"WE ARE SEVEN" AT BIG REUNION, A. O. M. P.

Six Assembly Delegations and M. E. Officers Overflow Haddon Heights Town Hall

All roads led to Haddon Heights from this great metropolis of fraternalism, as well as of the patriotic life of the nation, when the little Jersey habitation was almost overwhelmed by the nocturnal influx of pulling limousines, roadsters, runabouts, autotrucks, "tin Lizzies," chartered trolley cars and other vehicles bearing the "bone and sinew" of an inimitable combination to the ninth reunion of the "Greathead seven" in the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protec-lin. Indeed, if the event could have been "mulled off" in the dayting the town au-thorities could hardly have prevented the character of a special holiday for proper recognition of such honor to the community. aror Dallas, robust and "game," but evi37 overcame by confusing essentials at the Spartan Assembly took eccasion to put the officers through a mock initiation to brush up on the work. Medical Examiner Bruner acting as the "goat." It was hard to slick to the serious side of the ceremony and the comical inclinations were uncontrollable when Brother Elifott, as the deputy, presented the candidates, with "appropriate" remarks, a twelve-inch button, "Doo" looking like a Spartan gladiator of old behind a battle shield.

An invitation to Underdown Assembly on November 1 was accepted, and fifteen members promised to attend. It was a smokeless night, as the cigars did not arrive, but to many toe cream and pretzels atoned.

Girard Assembly expects tonight the biggest meeting of the year. Three candidates are on the list and Chairman Rhap's committee will furnish some good things appropriate to the season. Deputy Wesley Kehr has offered an attendance prize of $5 in gold, provided that a large number—say 100—turn out. Visitors will be welcomed at 1626 Arch street.

The M. E. officers will visit Adelphi Assemble tonight and will go to Chester Assembly tomorrow right, taking tolent for an entertainment. Arrangements have been made to insure a successful meeting by sending automobiles to the house of the Chester members.

Progressive Assembly is preparing through chalman Gardina's committee, a ladies hight, dance and entertainment at the next meeting, engaging two large halls in the Grand Fra-ternity Building.

M. E. Recorder Cox in a letter to the subordinate assemblies says;

"At a meeting of the board of directors the matter of our war waiver was given careful consideration. The board feels that it now has sufficient information to warrant a more liberal treatment of new members and has directed that in the event of the death of any member admitted on or after April 16, 1817, while engaged in millitary, Red Cross or moval service of any kind or pursuing any occupation which brings him in or about an establishment where annunclion, frearms or explosives are manufactured, stored or handled, or as a consequence thereof, shall receive one-tenth of the amount of the beneficiary certificate. Sick benefits are waived absolutely by the member.

"This action will meet the objection that has best urged against the present waivers, vig.
that the member waived absolutely all benefits in the event of death resulting from service, and will place our order or a par with commercial insurance companies which are offering a like inousoment.

"The action is retroactive in that it includes every member who has signed one of the present waivers. I trust that this liberal treatment of prospective candidates will ald you materially in making up the quota required of you by the most excellent master artisan to be supplied on or before December 31."

The Grand Fraternity

The anoher siven by Industrial Branch. No. 10, on Monday might has was a pronounced success. The only disappointment was that so few of the sallors were able to be present. The branch was favored by Fresident Frederick (gaston, who delivered an able and foresty) address. An address of welcome was delivered by Superintendent Harry B. Miller, with special stress on the particular duty of every true american and a strong appeal to the boys in the service to uphold the traditions of the flag of our glorious U.S. A. which has never yet known defeat. Vice Fresident George A. Huggins briefly and explicitly explained the advantages of membership in the fraction. During the smoker a good program, training bando selections and a munologue, was enjoyed.

Philadelphia Branch. No. 4 meeting was called to order by Commander Edward Redfield, with all officers present. Several members were heard to remark that something like fifty of the regular attendants were missing from the meeting. About sixty boys of Branch No. 4 have entered the Government service.
