

WHAT PHILADELPHIA AND ITS SONS AND DAUGHTERS ARE DOING TO "SPEED UP THE WAR"

WELCOMES GIFTS OF WOOL FOR RED CROSS
Miss B. E. Phillips, one of the diligent workers at the 608 Chestnut street headquarters, impresses on visitors the need for knitting materials.

"WHAT ARE YOU DOING FOR OUR SAMMES' COMFORT?"
These are not the words but the substance of the appeal of Mrs. E. Kelly, another of the Red Cross workers at the 608 Chestnut street headquarters. She is displaying a pair of comforters for the feet of a wounded soldier.

FIRST OF THE Y. M. C. A. HUTS COMPLETED AT UNION LEAGUE
The little red triangle booths are the rendezvous of energetic collectors for the $35,000,000 war fund, who have helped carry Philadelphia's contribution beyond the million mark.

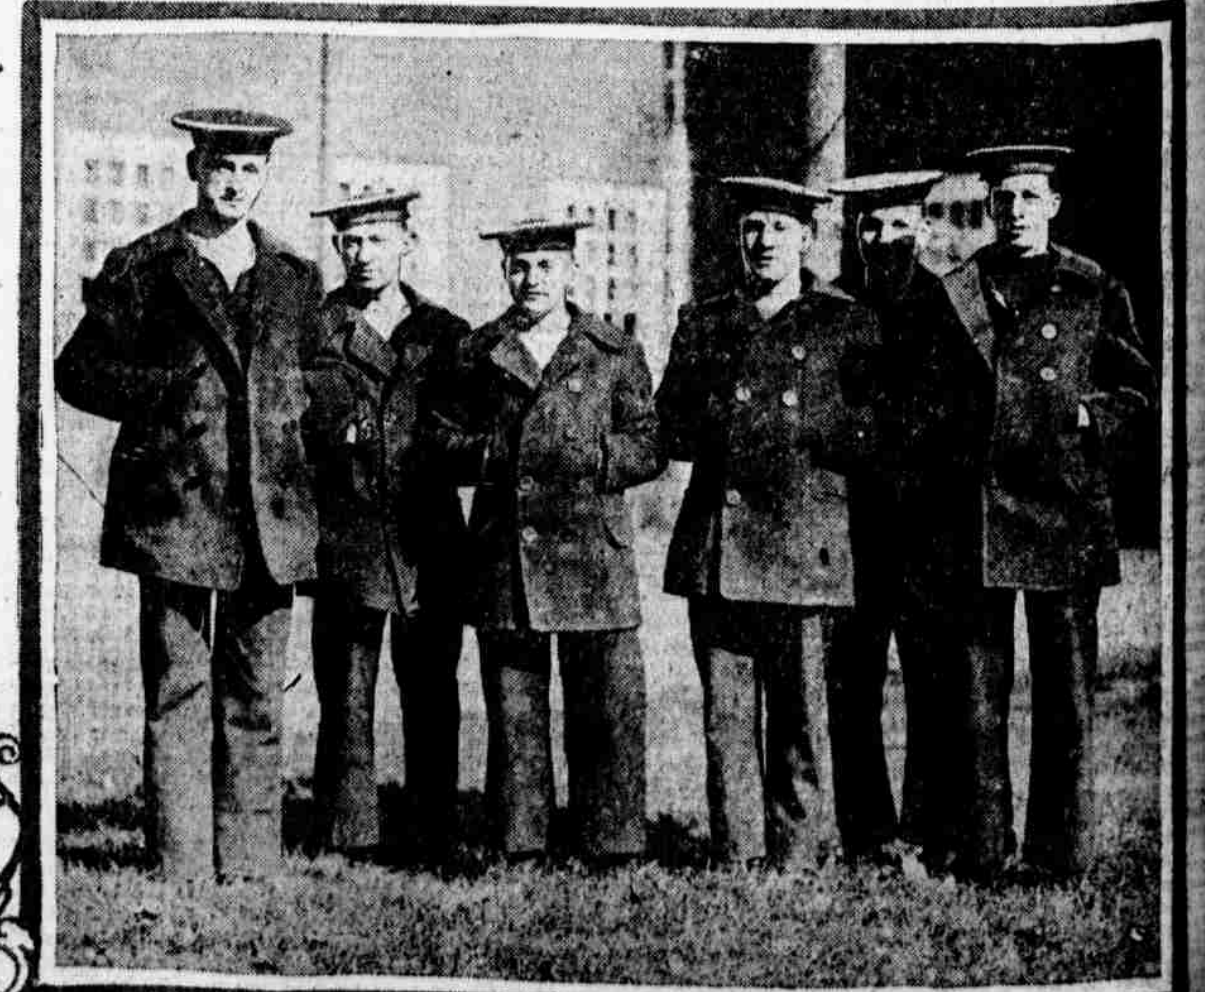

CANADIAN OFFICER AIDS Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN
Lieutenant H. B. Pepler, of the Nineteenth Canadian Infantry, who is attached to the British Recruiting Mission here, speaks daily from the booth in front of the Girard Trust Company.

WHENEVER YOU FIND A MINUTE TO SPARE—KNIT!
This girl stenographer utilizes her idle moments in a Philadelphia business house to work on some useful article for a Sammie. Her employers approve of her patriotism.

OFFICERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA BATTALIONS WHICH HAVE RESUMED DRILLS
Nearly 1000 students have responded to the call and are being instructed by Major Charles T. Griffith. Left to right: First row, Majors Steiner and ... second row, Captains Radisill, Wassermann, Slagle, Arend, Buehler and Giescke; third row, First Lieutenants Schwartz, Dunkum, Eble, ... fourth row, Captains McCarty and ...

WIDELY KNOWN ATHLETES LEAVE FOR RADIO SCHOOL
All six of them have been detailed to Harvard for instruction. Left to right, Jim Pettit, stroke on the Malta Boat Club crew; Jack McDermitt, Mercerburg Academy football team; Sam Ewing, Vesper Boat Club; Lawrence Hamilton, Philadelphia Swimming Club; Ed Borden, Mercerburg Academy football team; and ...