KILLS HIMSELF WHEN GIRL REFUSES TO WED

George Dietzel, of New York, Sends Bullet Through Heart at Norristown

WOMAN IS PROSTRATED

Had Followed Carnival Company Member Over Country, Proposing Today

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 3.—George Dietzel, twenty-three years old, of 27 Manhattan avenue, New York, is dead.

Detective Corrigan, in an investigation of the case for Registrar White, found that Mrs. Minney was a member of a carnival company which is exhibiting this week on a lot in the suburbs of Norristown and that Dietzel, who was enamored of her, had been following her about the country.

They sat on a log looking at the Schuylkill river and talking for a time. Dietzel finally proposed marriage. Mrs. Minney rejected the proposition, whereupon he drew a revolver from his pocket. She tried to prevent him from using it, wrestling it from him, but he tore loose from her and sent a bullet through his heart in view of several men working near the scene.

A letter addressed to the Norristown police was found on Dietzel's body at the hospital, which will later be turned over to the authorities by the police department.

his motorcar. She tried to escape on a number of occasions, she declares, but says the man always kept her under watch and that when they approached a town placed his hand over her mouth to prevent her from screaming. They slept in the motorcar. Stern, however, declares that the girl joined him at her home and started on the trip with the consent of her mother.
