A lot of work that was considered necessary in years past is no longer done, and this gives the uployes time to attend to the more essential details. Atlantic City now has eighty-five extra acres and as soon as the club can get from acres and as soon as the clubbean get from fifteen to twenty-five more, work will be begun on an extra eighteen-hole course. "Hospitality Within" is written on the mat in front of the clubbouse and while you may not be able to read it you feel it as soon as the door swings open. At these annual tournaments golfers from all sections of the country forgather and if a solve does not have a sood time there golfer does not have a good time there a goner does not have a gone there is a kink in his brain. The golf is good and the fellows are good and what more do golfers want? If

man beats you he insists on paying you a man beats you he insists on paying your lunch and there is always some one who is ready to motor you to Atlantic Ciry and the fellow you play the next day, if he can see you in time, will take you out to the course in the morning. Hospitality is the keynote and R never gets out of tune. So it is no wonder the poller, when the time comes is delighted to get to the time comes is delighted to get to Northfield. He is sure of three days of golf whether he wins or loses the first match, and what more need be said?
