

LEONARD HAS BIG NEWS NOW; HE HAS ABILITY OF TRIPLE CHAMPIONSHIP

PRICE, MUHLBERG COACH, ALSO IN CHARGE OF AMBULANCE CORPS' GALAXY OF FOOTBALL CANDIDATES

Soldier Eleven Being Organized by Lieutenant Raken, of Philadelphia, Who Played at Penn in 1904—Ross in Squad

ALLENSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 28.—ALTHOUGH college and scholastic football is shot to pieces on account of the war, Allenstown is promised the most brilliant football season in its history through the organization of a team at the camp of the United States ambulance corps on the grounds. The work of organizing a football team was given by the commanding officer to Lieutenant William E. Raken, of Philadelphia, who brought a flag unit to Allenstown, and who was appointed organizer of the camp band and assistant mess officer.

Lieutenant Raken played football on the University of Pennsylvania team in 1904, and later on the Jefferson eleven had as a colleague Robert W. "Tiny" Maxwell, now sports editor of the Evening Ledger. After Lieutenant Raken had coached the team for several days on the rough temporary gridiron in the camp, he went to Muhlenberg College to ask for use of Muhlenberg Field, where is located one of the finest gridirons in the country. The upshot of this visit was not only the grant of the use of Muhlenberg Field to the ambulance corps team, but the engagement of Dr. John P. Price, of Muhlenberg, as coach, as the active coach of the ambulance eleven.

Lieutenant Raken continued as manager of the ambulance corps team and chairman of the advisory board of coaches, consisting of Major Vaughn, of the University of Virginia; Lieutenant Ormsby McCann of Princeton; Lieutenant Hamilton, of the University of South Carolina; and Lieutenant David E. Smith, of Fayette College, Missouri.

Many College Stars Doctor Price made the ambulance corps squad for the first time last Saturday, and has since then been giving the camp candidates for football honors several hours of real practice every afternoon. The results have been very encouraging. In fact, there are at least 100 of the most famous football players in America, representing no less than forty-seven colleges and universities.

Lieutenant Raken has been very busy arranging a schedule, writing or wiring to virtually every college in the East, and there will be games with some famous institutions, beginning with Penn State on Muhlenberg Field, Allentown, on Saturday afternoon, September 29.

By a curious trick of the war, Beck, Cullage and O'Donnell, who are regarded as "three of the best players at Penn State" are members of the ambulance corps team at the Allenstown camp, and all three are likely candidates for the line that will play against their alma mater.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

"UNEASY lies the head that wears a crown" is an old adage that can be connected with Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, not at all brightly, the middleweight class. But the latter is putting on a lot of weight, and it is doubtful if he can come in at 158 pounds, which is the best of the middleweights despite McCoy's prestige, and he is looked upon by many as superior to the middleweight class.

Evening Ledger Decisions

Evening Ledger Decisions

Joe Geiser and Tommy Kelly, promoter and matchmaker, respectively, of the National Athletic Club tomorrow night. Kelly is not a stable mate of Geiser, and if Johnny can defeat Kelly, he will be a triple champion. Kelly is not a stable mate of Geiser, and if Johnny can defeat Kelly, he will be a triple champion.

HOW TO PLAY GOLF

The Gardner-Guilford Match

THIS day before Bob Gardner and I met for the national amateur championship...

Bob had an interesting match with Jesse Guilford, of Boston, and one which was very interesting, because both are remarkable drivers and if there is anything a gallery enjoys it is to see a little white ball in an arroyo flight over a beautiful course.

Gardner and Guilford are especially strong in their department of golf. Guilford is regarded as the longest driver in America, and certainly Gardner is a close second.

The match between Gardner and Guilford will illustrate the old golfing maxim that to win you must putt.

The day before Gardner had won an extremely hard match from Jesse because of his ability to putt with the same accuracy as he has in his driving. Especially it is so if the number of strokes given is not too many.

Furthermore, he is right in lined up in front of the stand and gave three cheers for Folwell and requested the head coach to make a speech.

Folwell made a plea for clean living among the boys and asked them and the students to help them do the right thing when at Penn this year. It means that the athletes will be dependent upon themselves to cut the right kind of food.

Folwell was not the only member to talk to the assembly. Freshman Coach Lon Jourdet talked to the boys, an old Joe Wright, crew coach; Lawson Robertson, trainer of the football team and track tutor, and Douglas Stewart, soccer coach.

The largest squad of football men of the season was on the field this afternoon, forty-five turning out to make an impression upon the head coach. These four new men were in uniforms J. C. Doremus, last year's freshman-guard; F. G. Pinnell, Ed Haggerty, of the scrubs, and Charley Well.

Joe Betts and Lynn Lutz, a secondary White Sox battery, trimmed the Senators yesterday. Betts allowed but six hits.

The Sox have now won thirty-nine games of 100 and one out of the three from the league. They will give them an even hundred for the season.

RECEPTION FOR COACH FOLWELL

Penn Students Honor Head Football Instructor This Afternoon

LARGE SQUAD ON FIELD

Football officially got under way at Franklin Field this afternoon. Previous to today the work had been in charge of Captain Miller, who merely tried to keep the men engaged until the arrival of Head Coach Bob Folwell.

The well-known gridiron instructor made his appearance this afternoon, and it was a very impressive one. More than 500 students, mostly freshmen, marched into and around the field. They lined up in front of the stand and gave three cheers for Folwell and requested the head coach to make a speech.

Folwell made a plea for clean living among the boys and asked them and the students to help them do the right thing when at Penn this year. It means that the athletes will be dependent upon themselves to cut the right kind of food.

POSTPONED AUTO RACES

EXTEND TRENTON FAIR

Wet Track Will Cause Big Meet to Continue to Run Throughout Tomorrow

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 28.—Wet track prevented the auto races at the Interstate Fair this afternoon, they being postponed to 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. The hold-over racing races, scheduled for this afternoon, drew 35,000 people to the grounds today. The fair will be held tomorrow as usual.

Hot Off the Gridiron

Pennsylvania State College's football eleven will play the long-traveling and signaling day in preparation for the same tomorrow with the Allentown ambulance unit stationed at Allentown.

Walter Penn Shipley, of the Junior class team, has been elected captain of this year's varsity soccer team at Haverford College. Shipley is a graduate of Germantown Friends' School. He is also captain of Haverford's tennis team.

North Mercer sent his squad at Swarthmore College through its first scrimmage of the season in water with the usual result of a warning-up. The men were put through a half-hour of dummy practice and then divided into two squads. Their drive men are the seniors.

The Freshman class of Haverford College won the annual three-track event of the sophomore class, which was held on the football field yesterday afternoon.
