIC Has Overcome All Criticisms

Next month the Owen Magnetic Car Company of Philadelphia will celebrate its first anniversary in its unique showrooms at 1835 Chestnut Street.

During the year more than 100 Owen Magnetic cars have been sold to Philadelphians—experienced motorists who have learned that no other car so instantly responds to the driver's every wish, that no other car is so nearly automatic in its operation.

One little finger lever on the steering wheel does all the work. In one magnetic unit is embodied all the mechanism which heretofore required extra parts and operation by cumbersome self-starting and lighting apparatus, clutch, clutch-pedal, flywheel, gear shifting and braking.

The Fall series of Town Cars, Touring Cars, Limousines, Broughams, etc., is now ready. Prices $3,300 to $5,500.

We welcome an opportunity to demonstrate, for in no other way can you conceive of the riding and driving qualities of this "Car of a Thousand Speeds." Phone, Spruce 2690.
