Judge James Cay Gordon, pro

the Fifth Ward murder case, today issued the following statement: the following statement:

If I were a man hunter, Thomas B, smith would be safe—I would pass him by and go on hunting. What a poor, feeble-minded person he is to be sure, when he thinks that such irrelevant false-licids as are contained in his statement. It he accepted by the public as a condonation of the crimes of himself and his administration. If all he says were true, it would not wipe out the bloodstains in the Fifth Ward or he an excuse for cruel and bratal acts of his police things at the last primary election. The people to-morrow will pass judgment upon him and his administration, in view of the praven facts, when, in the light of day, ever 100 witnesses testified under oath to his of-ficial infamiles.

witnesses testified under oath to his official infamiles.

It may be true that he is hunted, but not by me. He is hosted by his cupidity and selfishness, which see rapidity disappearing the many opportunities for enrichment he has bad in the past two years: he is hunted by his fears, which see before him the possible doom of the felon; he is hunted by what remains of his conscience, because no man is wholly had. But, oh, what a joggled mind that thinks that at this eleventh hour he can deceive an indigmant and shared city by such petty and frivolous fallacies as midnight.

A majority of more than 45,000 votes over "government-by-murder" was claimed feday by the Town Meeting party.

On the eve of one of the most important unicipal elections in the history of Philade phia, the winning of more than two-thirds of the seats in the new Councils was confidently predicted, with the claim contested by the Vare-Smith Republican Organization. In the new Councils rests the destiny of

RAILROAD RATE CASE UP

Chestnut Ridge Line's Appeal on Trial Here

An interesting case involving the fixing of rates for minor railroads was on trial today before Judges Buffington. McPherson. Woolley and Haight, sitting in this city as the District Court of New Jersey. The case is an appeal by the Chestnut Ridge Reliway Company, of Carbon County, from an order of the Interests Commerce Commission fixing the amount it can receive from the D. L. & W. and the L. & N. W. as its proportion of a through rate. The ruling of the commission was that while the through rate was not excessive, the rate allowed to the minor railroad was more than was matified by the service rendered. In the appeal that is now on orbaic in right of the commission to make each a ruling is brought the question.

WASHINGTON, Nov. E. The names of Germany's first victims in

The hames of Cernany's first victims in land warfare against American forces ware announced by the War Department today. Three men were killed, five wounded and twelve taken prisoner in a raid by German troops against a salient held by American troops before daylight November 2. The first battle in which American soldiers took part was staged in the region of the Rhine-Marne canal. The Americana noiding the trench sallent were cut off from re-enforcements or the possibility of retroct by a murderous barrage fire from the German batteries. The losses to the German force were not known to the War Depart-ment today. One wounded German was

When the official announcement came out that "three Americans are dead, five wounded and twelve missing" in the Bret actual meeting with the Germans, a thrill vent through the whole country.

went through the whole country.

Immediately the War Department was besieged with inquiries from anxious homes as to the names of those loss. The news brought to America its first distinct appreciation that her part in the great world struggle is not to be a bloodless one—that henceforward the cables are certain to bring more and more frequently the message that American soldiers have died in bitter fighting.

With the word of captured Sammees on the French front, the Red Cross immediately hastened plans for rushing food and other supplies to the American prisoners through a committee just established in Berns. Switzerland.

No word in Pershing's statement indiwhat was the extent of the Americates what was the extent of the came, cans' part in the fighting. An ordinary trench salient holds between twenty-five and thirty men, so it would appear the little force of Sammees was virtually wiped out
