

APPARENTLY HOPELESS PLOT OF GROUND, SEEN BY A DREAMER, NOW IS FINE GOLF COURSE

PHILADELPHIAN SPENDS FORTUNE ON BIT OF CANVAS; TWO OTHERS PAY KING'S RANSOM FOR GOLF COURSES

Clubs, Newspapers and Golfers Doing Work for War Relief Fund That Should Have Been Done by National and Local Associations

ONCE upon a time a Philadelphian started the world by purchasing one of the world's masterpieces for a half-million dollars. One of these days it will probably be shown in that new art gallery which the city contemplates building on the Parkway.

Once upon a time a Philadelphian who realized that golf is impossible in a great measure around Philadelphia from December to April, and who did not see the necessity of going south for golf during the winter months, conceived the idea of finding some place within less than an hour's ride from Philadelphia where it would be possible to play golf the year round.

To most men it looked like a hopeless proposition, but his were the eyes of a dreamer and he could visualize in it one of the finest golf courses in the world. So one day, with some of his friends, he visited the property. It was an almost impossible task to walk over the property, but out of the dream rose the reality.

ONCE upon a time a Philadelphian conceived the idea of having the finest golf club house in the world and of having a course where at all times it would be possible for men to play without being handicapped by a congested course.

Spends $600,000 on His Golf Hobby. Like the other Philadelphian, he did not call upon any one for help. He dug down in his pockets, bought the property and began constructing the course and the clubhouse.

Neither of the last mentioned Philadelphia millionaires worried at any time whether they were going to have members. If you had asked either of them if he expected to get his money back he would probably have said that he did not know and did not care.

IF YOU want to see the painting some time in the distant future you may be able to see it. If you want to belong to either golf club you can be a member if you do not wait too long for comparatively little money.

THE U. S. G. A. and the Relief Fund. MOST golfers believe the United States Golf Association made a mistake when the officials went to Washington last winter and had a talk with Secretary of War Baker and then came home and announced that it was the wish of the War Department that no championships should be held.

WITH the exception of the patriotic tournament and the few tournaments held by the local association, nothing has been done to get up tournaments for the benefit of the war fund. The EVENING LEADER, through the courtesy of the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club and Messrs. Evans, Maxwell, Buxton, Barnes and Loos, has staged two important tournaments for war relief, and these have netted nearly $1000.

ALL over the country there have been exhibition matches for the Red Cross and the Soldiers' Tobacco Fund. Evans himself has played in fifty-one of these. Barnes has played in fifteen. And of the hundred or more that have been played all over the country only three have been held in this city and in not one of them has the Golf Association had the slightest thing to say.

WHERE National Body Slipped Up. AND the Soldiers' Tobacco Fund. Evans himself has played in fifty-one of these. Barnes has played in fifteen. And of the hundred or more that have been played all over the country only three have been held in this city and in not one of them has the Golf Association had the slightest thing to say.

NEW Jersey to Fore With Fine Courses. WHEN we made sport of the New Jersey clubs, by those days are gone. Think of our finest course and we immediately recall Pine Valley. Then there is the Country Club of Atlantic City. Riverton has just opened with promises to be one of the best courses in this section of the country.

EDDIE MAHAN WILL PLAY. A cloud of secrecy was thrown over the parade grounds of the Philadelphia Navy Yard this morning when Bob Folwell, coach of the University of Pennsylvania football eleven, took charge of Captain Hogan's United States Marine football squad.

USACE Stars Out of Game. The Usace ran against a snag yesterday when it was found that Mike Murphy and Jack Dunn, the two first-string pilots, are out of the game possibly for the remainder of the season.

AND there is always the South. Below the Mason and Dixon line it will be possible to find scores of excellent courses, and lucky is the man who finds that he can afford to take his vacation some time between the New Year and the first of April. We hear a lot about being true America first.

SUNNY SOUTH HAS DEMONSTRATED THAT ITS ELEVENS CAN COPE WITH THOSE NORTH OF MASON-DIXON LINE

Vanderbilt, Virginia and Georgia Tech Have Shown Yale, Navy, Indians and Penn That South Has the Goods in Football

By GRANTLAND RICE Over the Top

Yes, it's a fight— But on by the Shadows and out through the Night! Taking the Break of the Game as it cracks, Head up and ready for counter-attacks! Soaking up Sorrow and Pain as we go, Crashing through Trouble and Heartache and Woe, Knowing that Fate, through the length of its span, Never has beaten a good Fighting Man.

Yes, it's a scrap— But the far line is ready to fill up each gap! Knowing that life has emerged from the gleam Of softness and slumber that leads to a Dream. Heads up and ready to travel the road, Hoosever weary the burdening load, Heads up and ready for whatever's due, Pulling together and seeing it through! Playing the game to the end of the row, Set for the scrimmage with blow against blow! Raw Nerve's the Reaper that harvests this crop— Heads up and ready—and Over the Top!

Southern Machines. GEORGIA TECH'S great 1917 strength might be employed to call attention to the fact that the South has at one time or another sent more than one powerful eleven to the field—especially powerful when it is considered that virtually no southern squad has more than 500 or 600 men to draw from.

HERMAN DEFEATS FRANKIE BURNS. Bantamweight Champion Too Fast and Too Young for Challenger. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6. Pete Herman, the bantamweight champion, won the decision over Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, in a twenty-round bout here last night.

PHILA. GUNNER FIRST TO USE CAMOUFLAGE ON WILY DUCKS. We hear a lot about camouflage and law violation, and these terms have become very popular since the big war started; but there is a Philadelphian, who twice won the national trapshooting championships, who could have given the big war chiefs pointers on these things years ago.

HUGGINS, AS 'PROCTOR,' WAS INTERSTATE STAR. At That Time Was Student at University of Cincinnati and Playing Under Alias. "Dopesters" have lost a chance to pick up a few stray dollars because of the fact that they have been unable to present to the fan public the playing record of Miller James Huggins, new Yankee manager, when he was a member of the Mansfield, O., team of the Interstate League in 1899.
