Young Woman Attempts to End Life In health, the police say, led Anna E. Stevenson, twenty years old, attempt to end her life by shooting late this afternoon. The young woman, who lives at Frankford avenue and Stevenson lane, is in a serious condition in St. Luke's Hospital.

PATRIOTIC APPEAL CHEERED Tremendous applause greeted the Secretary when at the conclusion of his indictment of German acts of violence and German intrigue he exclaimed: "Why, my friends, if there is a single American who can read that record of German infamy and still declare that there is no justification for the entrance of the United States into the war, then yellow blood runs in that man's veins and there is not a drop of real American blood in him."

Victory is as sure as tomorrow's sun. Declared Carl Vrooman, assistant Secretary of Agriculture, in addressing the bankers this morning. The only question is how soon our triumph will come. This is a food war now, he added, "we have the food, even though we are facing war's most dreadful handmaiden—famine."

PROMINENT FACES AT CONVENTION OF BANKERS

In the upper group, left to right, are H. W. Reynolds, Lord Northcliffe, of the British war mission, and Dr. N. Murray Butler, president of Columbia University. To the right of this group is John H. Mason, vice president of the Commercial Trust Company of Philadelphia. Below is George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago.

Camp Dix Barracks Swept by Flames

Continued from Page One It is thought that several of these new men may have been taken to the guard house pending a questioning by officers in charge. Sentries, of course, were forbidden to talk. A close veil of censorship was thrown about all matters relating to the fire until officers in charge have a chance to make at least a preliminary investigation.

While Making Repairs Received Shock From 2200 Volts POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Harry W. Weidman, of Shenandoah, forty-eight years of age, an experienced line foreman, was electrocuted in a substitution of the Schuykill Electric Company at Shenandoah this morning. 2200 volts passing through his body. The system was out of order and Weidman went to investigate the cause.

Pro-German Propaganda Within our Gates was Scathingly Denounced by McAdoo. "It is well for the American people to realize," he said, "the hypocrisy and disloyalty of all these efforts and to determine to stamp them out relentlessly and remorselessly, because the interests of the nation must at no time be imperiled more by the traitors within our walls than by the enemies without."
