Twice in the Wrong

Answers. He—Well, I admit I made a mistake. She—You made two. He—What was the second? She—Owing up to the first.

Just Landed

Maud—Charley is so poetical. When I accepted him he said he felt like an immigrant entering a new world. Ethel—Well, there's sense as well as poetry in that. Wasn't he just landed?

Considerate

London Opinion. Obliging Seaside Cabman—Shall I put that bag on the front, mum? Old Lady—No, thank you. Your poor horse doesn't look very strong, and he's a lot to drag, so I'll just take the bag on my knees.

THE PADDED CELL

NOT A CHANCE!

HELLO, HARPER, DEAR! DID YOU HAVE A GOOD TIME?

HAYWARD

Equally Advantageous

Aged Admirer—Think of all the luxuries a rich husband like me can give you. Miss De Young—Oh, a rich father would do just as well. MARRY my mother.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says the news encourages her to believe that before long Germany will strain under the crack, if we'll excuse her baseball slang.

Busy

"Is Mr. Fludub busy?" asked the diffident customer. "Mr. Fludub is always busy," replied the pompous attendant. "Well, let him stay busy." "And that's how Mr. Fludub lost a big order."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Course we're awful sorry you can't go with us, Ed, but of course if your mother won't let you go, why of course I s'pose you can't—

Charlie Thom's gonna take his 22 on Jim Wood's gonna bring his six rifle an' we're a-gonna cook our dinner—

Now, boys, run along, Edwin can't go with you today. Some other time he may—he has to help me today—

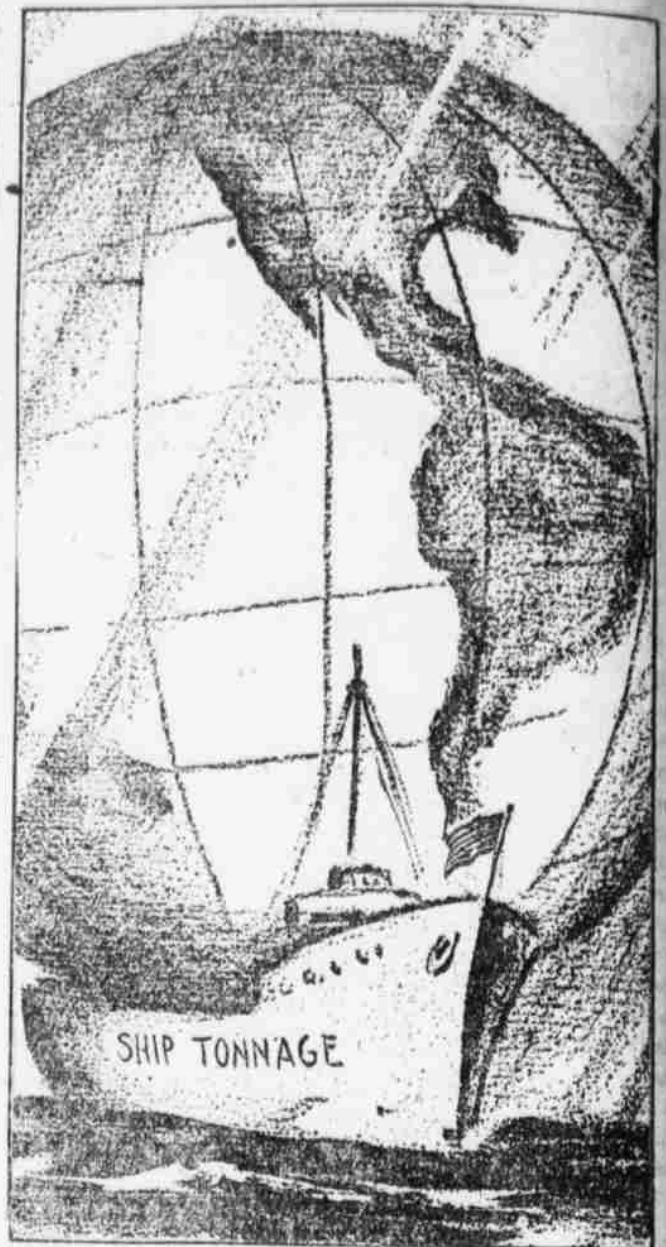

My goodness! I don't see how so much loot gets into this pipe! No wonder I can't bake! Daddy must simply quit using oil to build the fires with!

That was the happy day—
