

HAIG FIGHTS WAY AHEAD ON PASSCHENDAELE LINE

USAACS MARCH UPON FRANKLIN FIELD TO CHEER THEIR CHAMPIONS

MILE GAINED BY BRITISH IN NEW ATTACK

Launch Savage Assault North of Passchendaele

"GOOD PROGRESS," HAIG ANNOUNCES

Second Drive of Week Directed at Westroosebeke Positions

TO CLEAR ENTIRE RIDGE

LONDON, Nov. 10. In stormy weather at dawn this morning Field Marshal Haig again set his great attacking war machine in motion for a drive north and northwest of Passchendaele.

"Good progress" in the new attack was reported in the British commander-in-chief's report.

A dispatch from the front says the British drove their wedge nearly a mile farther into the German positions out of Passchendaele.

As the dispatch was filed, Haig's victorious troops were reported to have achieved all their objectives. A dozen strong fortified farms have been overrun by the British attacking waves. Vigorous fighting was reported all along the line of the advance.

The pressure of Haig's push is shoving the Bavarians gradually off all the ridges. They were resisting violently but unsuccessfully.

The drive today is the second this week which the British have directed at the last remaining hold of the enemy on the Passchendaele ridge. The direct objective of both of these thrusts is Westroosebeke, lying at the extremity of the high ground and commanding the lowlands north to Roulers.

The first report from Field Marshal Haig did not specify the extent of the front over which his attack was made. The previous drive this week was across a comparatively restricted area and swept the Canadians into Passchendaele.

The Germans failed to make a single counter-attack to this blow, despite the fact that captured Germans declared Hindenburg had ordered the raking of Passchendaele at all costs. The enemy lines were pulverized by the tremendous British fire and unable to re-form for an attack.

With today's smash, Haig has been borne ahead in the Ypres sector since September 21. This is his ninth general assault against the enemy's lines. Every previous blow has been powerful enough to advance the British lines materially—and this despite the fact that Crown Prince Rupprecht massed his picked Bavarian troops to oppose the Tommies.

Roulers is the ultimate objective of the British onslaught. With this city in British hands one of the main lines of German communications to the coast submarine bases of Zeebrugge and Ostend would be severed. Roulers lies five miles beyond Passchendaele.

PARIS, Nov. 10. Raging activity and artillery firing on both sides was all the War Office reported today. Northwest of Rheims German raids failed. On the right bank of the Meuse, in Champagne Wood, the enemy continued his artillery fire on the last few days.

In Alsace, northwest of Senones and east of Seppois, the French carried out successful raids.

TEUTONS TAKE ASIAGO; REACH BANK OF PIAVE

Austro-German Drive From Dolomites Menaces Italian Left Wing

ALLIES AWAIT BATTLE

BERLIN, Nov. 10. German-Austrian troops have reached the Piave River line.

The War Office announcement today said: "The allies (Austria and Germany) have reached the Piave from Susegana downward as far as the sea."

"Asiago has been taken," the War Office asserted.

Asiago, in the province of Vicenza, is the chief town of the district termed the "Seven Communes." It has a population of about 2,000. It is twenty-two miles north of Vicenza. The town was taken by the Austro-Hungarian forces in their big Trentino drive of 1916, but they were later forced back into the Dolomite Alps. Its capture by the German-Austrian army menaces the Italian left flank on the Piave.

Susegana is approximately thirty-one miles from the Adriatic coast and on the main railway to Treviso. It is nearly a mile distant from the Piave River itself.

A crowd of 20,000 witnessed this attack, which the battle lines are now drawn for the great battle which may decide the fate of Venetia. As the River Piave runs, this line probably extends over a front of more than fifty miles.

ROME, Nov. 10. The Italian rear guard, occupying the invading Austro-German forces by blowing up the bridges across the Piave, according to the official statement from the War Office today. The zone of activity was from Susegana to the sea.

The Italian forces, having carried out a systematic retreat from the Isonzo front, are in battle formation today on the west bank of the well-fortified Piave River.

With them are the Franco-British troops, with all added stores of supplies, munitions and heavy guns, are ready to participate in the final battle.

MURPHY KICKS TWO GOALS FOR USAACS

Star Quarterback's Toe Gives Ambulance Boys Lead Over Marines

FARRELL SCORES 6 POINTS

FRANKLIN FIELD, Nov. 10.—The accurate toe of "Mike" Murphy in the first period of the big game between the Ambulance eleven and Eddie Mahan's Marines here this afternoon enabled the contingent from Allentown to lead at the end of the second period.

On the first occasion Murphy dropped back to the 29-yard line and sent it squarely between the uprights. Five minutes later he dropped one over from a 25-yard line without effort.

A crowd of 20,000 witnessed this attraction between the two strong services. Mahan was unable to do much, the injury to his leg keeping him much in the background. He took no chances on line smushing and only did the kicking for his team.

Brewer helped to keep the ball in the Marines' territory with his brilliant runs around the end, while Cramer smashed his way through the line for repeated big gains. Farrell went over for a touchdown in the second period and Murphy kicked the goal. Score, 13 to 0 in favor of Usaacs.

FIRST PERIOD Mahan for the Marines and Johnson for the Usaacs tossed the coin for the kick-off at 1:15. The Marines won the toss and they chose to kick off, defending the east goal. A light breeze was against them.

Mahan kicked off to Brewer, who ran the ball back to midfield, where Eddie nailed him. Brewer took the ball twice in succession without gaining a yard. On the fourth down a fumble cost the Usaacs 10 yards. They punted to the Marines' 25-yard line and Mahan brought it back 15 yards. Paacock tore off 8 yards on the next play.

Mahan went through center for 5 yards, but the Marines were penalized 15 yards for holding. Ball on Marines' 25-yard line. On the third down, with 17 yards to gain, Mahan punted to the Usaacs' 45-yard line. Brewer dodged back 10 yards and then went through center for a yard. He took the ball once more around left end for 4 yards. Murphy, the Usaacs' quarter, then went around right tackle, but was downed without gain.

Murphy punted to the Marines' 18-yard line. Gravy Williams' sweater was torn off his back and there was a ball white he changed it. The Usaacs rosters whiffed.

4TH WARD CASE FAILS TO PROVE BALLOT FRAUD

Contention of Votes Illegally Thrown Out Not Yet Sustained

WILL FIGHT TO THE END Organization's Effort to Prevent Opening Boxes in Election Court Is Defeated.

Opening of the ballot-box of the third division, Fourth Ward, did not sustain the Town Meeting party's contention in its petition filed in the election court today that twenty-three ballots had been emitted from the count because they were marked with crosses for the Town Meeting ticket and also for District Attorney Rotan unopposed Organization candidate for re-election.

Of the twenty-three ballots discarded by the election board of the division, eight were Democratic, nine Republican and the remainder for Socialist and other minor tickets. In addition, eight others—four Town Meeting and four Republican—were found to have been illegally marked but cautions. In all of the cases, according to the evidence, the voter had marked his party square with a cross and then automatically violated his own ballot by voting also for a candidate of another party.

Before the ballots were examined by counsel, Judge Martin called attention to the fact that the returns before the court showed the highest vote to be sixty-two for Kendrick, while the Town Meeting vote was forty-six straight. The ballots taken from the box showed the same figures. There were sixty-two straight Republican votes, no Democratic and forty-six for the Town Meeting party. In addition to these were the eight tickets marked for the Town Meeting party, together with markings for the candidates in the Republican ticket.

When all the ballots had been examined it was agreed that of the sixty-two Republican ballots, four should be thrown out and a like number from the fifty-one Town Meeting ballots. This would leave fifty-eight Republican and forty-seven Town Meeting ballots. When this was conceded by both sides, the court directed the election officers to make a recount and a corrected return in an ante-room.

AGAINST FULL INSPECTION Henry J. Scott next made a motion that permission be granted to examine the voters' check lists and check stubs returned to the County Commissioners or to the Proprietary's office in all of the 1345 divisions throughout the city.

Congressman Scott immediately objected that to allow such a thing would be without precedent. If it could be permitted at all, he contended, it could only be after the court had completed the count, when all such papers became public records, open to public inspection, but to allow them to be handled by irresponsible persons before the count had been taken would be an unheard-of proceeding.

Mr. J. Scott said he meant that the Town Meeting party should be permitted to examine the voters' check list and the stubs in each division after each division had been passed by the court.

John R. K. Scott opposed the granting of such permission. At his suggestion the court directed Henry J. Scott to prepare a petition to explain why he should have the right to file an answer. The court will then consider the matter.

ALLEGED ERROR IN SEVENTH WARD Attention of the court was called by Attorney William T. Connor to a mistake in the fourth division of the Seventh Ward, which had alleged to explain an error.

Mr. Connor said that the returns from this division showed a uniform vote of thirty-five for the Town Meeting candidates, with the exception of candidates Armstrong and Smith, who were each given thirty-four additional votes. Mr. Connor said this was a palpable mistake and he asked that the election board be sent for and allowed to explain how it occurred so that the matter could be corrected.

Judge Martin directed that the election officers be sent for. The count was then resumed with the calling of the Fourteenth Ward.

ORDER BALLOT-BOX OPENED After a long argument by counsel of the Republican organization, Judges Finletter and Martin ordered the ballot-box of the third division of the Fourth Ward opened in court. When this announcement was made John R. K. Scott, counsel for the Republican party, said the Court had no authority to open the box.

"If there is no error in the box," countered Henry J. Scott, counsel for the Town Meeting party, "why contend against opening it? Let the box be produced. Let it speak for itself."

"Proceed with the hearing and open the box," cried Judge Finletter. The box was brought before the Court and opened by Sol Rains, superintendent of elections, in the Proprietary's office.

In his argument against opening the ballot-box, Representative Scott quoted the election laws, asserting that the box had been sealed by law and could not be opened in the election court. He pointed out that such procedure would enable the election court to open every one of the more than 1300 ballot boxes and thus virtually make a recount of the election, which, he said, was beyond the power of the court.

Representative Scott hinted his plea to keep the box closed on the fact that a qualified elector must petition for opening of the box and that he must produce evidence that there was mistake or fraud.

EVIDENCE IN THE BOX "The evidence is in the box," replied his opposing counsel, Mr. Scott. "The quickest way to find the proof is to open the box. The proper way to determine fraud or mistake is not by questioning the election officers who made the mistake."

Judges Finletter and Martin, after a conference, decided the box should be opened. "It cannot be opened, it is true, until—"
