Nancy Wynne Predicts Great Enthusiasm at Football Game Between Ambulance Corps and U.S. Marines This Afternoon

OF COURSE every one is excited to from Venice, where from 200 to 300 wounded are brought in pronklin Field this afternoon. In fact, has assumed such proportions it is ighly likely it will rival the former Army ighly akery in point of audience and

The same will be played between the dance corps of the University Hosital unit, now stationed at Allentown, and the United States marine corps, of League Island, and believe me, girls, it's to be some game!

Hope I'll see you there, for there I'll be, all right, my dears.

DERHAPS the sudden and unexpected wedding of Charlotte Rush and John Drayton might lead you to suppose there night be a slight hitch in the preparations for the Junior League jumble sale, but nothing like that will interfere with the energetic young workers. For Charlotte had everything so well organized on her committee, she is chairman of it all, you know, that the plans were virtually completed before she took this matrimosial plunge. Perhaps she will be here for the sale, but unless the Troopers have gone to France by then, I do not imagine she will leave Georgia.

The League, as I told you, will hold the sale for five days from November 27 to ecember 1. For those five days, the entire lower floor of the Penfield Building, which was formerly the Hale Building at the southwest corner of Juniper and Chestnut streets, will be transformed into a vertible department store and merchandise of every description in the nature of cast-off articles of use no longer to their eriginal owners, but of much use to others, will be sold by a targe number of Junior Leaguers and their friends.

Those who will have charge of the different departments include Mrs. Joseph Thayer, who will sell men's clothing, assisted by Jean Thompson, who will then be Mrs. Edmund Thayer; Dorothy Newbold, Mrs. Rowland Evans and Mrs. Fenno Hoffman. Women's clothes will be sold by Mrs. Eustis Payne, Helen Tower and Marion Taylor, while Gertrude Heckscher will have charge of the hat departnent. Nancy Reath will be in charge of the books, and Mrs. David Lewis the

An attractive floral booth will be under the direction of Emily Fox. Light refreshments will be served by Mary Newbold, assisted by Rachel Baker and Isabel Howell, while a barrel of chestnuts, at ten cents a grab, will be dispensed by Cecily Barnes.

The committee on ways and means indudes Gwen Martin, Dorothy Newbold, Charlotte Brown and Sara Nellson.

A NOTHER engagement announced yes-A terday was that of Margaret Newold Smith and Tommy Hart. Margaret Smith is barely eighteen and was to have been introduced this season, had not the dreadful accident which deprived her of her step-father, and so badly injured her mother, as well as the war times, put the puestion of debut out of the running. You remember Mr. and Mrs. Adams were notoring near Cape May Court House and were run into by a railroad train. Mr. Adams was instantly killed and Mrs. Adams so badly hurt it was reported at first that she was also killed. With great care she was brought back to life and is sble now to walk out a little each day. Her escape was positively miraculous.

Her first husband was the late Harry Smith, whose daughter Margaret is. Tommy Hart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hart, and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is at present in Augusta with the First City froop, of which he is a member. Nothing has been said about an early wedding

THERE is nothing to incite people with patriotism like having some one direct from the front tell of his or her personal experiences. Of course, we read in newspaper and magazine articles every day of the atrocities that are being perpetrated abroad, but it really doesn't come home to us until one of our own boys goes over the top, or we hear with our own ears from friends who have come back full of horrors that they have seen and experienced.

There was no one, I believe, who went me on Thursday after hearing Signora azzuchi speak at the meeting of the Tomen's Emergency Aid, of Germantown, when its new headquarters was pened at the Fairfax Apartments, School use lane and Wayne avenue, who didn't have a wild desire to go right out and do everything possible to help her in her wonderwul work in the hospitals on the Italian battlefront. As she said last rening in her forcible speech at the Rift-Cariton, "We've got to fight, and by Jove we'll fight together to keep any amn German from setting a foot on this When the war broke out she as in France, and while working there in a British ambulance corps was made member of the Legion of Honor because of her splendid work.

Some of our brave, undoubtedly admirable, but undenlably new, officers and privates do make some funny mistakes at times. Most of them have never guarded anything more important than their self control, and they can't quite get used to sentry duty, no matter how well they realize the seriousness of it all. I have been told that at a certain camp there is a farm near the barracks, separated by a high hedge from the actual camp grounds. At night when a soldier is on guard and hears a prowler, his orders are to command a "Halt" in no uncertain tones, until he discovers "who goes." After three unsuccessful attempts he practices safety first and shoots. Well. naturally when there's a hedge between you and the prowler and said prowler sounds large and mysterious and close at hand, and absolutely refuses to answer your hail, you're not going to warn him about it before you shoot, so several innocently wandering cows have been rudely disturbed in their peaceful chawing by shouting boys and shooting guns.

The other night, though, one lonely guard heard a strange sound, hailed it and received no answer. Again he sent forth his snappy, "Who goes?" and the intruder merely stepped softly in his direction. Panic stricken, he "upped" with his gun, and as he let forth his voice again a disdainful sniff answered him, and out from the shadows came a collie puppy wagging a friendly tail and sniffing kittenishly. Dropping on one knee beside the dog, the gallant sentry put both arms around his neck and hugged him, murmuring "You wouldn't hurt poor Jimmle would you?" NANCY WYNNE.

REQUIRE 750,000 CARS TO MOVE POTATO CROP

Greatest Ever Raised in the Country-453,000,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—According to hairman Fairfax Harrison, of the rail-Chairman Fairfax Harrison, of the rail-roads' war board, the railroads will need 750,000 cars to handle this year's potato crop, the greatest crop ever raised in the untry. In asserting that it will take April 1 to move the entire crop, Mr. Harrison said.

"The railroads are now moving what promises to be the biggest potato crop in the history of the country.

"This crop, which it is estimated will total approximately 453,000,000 bushels, or half again as much as last year, has been on the way since the middle of September. The movement of it will continue until about April 1 next year.

"Reports received by the commission on car service indicate that even with intensive loading more than 750,000 cars will be needed to handle the potato crop."
