

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Italian Committee of Emergency Aid to Benefit by Large Auction Bridge Party on October 24—Other Matters

AND now it's the Italian Branch of the Emergency Aid which is coming into the limelight again, and this time an auction bridge party has been planned to take place at Manheim; in other words, the Germantown Cricket Club, and on Wednesday, October 24, at 2 o'clock.

Something tells me that just purely bridge parties, preceded by luncheon or followed by tea, are not going to be the thing they were in the way of recreation last year, and so those of us who enjoy a game of auction will have extreme pleasure in playing at this affair without feeling that we are wasting our time when it should be more profitably spent in knitting or cutting eukum pads. You see, the money will be used for the Italians, as the members of the Comitato Pro Italia, of which Mrs. Benjamin Miller is chairman, see fit, and, incidentally, let me mention, although the incident will not be in the least incidental, that Mrs. Miller will speak on the work of the committee and "The Italian Battlefield" that afternoon.

The stirring pictures shown at the Garrick a fortnight ago did much to stimulate interest in the Italian side of the war question and to bring to our people the realization that these men and women are in need of our immediate aid. Flags of the Allies will be artistically used in decorating the hall at Manheim. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Walter D. Bains, chairman; Mrs. Francis Ellis MacGrath, Mrs. Nicholas Petry, Mrs. Perceval Tattersfield, Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Foster Reeder.

Margaret Law is chairman of the junior committee and her aides will be Josephine Reeves, Mary Primrose Reeves, Betty MacQueen Smith, Christine Rehn, Eleanor Wunder, Marguerite Burton, Ruth Marshall, Dorothy Marshall, Elizabeth Van Dusen, Josephine Dodge, Theodora Ross and Emlin Shipley.

Cake and candy will be sold during the afternoon and some one was smart enough to think of having a booth where instruction in knitting articles for soldiers and sailors will be given and demonstration in surgical dressings will also be made. Margaret Tattersfield will be in charge of this part of the affair.

Did you know Mary Thomas is to be married in West Chester on Saturday of this week to Lieutenant Carroll Hall, of the navy? Mary is so pretty she is sure to make a stunning bride, and Marie Sellers is going to be maid of honor. Stripes that wedding party will be worth seeing. How about it?

It's going to take place at 12:30 in the Church of the Holy Trinity, in West Chester, and the Rev. John Mills Gilbert, who is rector of the church, will officiate. Mary's two sisters, Carol and Linda, will be bridesmaids, and there are to be two small flower girls.

Mr. Hall's brother, William Hall, who is a second lieutenant in the army and has been at Fort Hancock, is coming up specially on leave to act as best man for his brother, and there are to be two navy men among the ushers. Jack Hastings, Dick Murtha and Mary's two brothers will be ushers, too, and Wallace Lee, who you remember is a Philadelphian, but has been living in Cuba, will be another usher. He married the bridegroom-elect's sister several years ago.

I don't dare tell you anything about the dresses yet, but I hear they are to be perfectly lovely, and I don't doubt it. Mary is certainly a peach of a girl and I wish her the best of happiness.

ONE of the most attractive features of the Navy Day Fete tomorrow will be the Tea Garden with Mrs. Charles B. Penrose, of Devon, as chairman. This department will have an inclosure on the grounds of Camp Hill Hall, where the big fete is to be held and the inclosure will be decorated with cherry blossoms, while the pretty aides will be dressed as Japanese Geisha girls. Among the aides will be Hannah Wright, Sarah Penrose, who is Mrs. Penrose's daughter; Leta Sullivan, Frances Sullivan, Betty Miller, Lorraine Graham and Clyde Broadhead.

I hear Frances Sullivan is going to wear a perfectly marvelous kimono which was brought from Japan by Gladys Hinckley, of Washington, who is a great friend of Frances, you know. It is a wedding kimono, made of white silk, beautifully embroidered in colors and lined with an exquisite shade of salmon pink satin. All of the Geisha girls will have their hair dressed in Japanese fashion and adorned with fans and chrysanthemums. They ought to look sweet, don't you think?

The women on the committee with Mrs. Penrose include Mrs. Philippus Miller, Mrs. Tom Newhall, Mrs. James Francis Sullivan and Mrs. D. M. Barrington. Mrs. William Anthony Platt will entertain in the restaurant at luncheon during the fete.

EVERY week almost I hear something new about the Wayne Branch of the Red Cross. It sure is a live proposition. They are always doing something and doing that something well, too. You remember, I told you about the bed they had endowed in the Red Cross Hospital in France and the "birthday" box which they sent over when the branch was a year old.

Well, the latest thing is that they are going to send an ambulance to France. They have one fully equipped and ready to send, and hope to have another soon. At the last meeting of the Red Cross at the Wayne headquarters Mrs. William H. Brooks, who is chairman, spoke about an ambulance and said it had been a pet scheme of hers that she would send an ambulance. Well, my dears, after that meeting, one of the members told Mrs. Brooks that she would send her a check to pay for half of an ambulance, and that very evening another said she would give the other half. Think of it! And so fired with enthusiasm are other members of the branch they have decided to raise money for a second ambulance by small donations, that all may have a share in it. The first ambulance is of Locomobile make, decidedly large and will accommodate four stretchers in service. It is fitted out with a complete first-aid kit and has various other articles of equipment, which make it as near complete as it is possible for it to be.

THERE has been so much said about Mrs. Charlie Wright's return to the East that I am glad to be able to say she really will arrive very soon and will spend a month or two with Hebe Dick, her daughter, in Chestnut Hill, before going back to California; for they tell me she finds the climate in the far West more healthy than here and is quite wedded to California.

Mrs. Wright lived abroad for a long time before the war broke out and does not seem to want to give up traveling and stay at home in Chestnut Hill. I suppose, once one has started to live in several places during a year and has no settled home, it is hard to come down to regular life again. Anyway, she seems to love the Golden West, and I can't say I blame her; it must be wonderful country, though as far as I am concerned Philadelphia usually looks pretty good to me.

Mrs. Wright was the beautiful Carrie McMurtrie, a sister of Miss Mary and Miss Nellie McMurtrie and a cousin of the Murrays, Bohlers and McCalls. You remember she gave Mary Bohler's coming-out party two years ago at her lovely home at St. Martins. Mary Bohler, by the way, is now Mary Tighman, she and Dick having been married last May. Dick is in the army and is at Fort Hancock, so Mary is living in Augusta these days. Perhaps Mrs. Wright may be persuaded to stay longer than a month or so with her charming daughter and son-in-law and the war grandchildren.

Mrs. Wright was the beautiful Carrie McMurtrie, a sister of Miss Mary and Miss Nellie McMurtrie and a cousin of the Murrays, Bohlers and McCalls. You remember she gave Mary Bohler's coming-out party two years ago at her lovely home at St. Martins. Mary Bohler, by the way, is now Mary Tighman, she and Dick having been married last May. Dick is in the army and is at Fort Hancock, so Mary is living in Augusta these days. Perhaps Mrs. Wright may be persuaded to stay longer than a month or so with her charming daughter and son-in-law and the war grandchildren.

THE Langdon Mitchells have come down from their summer home in Northeast Harbor and are in Media for the present before going to Washington. You know they have taken a house there for the winter. We'll miss Valentine a lot here; she is an exceedingly clever girl and very well liked. She came out here a couple of years ago and had a very good time.

NANCY WYNNE.

Social Activities

Mr. and Mrs. L. Howard Weatherly and their daughters, Miss Susanne Smith and Miss Carol Smith, who spent the summer at White Sulphur Springs, have returned to their home, 3519 Chestnut street. Miss Susanne Smith, who is an ardent horsewoman, won two blue ribbons and a yellow one at the horse show which took place lately at White Sulphur.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Maule and their family, who spent the summer in Bay Head, have returned to their home, 2217 Rittenhouse street. Owing to war conditions Miss Jane Maule will not make her formal debut in November, as had been planned, but will attend the various entertainments which will be given for the debutante set.

Miss Florence Sheppard, of the Gladstone Apartments, is spending the fall and winter at the St. Charles, Atlantic City.

Mrs. William S. Baxter, of Drexel and Owen avenues, Lansdowne, gave a dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of the eighty-fourth birthday of her father, Dr. John S. Bickley, of the Graystone. The table and house were decorated with autumn flowers, and the guests were Mrs. Charles Shurtlett, Mr. and Mrs. James Cassel, Mr. and Mrs. H. Holmes Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Nauty, Mrs. Harold D. Haviland, Dr. and Mrs. William MacLann, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haggerty, Mrs. John S. Bickley, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson and Master Albert B. Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bradford Ramsey, Jr., of Forty-second and Pine streets, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Phyllis M. Ramsey, to Mr. B. Griffith Jones, 26, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Calvin Wells, of 2212 Wallace street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Heulings Wells, to Mr. Joseph Browger, of this city.

IMPORTANT WOMEN TAKE PART IN NAVY DAY FETE

MRS. ERNEST LAW

MRS. CHARLES HENRY SCOTT

CONTENTMENT FUND STARTED

South Philadelphians Give Concert for Fund to Buy Pleasures for Soldiers

Now that so many of our soldiers are "at home" in Camp Meade, we are beginning to hear a lot of things about that interesting place and what is going on down there. There seems to have been no end of splendid equipment to make everything just as comfortable as possible, but at this early period there is a woeful lack of pleasure-giving devices. Fancy men by the thousands having only a dozen footballs, or an evening gathering with a talking machine. And so, some of the more progressive officers have started what they call a "contentment fund." The money is to buy balls, bats, tennis rackets, a talking machine and everything else that may add to the contentment of the men, and, needless to say, the project is meeting with favor everywhere.

Lieutenant Harry Pury wrote so persuasively to his sisters in the Girard Estate that a big concert is under way, by which the children of the Rush and Furness Schools hope to have a most acceptable mite to send to the camp before Thanksgiving. The Board of Education has very kindly donated the handsome auditorium of the Furness School, Third and McKean streets, for the evenings of November 4 and 5, and the janitor and engineer, anxious to help, have volunteered their services. The older children, that is those attending the Furness School, are working up some splendid patriotic numbers and, under the capable direction of Miss Helen Dussey, will be seen in some delightful folk dances. The tiny tots of five and six who attend the Rush School, Fourth and Snyder avenues, simply would not be left out, and so Miss Anna Pury has written a very clever little play about Old Mother Goose, which somehow never grows old when done by the little ones, and of course their number will not by any means be the least interesting.

Mr. J. Beading, whose son, Captain Beading is much interested in the fund, is also working hard to make the affair a success. Indeed, the appeal is such an earnest one that if attendance at these first little concerts for the fund will be the means of purchasing enjoyment for the men who have answered their country's call, it is a foregone conclusion that the efforts of the workers will be very successful.

Friends of Miss Marie Mohan, of 1227 Ritner street, will be glad to learn that she is convalescing from her recent serious illness. Miss Mohan contracts pneumonia on her way up from Atlantic City, where she had spent her vacation, and for several weeks her life was in danger.

Cynwyd to Have War Relief Bazaar A bazaar will be held for the benefit of War and Local Relief Work by the Women's Club of Cynwyd, in St. John's Parish House at Cynwyd, today and tomorrow afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock. Supper will be served each evening from 6 to 7:30. Mrs. George E. Bean is president of the club, and Mrs. Henry J. Gibbons is the corresponding secretary.

FIRST MEETING FOR THIS YEAR

Mothers-in-Council to Meet Next Week in Germantown

Mrs. Thomas Janney, of West Upsal street, will have the first meeting of the mothers-in-council at her home at 3 o'clock Wednesday, October 10. Miss Anna Davies, of the College Settlement, will speak on the subject, "War and Living Conditions in South Philadelphia." Mrs. Thomas Haaburn White is president of the association, and Mrs. William Betty Jennings is vice president. Tea will be served after the meeting. Friends of Mrs. George Franklin Brown, of West Price street, will be glad to hear that she is recovering from her recent illness.

Mrs. Edward S. Jackson, of Johnson street, will leave shortly for French Lick Springs to spend several weeks. Mrs. Elizabeth MacQueen Smith, of West Chelton avenue, has returned from Boston, where she spent several weeks. Mrs. Robert Haines and Miss Margaret Haines have closed their summer home in Castine, Me., and are occupying their house on School House lane. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Law and their family have returned to town from Nova Scotia, where they spent the latter part of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adler have returned from their wedding trip and are living with Mrs. Adler's mother, Mrs. Preston K. Erdman, at 922 Greene street. Mrs. Adler was Miss Sara Erdman before her marriage in the summer.

Mrs. Charles H. Weiss and her daughter, Mrs. Maria Fritz, of 153 Manleswood avenue, who spent the summer in Ocean City at their cottage, have returned to town.

Surprise Party Given West Philadelphia Bride-to-Be Guest of Honor at Miscellaneous Shower Mrs. J. B. Corrigan, of 1917 South Fifty-first street, gave a surprise miscellaneous shower for Miss Marie McManus, who will be married to Dr. Joseph M. Danneker on October 16. Among those present were Miss Mary Dohan, Miss Theresa McNulty, Miss Mary Devina, Mrs. William Stanton, Mrs. T. W. Bueby, Mrs. Leo P. McNamee, Miss Jennie Mulherne, Miss Marie Kelly, Miss Martina Kelley, Miss Bernadette Gorman, Miss Elizabeth McManus and Miss Gertrude McManus.

Mrs. Andrew Reeder, r.n.d., spent a delightful summer at his home at Big Stone Gap, in the Blue Ridge Mountains, which he and Mrs. Reeder, Sr., in Easton, they are now visiting the Rev. Leighton W. Eckelard and Mrs. Eckelard, of 425 Pine street, on their way to their home in Washington, D. C.

Aquinas Club Resumes Dances The Aquinas Club has resumed its successful plan of having weekly dances this season, and the third one takes place tonight in the clubrooms, 1768 South Eighteenth street.

SAILORS SING FOR MUSIC FUND

Entertainment Given by Crew of Iowa at Century Club in Lansdowne

Quite the best and most enjoyable entertainment Lansdowne has had for a long time was given last Saturday night at the Century Club by some thirty of the sailors from the battleship Iowa. The program was so good and of such variety that the audience was kept continually and highly interested. The wonder-what's-coming-next state of mind. And that audience was some audience. Every single seat in the hall was taken, and every spot that could be used for "standing room," too. Perhaps this spurred the sailors on to do their very best; any way, they surely did it. Mr. Gould, the chaplain of the Iowa, had charge of the entertainment, and introduced each number in the most delightful manner. Several sailors sang solos, and they had good voices, too. The audience was a wee bit scarce when the good chaplain came out and announced, in a woeful voice, that one of the sailors had lost his voice. But, to everybody's relief, it turned out that the name of the sailor who was to sing was "Mountain Voice," and that the piece of music had playfully hidden itself under something or other. It was soon discovered, however, that the sailor-owner, who sang it, proved that he had his voice right with him.

Then there were several groups of recitations, "of infinite variety," for some were serious, and others were amusingly funny. One sailor recited some original poems, and others, one of them being this gentle little "shot" at some of the knitting the boys get presented with:

"Some socks, some fit, I'll use one for a hammock, one for a mitt, I'd like to meet you when I've done my bit, But who in thunder taught you to knit?"

However, the Jackie evidently didn't mean what he said, for he wore a perfectly good knitted sweater himself.

One of the best features of the program was the Iowa Quartet. How those four sailors did sing! They put so much vim into it that the audience simply would not stop clapping when they had finished. One of the quartet later impersonated Harry Lawler, and he did it very cleverly. There was a pianist, too, and then several numbers were played by the "famous Iowa band," that title being laughingly bestowed upon it by the chaplain. But the band really deserves the title, for it was splendid at the very last it played several popular airs, and the audience was urged to join in the chorus of each one. The people were rather tired at that point, but when the band struck up "Where Do We Go From Here, Boys,"—well, didn't everybody sing or two?

The sailors want to buy a piano, or a gramophone, and the good chaplain has struck up "Where Do We Go From Here, Boys,"—well, didn't everybody sing or two? The sailors want to buy a piano, or a gramophone, and the good chaplain has struck up "Where Do We Go From Here, Boys,"—well, didn't everybody sing or two?

After the entertainment the sailors were served with ice cream and cake, and then the band played splendid music and lots of people stayed and danced. It certainly was a pleasant evening for everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Davis, with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hinkson, of Philadelphia, have been motoring through the Alleghenies. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stewart spent the week-end at their Ocean City cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Young went down with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Phillips, of Duquesne, Pa., are visiting Mrs. John W. Moon. Miss Margaret Link, of Utica, N. Y., is going to stay with Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Waterbury, of this city, at the Institute. Miss Link is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis. Miss Marion Baker entertained the Six Double Six Sewing Club at her home on Wednesday evening in Wynnewood on October 20. This present is to be given for the Red Cross, as everything is nowadays.

Miss Marie Dewar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewar, was married on Wednesday afternoon, October 3, to Mr. Harry Babbitt, Mrs. A. K. Babbitt's son. Mrs. Arthur M. Brewster was matron of honor and Mr. Robert W. Neall was best man. The wedding was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt will live in Swarthmore.

BROAD Last 3 Evgs. Last Sat. Saturday AMERICA'S FOREMOST COMEDIENNE MISS BILLIE BURKE IN "THE REFRIGERATOR" by America's Foremost Playwright. NEXT WEEK—SEATS TODAY MAUDE ADAMS in "A KISS FOR CINDERELLA" Extra Mat. Friday, Oct. 12 (Columbus Day)

GARRICK Last 3 Evgs. Last Sat. Saturday THE WILLOW TREE WHO SAYS BANNER and New York Cast NEXT WEEK—SEATS TODAY CHEATING CHEATERS Popular Wed. Mats. best seats $1.00 Extra Mat. Friday, Oct. 12 (Columbus Day)

Forrest LAST 2 WEEKS Evgs. 8:15 Mats. Wed. & Sat. CHARLES DILLINGHAM PRESENTS FRED STONE IN "BACK PLAYERS" WHOLEY TOWN—FUN IN GIRLS Seats for the Last Week on Sale Today

HISTORICAL MANSION IN TIOGA

In Early Days Old Oaks Was Scene of Fetes Champetres, Later Used for Cemetery, Then Church. Now Athletic Association

NOW that the many suburban residents have been and are giving such wonderful carnivals and outdoor fetes in aid of the Red Cross Society, it may be interesting to note that among the features of society life in the 60s was the Fete Champetres, given in the summer at the various country seats of the neighborhood. These functions were in the nature of large picnics and were managed very much in the same way as the Assemblies in the winter. In those days the majority of the invitations were either written or printed, not engraved; and even the Assembly cards were not the engraved invitations sent today to each subscriber. One of these printed invitations was as follows:

Fete Champetre at Old Oaks, Township Line road, Wednesday, June 3, 1868. The train will leave the Depot, Ninth and Green streets, at 10:30 a. m. The guests will be conveyed to the station by the Germantown and Chestnut Hill division of the Pennsylvania Railroad in passing through Tioiga going north may see this once palatial brownstone mansion standing on the summit of a hill. With all its wear and neglect it has still the appearance of an aristocrat.

The managers of the fete were Dr. Atherton Blythe, Mr. Alfred Devereux, Mr. John Blythe, John T. Lewis, Jr., Mr. Harry Markson and Mr. Henry Pepper. Of course the fashionable set in those days in Philadelphia was very much smaller than it is today, and all of the entertainments, excepting the Assemblies, were given in private houses, as it was considered in very bad taste to give a party in a public place. As to Old Oaks, passengers on the Germantown and Chestnut Hill division of the Pennsylvania Railroad in passing through Tioiga going north may see this once palatial brownstone mansion standing on the summit of a hill. With all its wear and neglect it has still the appearance of an aristocrat.

It was built in the 60s of the last century, by Mr. Christian Swarts for Mr. John Tucker, the first president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. Back of the mansion was a forest of majestic oaks from which the owner gave it its name, Old Oaks. Everything about the house was in accord with its external appearance. The hallway through the center was very broad, and the stairway magnificent. The large reception room was at the west end of the building. In the rear of the mansion was a large octagonal-shaped summer house of ornamental ironwork, and a stable of brownstone. In the valley to the west was a large circular-top conservatory, glazed with imported glass of rich ornamentation and coloring. The building was approached by drives from Abbottsford avenue on the north, and on the south from Sixteenth lane by two bridges crossing the Port Richmond branch of the Reading Railroad.

The property passed from the Tucker possession, and later, the railroad passing through the estate, the mansion became dilapidated and the grounds were sold to the Old Oaks Cemetery Company. The cemetery was laid out in circles radiating from a large circular plot owned by the Volunteer Firemen's Association of Philadelphia on which was erected a large monument surmounted by a heroic statue of Peter Lytle, chief of the volunteer firemen. This statue was subsequently removed to another cemetery. While the estate was a cemetery the reception hall of the restaurantic old house, which had witnessed many Fete Champetre, was used as a chapel for funeral services. St. Ladislau's Polish Catholic Church worshipped in this same reception hall before erecting its present building at Hunting Park and Wayne avenues; and for a time the walls echoed the shouts of an athletic association. Some of the property is now owned by various industrial establishments, including the American Pulley Company, which has for its employees an athletic field fronting on Wissahickon avenue and Bristol street. Part of the estate forms also the athletic field of the Birds manufacturing plant.

Industrial plants and apartment houses have encroached upon the old Tioiga estates until no room is left except ground for a good-sized carnival, let alone Fete Champetre. But the social set have musicals, card parties and receptions in autumn, and in winter they enjoy their cottages at the shore in the summer, and Fete Champetres are out of style anyhow, now that Mr. Hoover is directing our appetites.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Jennings and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jennings, of 3532 North Eighteenth street, have closed their cottage in Ocean City and are taking an automobile trip through the Berkshire Hills and the New England States. Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Wallace and their family, of 3535 North Nineteenth street, have returned to Tioiga after spending the summer in Ocean City. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Dawson are at home at 3831 North Sixteenth street, having returned from an extended wedding journey. The bride was Miss Marie Dorothy Wernitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ringler Wernitz, of Mantua, N. J.

The marriage of Miss Blanche A. Oppenheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berthold Oppenheimer, of 3235 North Seventeenth street, to Mr. Drue N. Allman, of 3813 Walnut street, will take place on Sunday, October 14, at the home of the bride's parents.

Meeting, Tioiga Business Men's Association, 2543 Germantown avenue, 8 p. m. Meeting, West Philadelphia Business Men's Association, 4212 Baltimore avenue, 8 p. m. Meeting, Haddington Improvement Association, Dietrich Building, Sixtieth and Market streets. Banquet and supper of the Woman's Club of Wynnewood, 104 Church Parish House, supper, 6 to 7:30 o'clock. Lecture by Dr. F. Durand, National Research Council, "The American Air Service," auspices Aero Club, Franklin Institute, 8 p. m. Motion picture show, West Branch, Y. M. C. A., Fifty-second and Sansom streets. Italian mass-meeting, Academy of Music, 8 p. m. Patriotic community meeting, Kensington School, Fifteenth and Ontario streets.

Stanley

MARKET STREET ABOVE 16TH 2111-2113 A. M. ARTIST'S PRESENTS Douglas Fairbanks "The Man From Painted Post" BEST WEEK-GOLDEN PRESENTS MAXINE ELLIOTT IN "FIGHTING OLIVE"

PALACE 1214 MARKET STREET FIRST LOCAL PRESENTATION OF "RASPUTIN, The Black Monk" WAS SUCCESSFULLY SHOWN IN NEW YORK AT $1.00 PRICES Tremendous Spectacle Enthralling Story of The Russian Revolution Powerful and interpreted by an all-star cast, including Montagu Love, June Sledge, Arthur Ashley, Irving Cummings, Julia Dean and Henry Bull.

SEE PREMIER KERENSKY THE HERO OF THE HOUR ADDRESSING THE DUMA

ARCADIA CHESTNUT BELOW 1828 Wm. Fox's $500,000 Spectacle "Jack and the Beanstalk" At 9 & 11 A. M., 1, 3, 5, 7 & 9 P. M.

REGENT MARKET BELOW 17TH FRANCIS X. BURNHAM & BEVERLY BAYNE IN "THE COMPACT" VICTORIA MARKET ABOVE 6TH Wm. Fox Presents VALESKA SURATT IN FIRST SHOWING OF "A CHERRY BLOSSOM" COMING-NEXT WEEK D. W. GRIFFITH'S Colorful Production "INTOLERANCE" FIRST TIME AT POPULAR PRICES

GLOBE Theatre MARKET & FIFTH ST. 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. 10c, 15c, 25c, 35c. "Texas" Ritchie EXHIBITION WEST COAST BROADWAY "Bachelor Dinner" TABLEAU

CROSS KEYS DAILY, 2:30-10c, 10c, 15c, 25c, 35c. "MARRIAGE BLISS" BROADWAY Broad & Snyder Aves. Daily, 2:15; Eve., 8:15-9:30. KITTY FRANCIS & CO. MME. OLGA PETROVA "WILL BE SOBER"

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE Broad & Packer Sts. MATINEE SATURDAY, 2:15 The Biggest Dramatic Spectacle on Earth

THE WANDERER STAGED BY DAVID BELASCO Evenings and Saturday Mat., 5:00 to 11:00 60c, 80c, 1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00. Seats also on sale at Downtown Thelma Hotel, 1108 Chestnut Street. "THE WANDERER" IS NOT A Moving Picture. COMPANY OF 200 PEOPLE

COLONIAL GERMANTOWN AND LIFELINE AVENUE FIRST TIME IN GERMANTOWN MARY PICKFORD IN Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm ALSO GREAT VAUDEVILLE SHOW

STRAND GERMANTOWN, Ave. at Venango VIVIAN MARTIN LEADER 421 and Lancaster Avenues GEO. M. COHAN IN "THE WANDERER" NIXON 323 and Market Streets DUSTIN FARNUM "WILL BE SOBER" 4130 CHESTNUT STREET, VAUDEVILLE

THE THINGS THAT REALLY COUNT

Copyright, Life Publishing Company. Reprinted by special arrangement. "We've enjoyed your talk about the poor war victims so much. Now do tell us what was being worn in Paris when you left."