

WOMEN IN RAILROAD JOBS SOLVE GREAT WARTIME PROBLEM—OTHER NEWS PHOTOGRAPHS

WOMEN HAVE LONG SINCE PROVED THEIR WORTH AS TICKET AGENTS, BUT SIMILAR EMPLOYMENT BY A RAILROAD IS SOMETHING NEW

THESE INFORMATION CLERKS IN THE PITTSBURGH TERMINAL OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD ARE AMONG 5000 WOMEN EMPLOYED BY THAT SYSTEM

APPROXIMATELY 30 PER CENT OF PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD EMPLOYEES ON THE LINES EAST OF PITTSBURGH ARE WOMEN, AMONG WHOM ARE MANY BAGGAGE CLERKS

WALTER A. CRAIG, FORMER HALFBACK ON THE PENN VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM, AWARDED A LIEUTENANT'S COMMISSION AT FORT OGLETHORPE

NO PHYSICAL EXAMINATION DEMANDED IN THIS PLANT
Francis W. Mack, superintendent of the Haydon Carriage Bolt Factory, 304 North Twenty-second street, is the humanitarian employer of cripples. (See the story in Tom Daly's column.)

WILLIAM CARSON RHODES, TWENTY-FOUR YEARS OLD, OF GLEN RIDDLE, PA., YOUNGEST MAN TO RECEIVE A LIEUTENANT'S COMMISSION AT FT. OGLETHORPE

THE KNITTING FAD MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN ART CIRCLES
And sex is no excuse for not learning to ply the needles, as Samuel Hoffman (left) and Aurelius Renzetti and Paulette Van Rockins, their instructress, at the Pennsylvania Academy, will attest.

Photo from International Film Service.
A NEW PHOTOGRAPH OF LITTLE JACK DE SAULLES, INNOCENT CAUSE OF HIS FATHER'S SLAYING

RED CROSS WORKERS KNIT WHEN NOTHING ELSE PRESENTS ITSELF
These young women, Miss Catherine Coxe, on the left, and Miss Jeanne de Rousse, are indefatigable in their zeal to provide comforts for our Sammees overseas.