JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells What Some of the Would-Have-Been Debutantes Are Doing-Discipline in Camp Strictly Maintained

doing this year, don't you? And it's just otherwise have been butterflies for a year or more are turning their attention to strong and fine things, and are preparing for real work. There's Margaret Shober, for instance. She is the daughter of Mrs. John E. Shober, you know. They have been spending the early fall at Haverford Court, but have recently moved into their apartments at 426 South Carlisle street. Margaret has taken up nursing at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, so there's not much traipsing round on her program. Then Marys Clark has been taking a special course at the Polyclinic Hospital and goes there every day from 10 until 4 o'clock. Her engagement to Lieutenant George Harrison Frazier, Jr., was announced yesterday, you know.

FIND there are a lot of people taking the special courses at the Polyclinic. Young Mrs. John Flick signed up the other day. Her husband is in France. you know; went over with Base Hospital No. 10, and Mrs. Harry Dillard, whose husband is also "over there," is studying at the hospital.

TO RETURN to the debutante bunch. Margaretta Jeanes is taking a business edurse at Peirce College, and does Red Cross work after hours, and another sebby who was to have been, Eleanor Mc Cawley, is in the motor-messenger service and as busy as the proverbial bee. Eleanor McCawley's brother is in the navy, you know. He married Margaret Bannard some couple of years ago, and now while he is on active duty Margaret is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heath Bannard.

But lest "Molly" as well as "Jack" be evermuch worked and entirely without "play," a few small parties are given now and then, and Caroline Brown will have a small luncheon for the deb set their beautiful new place at Kennebunkport, Me. I understand they expect to move into their other new home, this time at Ardmore, in two or three weeks. They have built a house adjoining the new Merion golf links and near Maryland Woods, the home of Mrs. Archibald Thomson, and I hear the grounds are wonder ful, to say nothing of the house and garage. The latter will accommodate fourteen cars. What a pity it will not be ready in time to give a Halloween party in it tomorrow night! It would be such an ideal place.

DID you see Mrs. Rollin Wilbur's "purp" out in front of the Liberty was written "His Master's Voice! 'Buy a Liberty Bond.' " They tell me Friend Purp strong's alded and abetted the sales

THE opening reception for the annual exhibition of water colors and miniatures will be held at the Academy of the Fine Arts on Saturday night, and from all I have heard it will be some exhibit. The hostesses of the occasion will be Mrs. Leverett Bradley, Miss Mary Burnham, Mrs. Walton Clark, Mrs. Stanley G. Flags. Jr., Mrs. Francis I. Gowen, Mrs. John D. McIlhenny, Mrs. Thomas Lynch Montgomery, Mrs. John H. Packard, 3d, Mrs. Joseph Pennell and Mrs. Emlyn L. Stew-

COME of our young lieutenants have a bit to learn these days as well as the men under them, haven't they? Well, it's all for the great cause, and youth is apt to be oversevere at times. So, as the lesson was a very good one, I don't believe Lieutenent -, well, no, I won't give his name, would mind awfully much if I tell you ONE on him.

It happened thusly in Camp of course, you know, there had to be some one around who would know what a lovely story it was, and who would tell it to a visitor, and then the first thing you know the wee bird gets it and passes ft on to Nancy, Well, a newly arrived private of a few days old came walking along the barracks street and met Lieutenant N. He half nodded as he passed. Lieutenant N. stood still and called, "Private ---, you passed me just now without saluting." "Yes, Lieutenant, I did. I'm very sorry, but I'm quite new down here and I have not learned all the ropes yet. I apologize and will certainly see that it does not, occur again." And that, you will admit, was a handsome apology, as the poor man really did not know he had made a mistake. But, "dressed in a little brief authority," our young officer remarked: Very well, your explanation accepted, but that you may not forget it I am going to give you a little lesson. Stand there and salute me 200 times." So the private, making no remark, stood up before the officer and began saluting slowly but correctly till before he had done so SOME twenty-odd times a small crowd of the men began to gather about and to look Questions.

One of the captains saw the crowd and walked leisurely over to see what was causing the unusual gathering, and discovered the private hard at work in front of the young officer. , He stopped a moment and said, "Lieutenant N., what is going on?" "This new private falled to salute when passing me, so I am siving him a lesson by telling him to salute 200 times. Then he will not fall a this particular another time, I think," ery good, very good," said Captain T. Bit Lieutenani N., what do you do ben a more substant you?" T always re-

FIND it very interesting to learn dian of discipline, "Quite correct," said what the would-have-been debs are Captain T. "Please return this private's salutes until he shall have finished his splendid to see how those who might 200." Oh! it's great to be alive, isn't it? NANCY WYNNE.

ROSE TREE RACES TODAY

Saturday's Events Well Attended-Red Cross Patronesses Entertain at Luncheon

The old saying. "It's an ill wind that blows no one good," was fully illustrated last Wednesday when, owing to the weather. the Rose Tree races were postponed until today. The vast number of people taking part in the Liberty Loan work would un-doubtedly have affected the attendance on Wednesday. The new arrangement leaves today an entirely free day, and indications point that a record-breaking crowd will assemble at the beautiful track at Media. Last Wednesday's program was exceptionally good and it will be given as scheduled

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury had two boxes for Saturday's races and en-tertained at luncheon beforehand. The Red Cross patronesses were also among the hostesses of the day, Mrs. Archibald Barklie, the chairman, returning from Washington in time for the meet. Mrs. Samuel M. Riddle and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords also entertained informally before the races. Among the other patronesses were Mrs. Howard M. Henry, Mrs. J. Watts Mercurand Mrs. Charles H. Schoff.

Miss Reed Askew, of New York, is spending a fortnight with her grandmother, Mrs. A. T. Hagstoz, at her home on the creek front.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Ridway celebrated their silver anniversary on Saturday evening. Fifty guests were entertained.

Miss Dilkes and Miss Perot are interested in the bazaar, which will be given at the Bellevue-Stratford on November 8 for the wool and comfort fund and also for free beds at the Jefferson Hospital's convalescent home

PARAGRAPH CLUB

Beverly Sends Sweets and Musical Instruments to Soldiers at Jersey Camp

BEVERLY-The Paragraph Club will old its weekly meeting on November 6 n the auditorium of the public school at c'clock. Mrs. J. Fletcher Street, who is chairman of the department of civics, will have charge of the meeting. Mrs. Edwin C. Grice will be the speaker.

October 23 was "sweets day" for the soldiers at Camp Dix, and the members of the Paragraph Club certainly did their bit. There were 212 glasses of jelly, six dozen quarts of fruit, three quarts of grape julce and several bottles of pickles donated. Mrs. George H. Beatty, who is in charge of the nuste department, is collecting all kinds of instruments, which will be sent to Camp Dix.

Mrs. Gertrude Jones gave a card party two victrolas. A number of records, one banjo and two ukuleles have been donated. Mr. William A. Worth, Jr., who is a nember of the medical corps at Reed Hospital, Tacoma Park, Washington, D. C., is spending a few days' furlough with Mr. and Mrs. William A. Worth, of Warren

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gormly, of Potts-ville, Pa., were week-end guests of Miss Cathering Gormly, of Church street. Mrs. Sarah E. Nixon is spending a fort-night with her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Swain.

DELANCO-The members of the Delance branch of the Delanco and Riverside Red Cross have much to their credit during the last eight weeks that the workrooms have been busy. The committee reports that it has far exceeded the work expected, but if it had had the co-operation and help of every woman in Delanco its list of articles made up for the soldiers and hospitals would have been a bigger boost for Delanco.

The committee of Red Cross workers has from time to time sent out urgent appeals to the women of Delanco for their help, and surely one hour a day could be spared for the soldiers who have been putting in weeks and months fighting for those who were not called to go.

"Back the Boys in the Trenches" is now the motto of the Red Cross workers in this section of New Jersey, and the Delanco end of the branch certainly wants to be numbered among the first who are doing this excellent work.

The boxes now ready for shipment con tain 710 sponges, 72 drains, 72 lavatory pads, 108 gauze rolls three yards long. 544 compresses, 252 two, three and four inch gauze bandages, 4 comfort bags, 2 pounds of absorbent cotton, 144 muslin bandages, rolled; 36 crinoline rolls, 40 muslin silngs are bandages, 2 fracture pillows; 16 pairs. 12 T bandages, 21 fracture pillows, 16 pairs of bed socks, 24 blanket bath robes, 48 sets f pajamas. #### SUCCESSFUL FAIR WILL MEET SOON AT RIDLEY PARK

Swarthmore Red Cross Busy Fixing Christmas Bags and Packages for Troops Abroad

It used to be that when you went to a fair you'd merely find two tables-a cake and candy table and one with fancy articles upon it. And, sadly and resignedly, peanut brittle, and take a hasty way homeward. But fairs nowadays are so absolutely different and there are such lots and lots of "ducky" things for sale that you simply must buy some of them, whether you had planned to do so or not. It is such fun getting ready for a fair, too,

Out in Ridley Park the cleverness and ingenulty of almost every woman in the town was called upon in one way or another, and at her home on Warren street a few days ago and raised sufficient money to purchase given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. It was held in the Auditorium, and everywhere were bright-colored leaves, cornstalks, pumpkins, asters and chrysanthemuma!

There were just heaps of booths. The Emergency Aiders had a fine display of the work they have been doing under the direction of Mrs. E. K. Nelson. Mrs. E. D. Beardsiey was in charge of the table of "war-garden" preserves and canned things. A prize for the best jar of vegetables had been offered by the National Emergency Food Garden Committee and this prize was Food Garden Committee and this prize was won by Mrs. Frank Brown. The judges were Mrs. Paul Lachenmeyer, of Lansdowne; Mrs. Charles K. Weston, of Nowood, and Mrs. Satterthwaite, of Morton.

There was a booth of flowers and candies, under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Shattuck; a beautiful fancy-articles table of which Mrs. F. F. Turner had and, of course, there was a vegetable table Mrs. Plowman was at the head of that. Mrs. James Tongue, Mrs. Harry Gaul and Mrs. Shew sold "smokes" in the balcony. and we mustn't forget the always impor tant ice cream, which was served by Mrs. Frank Bond, Mrs. Joseph MacHenry and Mrs. Hipple.

And, neither last nor least, there was the cafeteria, which was a real one. Mrs. Carl Heinemann and Mrs. James Hurst had charge of it, and supper was served there from 6 to 8 each evening. Armed with a tray and plate and various other neces-saries, the diners were allowed to pick out saries, the diners were allowed to pick out just what they liked to eat, and there was enough variety in the "eata" to suit the very fussiest of people. When they had done this they carried their trays off to one of the card tables that were scattered all around, and while they supped girls in bright costumes thrummed away in bright costumes thrummed away at ukuleles and Miss Jeanette Hayes danced most charmingly. Miss Helen Atherholt wore a stunning Red Cross knitting hag costume and walked about selling wool for the Emergency Aid. Needless to say, she sold every bit she had.

We mustn't forget the side-shows, which Mrs. Harry Winsmore had charge of There were all sorts of weird freaks there who were really respectable, nice-looking citiens, but disguised for the time being so that they could hardly be recognized. There that they could hardly be recognized. There was a huge, fierce-looking giant, a diver, a schrecrow and lots more.

Saturday afternoon the children had a perfectly heautiful time. There were games for them, and Mrs. Charles G. Hetzel had charge of a baby show and a "just-dog show." The title of the latter shows that yellow-eared dogs with no "fam'ly history" were included, as well as poms and bull

About thirty of the Boy Scouts had a drill on Saturday afternoon, and in the evening Mrs. Hetzel had charge of the first subscription dance of the season, which served as a very nice "wind-up" to the fair. The next subscription dance will be half on November 1997. cription dance will be held on Novem

Miss Helen Miller, who has been visiting Miss Helen Atherholt in Ridley Park, returned to Baltimore last Thursday.

Mr. George C. Hetsel is spending some time at Atlentic City.

Mrs. William C. Segner has returned from New York, where she spent several days.

The Red Cross people in Swarthmore are busy fixing Christmas bags and packages to send oversons. The surgical dressings class of the Swarthmore branch meets at Strath of the Swartmore branch meets at Strain Haven Inn, and the other committees meet in the borough hall. The Emergency Aid has its meetings at the Woman's Club on Tucsdays. An entertainment is to be given soon for the Emergency Aid.
Mrs. Charles Adams entertained the bridge-luncheon club at her home on Tucsday afternoon.

Captain Max Stockton and Mrs. Stockton notored down from Allentown last week and ment several days with Mr. and Mrs. E. A.

Stockton.

The first of a series of subscription dances was held at Strath Haven Inn on Saturday evening. Mr. William Ward and Mr. Earl Welts are go ing up these dances and there will probably be one every month.

Mrs. C. W. Bigelow, of Media, gave an informal Halloween party for her two small sons. Clifford and Gerald. on Saturday afternoon, October 17. The guests were Elizabeth Jefferls. Alice Williamson, Jane Wiltshire, Frank Wiltshire, Arthur Wiltshire, Frank Wiltshire, Arthur Wiltshire, Hosemary Brewer, Anice Ford, Everett Ford, Edward Keller, Arthur Matthews, Alice Hilton and Mary Caroline Hilton.

The little girls will sing the "Pumpkin Song," each dressed in yellow crepe paper to represent a pumpkir with the bright-eyed pretty head peeping out of the top. Old-fashioned songs and guitar and mandolin solos will complete the program. Of course, there will be an audience, for all the fathers, mothers and a few older brothers and sitters must see the children and so t isters must see the children act, so there vill be about pixty guests to look on. After he show the frolic will begin, bobbing for apples, jolly games and a gay time with the witches, pixies, elves and ghosts, and han good-by all mysteries until October,

Mrs. Merritt Moffett, who before her marriage was Miss Rebecca Leonard, of Twen-ty-fifth street and Allegheny avenue, gave luncheon and card party on Saturday at her new home in Logan. Her guests were Miss Carrie Peterman, Mrs. Howard Schweitzer, Mrs. William Haeberlein, Miss Ellen Waldeck, Mrs. Richard Farrand, Mrs. Carroll Thompson, Miss Sophia Lackey, Miss Elsie Leonard, Miss Mabel Milten-berger and Miss Ethel Lee.

Friends of Mrs. Mary Thomas, of North Iwenty-second street, sympathize greatly with her in the death of her grandson, Mr. Spencer Lees, who was accidentally killed on Friday night at Cape May. The young man, who enlisted in the United States coast reserve, was one of the seventeen young men of the Temple Baptist Church in the service of the nation. He was in church on Sunday, October 21, in his uni-form and was in the best of health and spirits. He was the youngest trustee
