Red Cross Plans Beautiful Celebration for Christmas Eve, Which Will End Week of Membership—Chestnut St. Opera House Opens

HAVE you heard of the beautiful Christmas idea of the American Red Cross? Well, it's very pretty and I hope will be followed out with a thought of the Star of Bethlehem back of the Red Crosses which are to decorate every one's front window. Sometimes, I think, in the hurly burly or working and rushing for this charity or that, perhaps some of us do not stop to think of our motives and to make those motives just as pure and high as they can be. If we do this and do the work first for God in our hearts, and second for country, we'll be storing up something worth while for the life on the other side of the river. How about it?

Well, the Christmas idea of the Red Cross is thus: That transparent service flags bearing the Red Cross emblem be placed in the windows of the various homes during the drive for membership in the association which will begin on December 17 and last till Christmas eve. The display of the flag in a window will mean that a person in that house is a Red Cross member.

Space is to be provided on the white field of the flag for additional emblems to indicate the number of members of the household who belong to the organization. Then stores, banks and manufacturing plants are also to be asked to display emblems which will show the full membership in respective establishments.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE local Red Cross chapters have been asked to suggest to members that a candle be lighted behind the flag in each window. It is also planned to ring the church bell chimes at intervals of a half hour through the evening till midnight, thus joining the celebration of the great day on which the Saviour was born with the work of His people for His other poor suffering wounded people, many of whom will be fighting on the very day of His birth.

Another beautiful Christmas idea proposed by the Red Cross is to have groups of the workers in each community march through different neighborhoods as the Waits of England, singing Christmas carols, all this as a fitting climax to the great membership drive. I must say I'm strongly for it. Aren't you? And today we have the much-talked of jumble sale, which is given under the auspices of the Junior League, and which will last through the four days of this week—that is, today, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. There will be no sale on Thanksgiving Day. It is to be held in the Penfield Building, at Juniper and Chestnut streets, and there will be a really truly Santa Claus on hand to talk with the juvenile visitors to the sale.

Many and valuable donations have been made. Just imagine it! An automobile and a gold watch! The watch has some history, too; the donor, plus the watch, saw service on the Mexican border, and the former owner is now wearing a military wrist watch and gave his gold one to the Red Cross; for the jumble sale, you know, is to be for the Red Cross.

Electric stoves and cash registers have been lent for the occasion and leading confectioners, druggists and various dealers in merchandise have made splendid donations. Really it's going to be very remarkable, I think. I expect to get there early for the bargains. Who knows but what you may see me later in the day all dolled up in some one else's last year's suit?

THE subscription list for the Saturday Club is growing steadily, more and more names coming in each day. It's natural that they should be coming in fast, as Mr. Roberts said early in the day that if he did not have enough to warrant a big subscription before the twenty-eighth of this month he'd call it off, and so rather than risk not having the series as planned for the "American Boys in France" the subscribers are hurrying along.

Some of whom I have not spoken before are Wistar Harvey, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mrs. Albert Rosengarten, Harry Belknap, Mrs. B. Campbell Mauleon, Miss Mabel Brice, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Boehman, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Berwind, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Fox, Mr. and Mrs. James Nobbs, of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wiedersein.

IT SEEMED most appropriate that one of Philadelphia's most famous playhouses, and one of its oldest, the Chestnut Street Opera House, entirely remodeled, renovated and modernized, should have been reopened to "legitimate" theatricals, musical plays and light opera, upon the eve, so to speak, of Thanksgiving.

For it was in that spirit that this city's theatre-going public welcomed the restoration of the Opera House to its former field, and very many prominent people were in the audience. Among those who witnessed the first-night performance of "You're in Love," which reopened the old house, were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Evans Roberts, Mrs. R. H. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. R. McBurney, Mrs. Robert Glendinning, Mr. Charles F. Johnston and a party; Mrs. Rodman Wister, Mrs. F. B. Hansom, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Stewart and several guests; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Huhn and a number of guests; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fitler, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Stout, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Townsend, Mrs. John Struthers, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Allman, Mrs. Henry Jeanes, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, Mr. J. L. Kothny, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Dolan, Mrs. Otto Elsenlohr, Mrs. Joseph Snellenburg, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Litt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snellenburg.

Many prominent theatrical men and women from New York came on to be present at the production last night.

Social Activities

The evening dancing class conducted by Miss Elizabeth Lockwood at the Philadelphia Cricket Club held its second meeting on Friday evening. The cotillon was led by Mr. Howard Dilker and Mr. James Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hookey announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Frances Hookey, and Lieutenant Edward P. Loughran.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Linton Alberger, of Germantown, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Price Alberger, and Mr. Paul Millman Hesser, Jr., on Saturday, December 8, at 8 o'clock, in St. Peter's Church, Germantown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carpenter Read, of 5105 Chester avenue, gave a dinner last evening in honor of the ninth birthday of their little daughter, Miss Margaret Dexter Read. There were eleven guests, including Dorothy Vandenbach, Elizabeth Schantz, Elizabeth Gilbert, Grace Bennett, Ethel Knight, Katherine Jones, Dorothy Watkins, Adlyn Sandes, Josephine Fulton, Harriet Crawford and Esther Stevens.

Among those who will take part in the "Point of View," which will be given this evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, at Thirty-eighth and Market streets, are Miss Mary F. Fletcher, Miss Margaret Coyne, Miss May V. Ford, Mr. J. H. Meiser, Mr. William A. Brinkburg, M. Joseph J. Barr, Jr., J. H. Laverty, Mr. Paul V. Allen, Mr. George F. Downes, Mr. E. J. Allen, Jr., Mr. John D. Deely and Miss Mary V. Callahan. The performance is for the benefit of the new school now being erected for St. Agatha's Church, and is under the direction of the Rev. John J. McMenamin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Betz, formerly of Wister Hall, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at a dinner party in their new home in Castle Valley. At the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Betz announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Caroline Marie Betz, and Mr. Charles P. Schmidt, of this city.

Miss Anne Townsend, of Logan, will entertain this evening at her home in honor of Miss Williams Corning, of Hazleton, Pa., and Miss Julia Gaither, of Baltimore, Md. Miss Downs will be Miss Isobel Wetherill, Miss Mallet-Prevost, Miss Katherine Davis, Miss Bessie Gratiot, Miss Winifred Middleton, Miss Eugenia Fogg, Miss Helen Hunterson and Miss Lilian Hunterson.

PLANS MADE FOR CHURCH BAZAAR

Presbyterian Guild of Lansdowne Meets at Luncheon to Discuss Annual Fair

The guild of the Presbyterian Church is planning to give a bazaar on December 6 at the church. This is an annual affair, and from the preparations that are going on here there are sure to be all sorts of nice things for sale this year. The women of the guild had their regular monthly luncheon last Wednesday. The luncheon committee for this month included Mrs. Frank H. Titus, Mrs. Andrew S. M. Young, Mrs. Howard W. Roberts, Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson and Mrs. George Ware. At the meeting which followed the luncheon plans for the bazaar were decided upon.

The meeting of the Century Club on Tuesday afternoon was unusually well attended. Mrs. Edward Mellinger gave her second talk on current events. She reviewed the war situations and gave a wonderfully clear picture of what is happening at the present time. Tea was served afterward by Mrs. Charles Mercer Bailey, the chairman of the hospitality committee; Mrs. J. Liddon Pennell and Mrs. Frederick J. Perry.

The junior section of the club had its meeting on Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse. A talk was given on the subject of music.

The Century Club has been having a series of dances, which will be continued throughout the winter. One is given every month, and they are informal family affairs, which members of both the older and the younger sets enjoy. Of course, one has to be invited by a club member. The next dance will be given tomorrow evening in the clubhouse. As that is the night before one of our national holidays, the hall will be decorated with flags and soft red, white and blue lights. There is a special committee for this dance, as the women want to make it the best one they have ever had. Mrs. Frank G. Burrows is chairman of the regular dance committee, of which the other members are Mrs. Charles Mercer Bailey and Mrs. Andrew S. M. Young. Mrs. Howard W. Read, Mrs. P. Marshall Johnson, Mrs. Edwin Greasley and Mrs. R. Hall Anderson are on the special committee.

There are a number of women who have recently joined the club. They are Mrs. Clarence H. Fox, Mrs. Walter L. Tindall, Mrs. Francis S. Meade, Mrs. Walter Bowers, Mrs. Clifford S. Parkinson, Mrs. Ralph Harp, Mrs. Louise van Zandt, Mrs. Harry Henry, Mrs. Ellis M. A. Carroll, Mrs. J. C. Meade, Mrs. H. Franklin Bush, Jr., Mrs. Isaac H. Adler, Mrs. James B. Rucker, Mrs. W. H. Rue and Mrs. William H. Bruce.

An interesting concert will be given in the town on Tuesday evening, December 18. Miss Marie Loughney will sing, Mr. Graham Harris will play the violin and Mr. Solon Rouhuson will be the pianist. Every one is looking forward to hearing these artists. They were the first three chosen in the national contest for young American artists, which was held last spring at Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Albert Wunderlich entertained about fifteen of her friends at her home last Monday afternoon. The guests were all busy crocheting afghans, which they are going to send to the French hospitals.

Several Lansdowne people have left town for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright are down in Deland, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehringer have also gone south.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Hill have taken an apartment in Philadelphia for the winter.

Mrs. Francis D. Maxwell was a delegate to the convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, which was held at Pittsburgh on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Mrs. Maxwell is financial chairman of the Woman Suffrage party of Delaware County and is a most enthusiastic worker.

SOLDIER-AUTHOR TO LECTURE

Arthur Guy Empey Will Describe Experiences in French Trenches

Sergeant Arthur Guy Empey, who wrote "Over the Top," will describe how he spent seventeen months in the first-line trenches in France as a member of a machine-gun company in the English army in the course of a lecture tonight at the Academy of Music.

Empey is invalided. Two bayonet wounds and a gash of the cheek sent him from No Man's Land into various hospitals. The proceeds of the lecture will be turned over to the fund being raised for the Y. M. C. A.

SATELLITES' HEAD ENLISTS

Harold J. Watson Becomes Member of U. S. Engineer Corps

Harold J. Watson, a member of the firm of George K. Watson, is the fourteenth member of the Satellites Club to enlist in Government service. For the last two years he has been president of the club and interested in all its activities. He is now a member of the 419th Depot Detachment, United States Engineers.

ENTERTAIN IN THANKSGIVING WEEK

Luncheon and Card Party in Roxborough—Willing Workers to Present "Kindergarten." Mothers Sew Stars on Service Flag

For the Roxborough and Manayunk Thanksgiving time there is always amusement aplenty. This week in the suburbs is the time of annual church bazaars, amateur dramatic entertainments and informal luncheons and dinners. Mrs. Clarence C. Keeney, of Harmon road, was hostess at a luncheon, followed by cards, yesterday. Her guests included Mrs. Robert Cade, Mrs. Howard Cade, Mrs. Jerome Schofield, Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, Jr., Mrs. William Deely, Mrs. Earle L. Spencer and Miss Gertrude Quinn.

An entertainment will be given on Thursday evening in the lecture room of the Wissahickon Methodist Episcopal Church by the members of the Willing Workers. The characters, which impersonate some of the games, will represent some children in the primary school. Kindergarten. Mrs. Mary Kurtz is directing the players, who include Miss George Cade, Mrs. Jacob Smith, Mrs. William Kalbfleisch, Mrs. James Fairhurst, Mrs. Stewart Robinson, Mrs. Roy Green, Mr. Hutchings, Mrs. Joseph Kuppes, Mrs. John Wesley, Mrs. Thomas Billingsley, Mr. George Hodson, Mrs. Joseph Mortimore, Mr. Beatty Cooling, Mr. William Eagles, Mr. C. Alfred Lucrick, Mr. Charles Price, Mr. William Andrews, Mr. Alexander Russell and Mr. George Ingram.

The Willing Workers presented two service flags to the church on Sunday, one with one star surrounded by the names of the soldiers and sailors from the church in the service of the country, the other with thirty-four stars. The former was unfurled from the lectern on Sunday afternoon, while the others, one the scout Sabbath Banner, and buglers and drummer boys took part in the exercises. The flag with the thirty-four stars will be hung in the pulpit. This was presented at the evening service by Mrs. George Cade, president of the Bible class, and was received by the pastor, the Rev. Frank M. Gray, who wore the uniform of the Y. M. C. A., as he has been present up with that work at the various camps. A pleasant feature of this flag was the sewing on of every star by a mother whose boy is on the roll of honor. Mrs. Margaret Smith sewed two stars, having a son in the army and one in the navy.

The Men's Bible Class, taught by Mr. Gary, keeps in touch with each of the thirty-four men and will remember each at Christmas. In the meantime writing paper, candy and tobacco have been sent to the various camps. William T. Ottinger is president; John C. Roop, vice president; Harry Ansbring, secretary, and Allen Wilson, treasurer. The names on the flag around the single star are Charles E. Booth, John G. Booth, William E. Taylor, Harry Chollerton, Horace M. Reed, Frank Smith, Fred Smith, George E. Davis, Norman L. Land, W. Ivan Ottinger, Harold J. McCabe, Charles Spencer, Raymond Mattis, Grant Johnson, W. J. Platt, Roy A. Wilson, Edmund S. Grimbrod, C. Wesley Wallace, Robert Wallace, Frederick H. Mitchell, Harold L. Rich, Leroy H. Koch, Stinnet Grandfield, Elmer J. Brehm, Clarence Hellings, Charles H. Runkle, Frederick Schwarz, George Tuscbary, Adolph A. Adams, Ralph W. Preston, J. Ellwood Myers, Gilmore Wasder, Carl Tucker and Walter Beckmann.

The American Bridge Company has 181 men serving in the army and navy in the United States, only one man, Robert Carlin, is in France, and a wonderful Christmas box has been sent to him by the employees. In the recent Y. M. C. A. subscription drive the employees gave $6269, to which sum the company added $3000, making $12,200 subscribed in honor of the men at the front.

The American Bridge Company's Club has arranged a series of informal dances to be given on Saturday evenings during the winter, at Woodvale, the clubhouse on Manayunk avenue, Wissahickon. The officers and board of directors of the club are Mr. C. Girard Haven Mulford, president; Mr. Raymond S. Page, vice president; Mr. Thomas Ogden, secretary; Mr. E. Hunter Lord, treasurer; Mr. William C. Levering, superintendent; Mr. James Hope, Mr. Charles Holt, Mr. Charles Parson, Mr. Claire T. Felton, Mr. Joseph Rose, Mr. W. Vernor Frame, Mr. Charles Melhorn, Mr. Horace Grundy and Mr. Wilbur P. Schofield.

St. John's Dramatic Company, which has aided so many worthy charities in this section by its productions, will present "The Governor's Son" on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening in St. John's Hall. This clever musical comedy has an excellent cast, a large chorus, an augmented

FIRST CONCERT OF SYMPHONY SOCIETY

Mr. Paul Volkman to Sing With Orchestra in Frankford Next Week

The people of Frankford are looking forward with keen pleasure to the first concert of the season to be given by the Symphony Society of Frankford on Friday, December 7, in the high school auditorium. The orchestra will be directed by Mr. Van den Beemt and Mr. Paul Volkman, the well-known tenor, will be soloist.

Miss Mabel Persel, of Frankford road and Orthodox street, is spending two weeks in New York visiting relatives.

For the first time in Frankford Maunder's famous cantata, "A Song of Thanksgiving," will be given by the combined choirs of the Burholme Lutheran and Orthodox Street Methodist Episcopal Churches on Thanksgiving night in the Orthodox Street Methodist Episcopal Church, at Orthodox street and Torresdale avenue.

Dr. H. C. Whalen will give a humorous lecture on "The Wit and Humor of the Irish People" on Friday evening under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood, at the Frankford Baptist Church.

Mrs. Henry Borneman has returned from a visit to Northampton, Mass., where her daughter, Miss Helen Borneman, is attending Smith College.

Miss Martland's aim is to have the Board of Education take over the Trade School and include it in the regular system of public education, and she has been putting forth her fullest endeavors to carry out this plan.

WAR WEDDINGS ON SATURDAY

Miss Gwendolyn Ball Will Marry Lieutenant Robert Beard, U. S. R., in Media

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ball, of Media, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gwendolyn Ball, and Lieutenant Robert Beard, U. S. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beard, of Germantown, who is expected to return from Fort Oglethorpe today.

The wedding will take place on Saturday in Christ Church, Media, at 3 o'clock. Miss Ball will have her cousin, Miss Rhoda Lee, of Yellowtown, N. J., as maid of honor; Miss Josephine Pilling, of Lansdowne, and Miss Catherine Clark Calver, of New York, as bridesmaids, and Miss Sarah M. Jack and Miss Mary Miller Jack as flower girls.

Lieutenant Beard will have his brother, Mr. John Beard, as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. William Beard, Jr., Lieutenant Arthur Sayre, Lieutenant Price Wetherill Janeway, Jr., Mr. Calvin Smythe, Jr., and Lieutenant Samuel W. Williamson.

As the arrangements have been made in such a short time, there will be no reception except a small one for the families of the bride and bridegroom at the home of the bride, but they will receive their friends after the ceremony in the Sunday-school room of Christ Church.

REPORT OF Y. M. C. A. COLLECTIONS

Women of Rydal Committee Collected at Railroad Stations Along the Reading

Last Monday the women of this section were asked to collect money at the railroad stations along the Reading for the Y. M. C. A. War Work Fund. Mrs. Robert Sewell, of Rydal, was in charge, and appointed her committee, and they in turn appointed many others who helped most enthusiastically in the work. The money collected has been turned over by Mrs. Sewell to the Drexel Company, treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. fund. The following report has been given by the committee:
