PENN TEAM PICKED TO FACE ALBRIGHT

Five Letter Men and Five of Last Year's Freshmen to Start Game

BERT BELL AT QUARTER

Coach Bob Folwell has selected the Penn team that will oppose Albright in the opening game of the gridiron season on Franklin Field tomorrow afternoon. Four of hist year's regulars will be in the lineup, while five men who have won their letters will see action. Last year's freshmen eleven has contributed five who are booked to start against the upstate collegians.

Folwell is not looking for much of a respect for Georgia Tech, but has plenty of respect for Georgia Tech, the team Penn faces in Atlanta on Saturday, Last Saturday the Indians trounced Albright by 63 to 6, so it is easy to see that Folwell has nothing to fear.

Maynard will play his first varsity game tomorrow. Last year he was a tackle on the freshman. Neylon is the heavyweight boxing champion of the University and was a second-string man on the freshman team. Dieter was a tackle on last year's yearlings. Welfe was a freshman guard, and Cari Thomas, now a tackle, was a halfback on Jourdet's eleven. Folwell expects to have more than fifty men in harness tomorrow, and more than half of this number he plans to send into Duadee and Tendler each was announced as weighing in under 130 pounds by the navy yard tenor, Bobby Calhoun. Then the fracas was put on. As the bell sounded Dundee started with his well-known rushing get-away, but the bushy-haired Italian was met with Lanky Lew's long straight left. The impact brought Dundee to a sudden stop, but it didn't deter him from whanging away at the body with both hands. It was away at the body with both hands. It was a vident that Looie had on his slugging togs, too, and there they stood in the middle of the ring, walloping away at each other to the delight of every one in the arena.

Dundee fought hard and fast. He kept swinging with both hands to the head and body. John didn't take aim; he just let ity Tendler, on the other hand, stood off, bicasuring his right jab and following with a short left swing or uppercut. A comb and appercut and short hook raised Dun-dee off his feet near the end of the first wand and Johnny crashed against ropes.

to hold. Dundee also clinched on different occasions when Tendler's pelts came thick and fast. But the holding-on process did not diminish interest in the going. The clinching didn't last very long at any time. Just before the finish of the second round a series of Dundee's victous bady wallops made Tendler hold hard. Dunder's terrific battling at close quarters during each and every one of the six really had a lot to do with evening up the fast past, as did his aggressiveness.

A great burst of speed during the latter part of the fourth round gave Tendier the better of the session. This period was the newsboy's best round. He was in, out and around Dundee, punching away like a demon with both hands. At the same time Tendier was so clusive it looked as if Dundee was punching away at a phantom.
