Nel Settore tra le Vallate del Brenta e del Piave Infuria un Violento Combattimento

ROMA, 23 Novembre.

Delle notizie pervenute dalla fronte di battaglia si apprende che i disperati attacchi condotti dalle forze austro-tedesche contro le posizioni italiane tra i fiumi Brenta e Piave, sono stati brillantemente respinti dalla Quarta Armata Italiana...

La stampa italiana in generale fa le più ottimistiche previsioni commentando la presente situazione alla fronte italiana...

Con la strepitosa vittoria riportata dagli inglesi in Francia, contro i tedeschi, gli invasori teutonici in Italia vedono indebolire i loro sforzi per spezzare le linee italiane...

I tedeschi continuano i bombardamenti giorno e notte e durante gli intervalli lanciano all'assalto truppe in massa.

Sull'altipiano di Asiago le linee italiane in alcuni punti sono state abbandonate, ma le principali posizioni sono saldamente mantenute dagli italiani...

Gli austro-tedeschi hanno ricevuto sul Tavo Piave dei forti rinforzi ottenendo così una superiorità numerica sopra gli italiani...

Un certo numero di ambulanza della Croce Rossa Americana sono ieri passate per il quarto generale italiano, diretta alla fronte della Piave.

Germans Hurl Fresh Troops Against Haig

Quant switch, one of the chief supporting lines of defenses to the northern end of the Hindenburg line.

The minute care and painstaking attention to detail of the British staff were made increasingly apparent today. Semi-officially dispatches, for instance, told of new records made in highway and railway building by engineers in keeping up the constant flow of munitions and supplies to the rapidly advancing troops.

HEAVY BRITISH ATTACKS COLLAPSE WITH LOSSES, SAYS GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN (via London), Nov. 23.

Further attacks by British forces yesterday around Cambrai and Meuse were reported in today's official statement. The enemy made the assaults several times around Fontaine, the War Office said. Villages of Laiole and the wood had been stormed and cleared of the enemy.

This would mean about 100,000 infantry and 15,000 cavalry were included in the British forces.

HAIG SWITCHES ATTACK, GAINS ON YPRES FRONT; FRENCH DEFENSE FIRM

LONDON, Nov. 23.

Field Marshal Haig switched his battering rams to the Ypres sector last night. Today he reported his troops had advanced the line slightly last night south-east of Ypres.

German counter-attacks against positions newly won by the French attack on the eastern end of the Chemin-des-Dames were all repulsed, today's official statement asserted.

BRITISH BATTLE LOSSES FEWER THAN PRISONERS TAKEN IN GREAT ATTACK

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Nov. 23.

The British victory means the war has entered a new stage. It is war by machinery. It was machinery which won the great stroke against the Hindenburg line.

pended that a modern army has ever won. Foremost in the array of mechanism with which Haig clinched his victory was the tank.

It was machinery which won the great stroke against the Hindenburg line. It was machinery which permitted the cheapest victory in actual cost of ammunition expended that a modern army has ever won.

British officers estimated today that lack of any dramatic preparatory shelling had been averted at Cambrai. All declared that virtually all the food they had eaten in months had been that furnished by the American Relief Commission.

FRIENDLY FOG HELPS FOILS TO WIPE OUT SALIENT NEAR LAON

By W. S. FORREST

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Nov. 23.

A friendly fog, which steamed an opportunity, gave French troops a chance for a surprise blow Wednesday night.

The attack was against the eastern end of the Chemin des Dames, south of Juvencourt. The French advance, it was established today, captured the last of the enemy observation points in the Chemin des Dames sector.

It did not make any difference to the French artillery. Promptly on the minute previously set for the attack the guns ceased their desultory barking and started on a violent drumfire.

The British victory means the war has entered a new stage. It is war by machinery. It was machinery which won the great stroke against the Hindenburg line.

TEUTON PRESS IGNORES GREAT CAMBRAI DEFEAT

THE HAGUE, Nov. 23.

The British victory on the Arras front and the French victory on the Aisne River front were passed over almost in silence by German newspapers, according to a dispatch from the frontier today.

by German newspapers, according to a dispatch from the frontier today. It states that, aside from publishing the official report of the German War Office, which minimized the Allied gains, the newspapers refrained from comment.

This was evidently due to censorship, as the papers failed also to publish Premier Lloyd George's recent declaration that five German submarines were sunk in a single day.

which will be fought by all the reserves of the Allies against all the soldiers the Central Empire can bring into action.

ITALIANS KILL COLONEL WHO ASKED SURRENDER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.

Now a detachment of Italian troops near by turned a trick against the Germans during an enemy advance in a battle in an official cablegram received today from Rome. An enormous motorcade bearing the imperial German eagle arrived near Gato, where an Italian automobile with a machine gun was stationed.

A voice from the German car ordered the Italians to surrender. They replied with their machine gun, killing the German driver and all the officers in the car, among whom was a colonel of the German staff.

Between the Brenta and the Piave the fighting is progressing favorably, today's official statement asserted.

Teutons Send Peace Offer to Petrograd
