

STRIKING ENTRIES IN TODAY'S LIBERTY LOAN PARADE

Among the unusual exhibits were a battery of hawtowers, entered by the Midvale Steel Company; two baby autos, one foot high, entered by the Haverford Cycle Company, and a machine-gun company from the Standard Roller Bearing Company, all shown above.

DOLLARS TALK FOR LOAN IN WAKE OF LIBERTY BELL

Continued from Page One

The parade started at noon at Independence Square. It moved north on Fifth street to Market, on Market to City Hall, around City Hall and down Broad street to Spruce, where it was dismissed.

Brigadier General L. W. T. Waller, U. S. M. C., the oldest man in the oldest service of the United States, was chief marshal, and Colonel L. J. Magill, U. S. M. C., was detailed as chief of staff.

There were E. T. Stotesbury, there was Ernest T. Trigg, president of the Chamber of Commerce. There were doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs. There were rich men, poor men, beggar men and—

But Thomas B. Smith, chief executive of the city which cradles the Liberty Bell, was not in line. Nor was his successor, William H. Wilson, who was not to be seen.

All the members of the Liberty Loan committees were in line, and a number of other prominent men, including E. T. Stotesbury, C. Stuart Patterson, Levi Rine, Ernest T. Trigg, R. L. Haislip and William C. Sarant.

The Motor Messengers were led by Mrs. Thomas Elyton.

A float with a gigantic Liberty Bell was in line, while the Packard Motor Company had a float with one of the new Liberty motors.

The community singing demonstration, scheduled for yesterday, was held this afternoon in front of the Liberty Loan headquarters, Lincoln Building, after the parade.

Hundreds of the employees of department stores gave further testimony of the loyalty of the salaried men and women by marching. A. A. Christina, manager of Gimbel's, led a delegation of seventy-five, the men carrying banners, the women garbed in immaculate white costumes.

One of the proudest marchers was Louis Cohen, 174 Mifflin street, a newsboy, who is the sole support of his mother and who has a brother in the trenches. Louis has bought a hundred-dollar bond.

JEWISH WOMEN BOOST LOAN Seven Teams Have Already Sold Half Million in Bonds

The Jewish women of Philadelphia have been actively working in the interests of the Liberty Loan under the general direction of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee, of which Mrs. Baruch Warburton is chairman.

The following women were organized as captains of teams: Mrs. Ellis A. Gimbel, Team 1; Mrs. Joseph Wasserman, Team 2; Mrs. Louis Wolf, Team 3; Mrs. Milton Herold, Team 4; Mrs. Samuel Lit, Team 5; Mrs. David Kirshbaum, Team 6; Mrs. Henry Lowenberg, Team 7.

An excellent scheme of organization has been worked out whereby each captain was authorized to appoint ten lieutenants, and each lieutenant five aids—in this manner the services of several hundred women have been secured.

The subscriptions range from $50 bonds purchased by the cash girls to $40,000 worth purchased by one of the executive heads.

The store has been divided into subcommittees, which assemble the employees thirty or thirty-five at a time in one of the offices, where some of fifteen speakers, who have been trained in the Lit school, meet them and tell them of the purpose of the loan.

The Union League announced a total subscription up to date of $2,700,000. Probably the largest subscription to the second issue of Liberty Bonds by any foreigner has just been made by Victor de Yvan, local agent for Sota & Anar, of Bilbao, Spain.

The Motor Messengers were led by Mrs. Thomas Elyton.

A float with a gigantic Liberty Bell was in line, while the Packard Motor Company had a float with one of the new Liberty motors.

The community singing demonstration, scheduled for yesterday, was held this afternoon in front of the Liberty Loan headquarters, Lincoln Building, after the parade.

Hundreds of the employees of department stores gave further testimony of the loyalty of the salaried men and women by marching.

One of the proudest marchers was Louis Cohen, 174 Mifflin street, a newsboy, who is the sole support of his mother and who has a brother in the trenches.

SURPRISE IN BEQUESTS OF FLAGLER'S WIDOW'S WILL Niece Fails to Get Expected Bulk of Estate; Given Other Relatives

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—With the filing of the will of the late Mrs. Lily Flagler Bingham, widow of Henry M. Flagler, in Surrogate Court here, it became known today that her favorite niece, Mrs. Louise Wise Lewis, has been made heir to $12,000,000 instead of the $60,000,000 her friends expected her to inherit.

The following women were organized as captains of teams: Mrs. Ellis A. Gimbel, Team 1; Mrs. Joseph Wasserman, Team 2; Mrs. Louis Wolf, Team 3; Mrs. Milton Herold, Team 4; Mrs. Samuel Lit, Team 5; Mrs. David Kirshbaum, Team 6; Mrs. Henry Lowenberg, Team 7.

An excellent scheme of organization has been worked out whereby each captain was authorized to appoint ten lieutenants, and each lieutenant five aids—in this manner the services of several hundred women have been secured.

The subscriptions range from $50 bonds purchased by the cash girls to $40,000 worth purchased by one of the executive heads.

The store has been divided into subcommittees, which assemble the employees thirty or thirty-five at a time in one of the offices, where some of fifteen speakers, who have been trained in the Lit school, meet them and tell them of the purpose of the loan.

The Union League announced a total subscription up to date of $2,700,000. Probably the largest subscription to the second issue of Liberty Bonds by any foreigner has just been made by Victor de Yvan, local agent for Sota & Anar, of Bilbao, Spain.

The Motor Messengers were led by Mrs. Thomas Elyton.

A float with a gigantic Liberty Bell was in line, while the Packard Motor Company had a float with one of the new Liberty motors.

The community singing demonstration, scheduled for yesterday, was held this afternoon in front of the Liberty Loan headquarters, Lincoln Building, after the parade.

Hundreds of the employees of department stores gave further testimony of the loyalty of the salaried men and women by marching.

One of the proudest marchers was Louis Cohen, 174 Mifflin street, a newsboy, who is the sole support of his mother and who has a brother in the trenches.

Falls Under Cart, Fatally Crushed

William Taggart, sixty years old, 117 Race street, was killed this afternoon when he attempted to get down from the seat of a motor sprinkling cart at Twenty-second and Race streets while the cart was in motion.

The following women were organized as captains of teams: Mrs. Ellis A. Gimbel, Team 1; Mrs. Joseph Wasserman, Team 2; Mrs. Louis Wolf, Team 3; Mrs. Milton Herold, Team 4; Mrs. Samuel Lit, Team 5; Mrs. David Kirshbaum, Team 6; Mrs. Henry Lowenberg, Team 7.

An excellent scheme of organization has been worked out whereby each captain was authorized to appoint ten lieutenants, and each lieutenant five aids—in this manner the services of several hundred women have been secured.

The subscriptions range from $50 bonds purchased by the cash girls to $40,000 worth purchased by one of the executive heads.

The store has been divided into subcommittees, which assemble the employees thirty or thirty-five at a time in one of the offices, where some of fifteen speakers, who have been trained in the Lit school, meet them and tell them of the purpose of the loan.

The Union League announced a total subscription up to date of $2,700,000. Probably the largest subscription to the second issue of Liberty Bonds by any foreigner has just been made by Victor de Yvan, local agent for Sota & Anar, of Bilbao, Spain.

The Motor Messengers were led by Mrs. Thomas Elyton.

A float with a gigantic Liberty Bell was in line, while the Packard Motor Company had a float with one of the new Liberty motors.

The community singing demonstration, scheduled for yesterday, was held this afternoon in front of the Liberty Loan headquarters, Lincoln Building, after the parade.

Hundreds of the employees of department stores gave further testimony of the loyalty of the salaried men and women by marching.

One of the proudest marchers was Louis Cohen, 174 Mifflin street, a newsboy, who is the sole support of his mother and who has a brother in the trenches.

ALLEGED 'CANDY COP' BEFORE TRIAL BOARD

Patrolman Freeland, Who Entered Factory Via Fire Escape, Says Accusers Have 'Grouch'

Charges that John Freeland, a policeman of the Fourth and Race streets station, climbed a fire escape of a candy factory, went into the building and came down the stairs, with his pockets bulging with sweets, were made today when he was arraigned before the police trial board this afternoon, accused of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Freeland did nothing of the sort, he told the board. The street door to the factory, he declared, was left open and fearing that burglars would enter the place, or had entered it, he decided to investigate.

The board held the case under advisement and will certify its findings to Director of Public Safety Wilson. The ward, incidentally, is a McNichol ward.

Concrete evidence that the Smith-Vare faction is getting ready for election day was given this morning in the reopening of the cases of former patrolmen Thomas Mitchell, of the Third and De Lancey streets station; Thomas Crowley, of the Seventh and Carpenter streets station; and John McCoy, of the Third and Dickinson streets station, all of them in Vare wards.

Mitchell was dismissed from the force in 1906, eleven years ago, for absence without leave; Crowley drew his unconditional release in 1910, seven years ago, on a charge of intoxication while on duty, while McCoy was discharged last year on a charge of intoxication and neglect of duty.

STRIKE MAY TIE UP SOUTH ST. CLOTHIERS

About 150 Clerks May Walk Out if More Pay Is Not Granted

A complete tie-up of the retail clothing business along Bainbridge and South streets will follow the walkout today of about 150 salesmen, according to Herman Laskowitz, of 701 Bainbridge street, secretary of the Retail Clothing Dealers' Association of that section.

The men are striking for higher wages, shorter hours and recognition of their union, according to L. H. Levy, secretary and business manager of the Retail Clothing Clerks' Union, Local No. 42. Levy declared that the men are getting between $15 and $18 per week and are working sixty-two hours.

The men are striking for higher wages, shorter hours and recognition of their union, according to L. H. Levy, secretary and business manager of the Retail Clothing Clerks' Union, Local No. 42.

Weds in President's Former Home

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 25.—Miss Ada L. Ruch, of Hellertown, and Lieutenant Howard L. Strohl, of Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., were married at the latter place in the house which for eleven years was the home of President Wilson.

The following women were organized as captains of teams: Mrs. Ellis A. Gimbel, Team 1; Mrs. Joseph Wasserman, Team 2; Mrs. Louis Wolf, Team 3; Mrs. Milton Herold, Team 4; Mrs. Samuel Lit, Team 5; Mrs. David Kirshbaum, Team 6; Mrs. Henry Lowenberg, Team 7.

An excellent scheme of organization has been worked out whereby each captain was authorized to appoint ten lieutenants, and each lieutenant five aids—in this manner the services of several hundred women have been secured.

The subscriptions range from $50 bonds purchased by the cash girls to $40,000 worth purchased by one of the executive heads.

The store has been divided into subcommittees, which assemble the employees thirty or thirty-five at a time in one of the offices, where some of fifteen speakers, who have been trained in the Lit school, meet them and tell them of the purpose of the loan.

The Union League announced a total subscription up to date of $2,700,000. Probably the largest subscription to the second issue of Liberty Bonds by any foreigner has just been made by Victor de Yvan, local agent for Sota & Anar, of Bilbao, Spain.

The Motor Messengers were led by Mrs. Thomas Elyton.

A float with a gigantic Liberty Bell was in line, while the Packard Motor Company had a float with one of the new Liberty motors.

The community singing demonstration, scheduled for yesterday, was held this afternoon in front of the Liberty Loan headquarters, Lincoln Building, after the parade.

Hundreds of the employees of department stores gave further testimony of the loyalty of the salaried men and women by marching.

One of the proudest marchers was Louis Cohen, 174 Mifflin street, a newsboy, who is the sole support of his mother and who has a brother in the trenches.

This is Edison Week October 22-27

Electrify Your Correspondence

WITH THE GENUINE Edison Dictating Machine

Every letter dictated the Edison way is a "Better Letter" because it is electrified with your natural conversational tone and speed—without distraction, without haste—when YOU are inspired to speak. Our perfected equipment is connected in a second beside the electric light Edison gave you—the best combination for reading and writing. Will you allow us to show you this WAGELESS, WARLESS, WASTELESS office assistant?

$1000 in Fifty Cash Prizes

will be distributed among users for fifty "Better Letters" dictated by the Edison System. Contest closes October 27th at your local post office. Write or telephone your local Edison Service Station for the easy way you may earn a prize by writing only one "Better Letter." No fee. No obligation.

Special Edison-Week Demonstrations by Edison Dictating Machine 837 Chestnut St., Philadelphia

An Account of Edison's Life and Inventions will be mailed gratis during Edison Week

Phone Walnut 3135 or Main 976

Write your request for Edison's Life and other literature on your firm's stationery

To-morrow Clover Day

Strawbridge & Clothier

REID AND FORT

Announce the Opening of their New Store 1204 Chestnut Street Thursday, October 25 The Store at 1114 Chestnut Street is now vacated

HOSIERS GLOVERS SHIRT MAKERS