

CALLS TROLLEY SYSTEM A "COMMON NUISANCE"

All Officers of Trenton Corporation Are Indicted by Grand Jury

TRENTON, Nov. 23.—Following disclosures of defective trolley service, made by the City Commission, criminal indictments charging maintenance of a common nuisance were returned against all officers and directors of the local street railway system by the Mercer County Grand Jury today.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Oscar T. Crosby, who is now representing Secretary McAdoo in financial matters in the American war board at Paris, is included in the list of indicted officials. Crosby came here in 1910 and leased all of the properties, bringing with him Rankin Johnson, who was represented as having come from the J. G. White Company and an expert trolley operator. At the same time, Crosby leased street railways in Wilmington and Chester from the same holding corporations that had been operating the local street railway lines.

Under the lease made by Crosby all of the interest charges on the then outstanding $2,300,000 of bonds was first to be paid out of the earnings, and in addition a graduated yearly rental which was finally to reach $150,000. The rental for the year is $110,000. The gross receipts reported to the State for the year ending May 1 last were $848,000.

There has been a continuous battle over the service for the last eight years, and numerous legal efforts have been made by the Crosby management to abolish the sale of six tickets for a quarter. As a result of the valuations offered by the trolley interests to the Public Utility Commission in their efforts to get permission to do away with the tickets, the local assessors doubled the street railway rates, and this action was sustained last Monday in the Supreme Court.

When the rates were raised the trolley set up in court that the valuations offered in the attempt to have the tickets discounted should not be considered for taxing purposes, and that for that purpose the property really had nothing more than a "junk" value.

MINE-GAS WASTAGE MAY BE HARNESSSED

Leaders in Anthracite Region Promise Governor to Try to Solve Problem

HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—How to save and turn to use the 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas that are being to waste daily in the anthracite coal field was the problem Governor Brumbaugh today put up to the representatives of all the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of the hard coal field assembled here at his call. Less important matters considered were the preservation of order in the mine localities during the war and the constant growing mine troubles in the cities in that part of the State are experiencing.

Governor Brumbaugh addressed the delegates to the number of a score or more in the executive chamber. He brought the subject of anthracite gas wastage immediately to their attention.

"William S. Thompkins, of Wilkes-Barre," he said, "has drawn to my attention that there is an estimated waste of 72,000,000 feet of gas in the hard coal regions every twenty-four hours, and it is for the purpose of endeavoring to find means to harness this tremendous power that I have called you together."

The Governor pointed out that this would add greatly to the fuel supply of the country, conserve coal and draw additional industries to the hard-coal regions. The problem is of such magnitude, the Governor said, that he thought it ought to have immediate attention of the concentrated thought and attention of all the people directly interested.

Incidentally, the Governor asked the representatives to see to it that order is maintained around the mines, and said that any person who tried to stir up trouble should be treated as a traitor. He regretted that the Legislature had left him no solution to the mine-gas trouble, but asked the organizations represented to give the matter their attention and submit remedies.

Following the address of the Governor those present held an informal conference at which Wm. S. Thompkins, Wilkes-Barre, was president; J. H. Lahn, Hazleton, acting as secretary.

While it was said that the loss of hard coal gas and the possibility of its conservation have been much discussed for years without a satisfactory solution having been reached, the representatives agreed to go home and stir up sentiment in their communities with the hope of finding some means of utilizing the waste.

Another meeting will be held early next week, possibly in Scranton, where the subject will be thoroughly discussed.

GOMPERS BACKS PLAN FOR 'FREE' GERMANY

Approves British Labor's Proposal of Political Offensive Against Kaiserism

BUFFALO, Nov. 23.—Unqualified approval of a "strong political offensive against Germany" advocated by the British labor leader, Arthur Henderson, last Wednesday, was voiced by President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, today.

He expressed the opinion that the rank and file of Germany's population is even now at heart strongly opposed to the Prussian yoke and hoping ardently for democratic freedom.

Gompers declared no one in the world would more quickly extend the hand of fraternity to the people of Germany than America's workers "when the German people are in command of their own destinies."

Like Henderson, he believes there are powerful influences at work carrying on the task of democratizing Germany. He urged American support of those influences and wishes them Godspeed.

Gompers expressed belief that "there are those in Germany who understand this issue between the principles of power and the principles of freedom."

Citing words of President Wilson as his authority, he declared that only upon the foundation of a thoroughly democratized America can a lasting peace, founded upon mutual respect and justice, be negotiated between the peoples of all countries.

Gompers' statement to the United Press was made following endorsement of his war policies by the rank and file of American organized labor in convention for the first time since war was declared.

"In official statements dealing with causes of the war, President Wilson has made it plain the war is not against the German people," said Gompers, "but against the imperial government dominated by Kaiserism."

"The German people, and particularly the German workers, are not adequately represented in that Government, nor are they accorded opportunities or agencies for the expression of their will."

"We feel sure that if the German people were untrammelled and could express their nature, the policies of the German Government would be fundamentally changed."

"We feel that democracy is the only true basis for relations between men, whether national or international."

"There are in Germany those who understand this issue between the principles of power and the principles of freedom, and it is our heartfelt hope that faithful leaders of humanity may do their work with such wisdom and effectiveness as to democratize German political institutions, making them responsive to the will of the German people made free."

"When the people of Germany are in control of their own destinies, no one will more quickly extend the hand of fraternity than America's workers."

"Then a lasting peace, founded on mutual respect and justice, can be negotiated between the peoples of all countries."

FIRE IN GLASS WORKS

Narrow Escapes Mark $1500 Blaze in Basement of Warehouse

The dense clouds of smoke which rose from the glass works of Gil & Co., at York and Thompson streets, when a fire started in the basement of the warehouse early this morning, resulted in a number of the residents of small houses nearby taking to the streets with their household possessions.

Mrs. Anna Horan, 81 years old, of 2311 Cabot street, who has lived for many years in the vicinity, was waiting up for her son when the fire broke out. The huge quantity of smoke gave her quite a scare, and she was only saved from a collapse when two of her women friends broke in the front door and helped her to the street.

Firemen were able to confine the flames to the warehouse, which was damaged to the extent of $1500. Adam Scheide, of Engine Company No. 29, had several fingers cut.

The Cudahy Packing Company, of Chicago, was charged with discriminating in prices charged different customers for "Old Dutch Cleaner." Those who maintained the resale price set by the company were given lower rates than jobbers refusing to abide by the resale price.

Both companies are given thirty days in which to reply to the commission's charges.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Colonel House and members of the American mission got quickly down to work on their arrival here today. Various individual members started conferences at once with French officials. Social engagements are not sought by the mission, which has already greatly impressed French officials with the energy and enthusiasm with which it is attacking the war work in front of it.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, will soon retire from that post because of ill health. On imperative orders of his doctor, Capps will take a complete rest, it was officially learned today.

Reports that another Denman-Goethals row impends between Capps and Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board, were denied at the Navy Department and at Hurley's office.

Patriotic devotion to the superhuman task of meeting submarine losses, it was stated, undermined Capps' already frail physique. Recently his doctor, after a careful examination, ordered Capps not only to give up Emergency Fleet work, but also
