WE SHALL STOP THIS ONE DAY—IF THE WAR LASTS LONG ENOUGH

Bang!

—The Passing Show.
Pacifist—It's all nonsense to tell me the Germans have been preparing for this war for forty years. I know they ain't. And I'll tell yer for why. Ammunition made as long ago as that wouldn't go off!

When to Laugh

—Pearson's Weekly.
Big Man (turning around)—Can't you see anything?
Little Man (pathetically)—Can't see a streak of the stage.
Big Man (sarcastically)—Why, then, I'll tell you what to do. You keep your eye on me and laugh when I do.

A Good Chance

"What made Miss Oldgirl decide to become a war nurse?"
"Well, she has been a candidate for matrimony for a good many years, and somebody told her that the men in the trenches are desperate enough for anything."

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says a bride always seems more popular socially before her marriage and you hear of very few pre-nuptial affairs in her honor afterward.

Give Him Gas

The beautiful young woman interviewed a fortune teller on the usual subjects.
"Lady," said the clairvoyant "he will be tall and dark and aristocratic looking."
"And young?" interrupted the lady.
"Yes, and very rich."
The beautiful lady grasped the fortune teller's hands and pressed them hard.
"Thank you," she said. "Now tell me one thing more. How shall I get rid of my present husband?"—Las Magazines.
