Armenian Benefit Meeting at Scottish Rite Hall. Bazaar at Suffrage Headquarters During the Week-Red Cross News

THERE are quite a few things doing tonight, and there were yesterday, too, for that matter. There's to be the big meeting for the Armenians this evening at Scottish Rite Hall and the Penn Charter play at the Bellevue-Stratford. And then last night there was the big rally of the National League for Women's Service at the Academy of Music and there was the Junior League luncheon at the Acorn Club. at which Mr. Francis Hackett, of the New Republic, talked on the "Oppressed English." Altogether, it's been almost as busy a week as if one had had a ball to go to every night instead of some interesting talk or bit of music.

DID it ever occur to you what a learned generation ours will be, especially now that we have cut down so much on dances and other ways of entertaining? We learn something new every day and hear the old things dressed up in new clothes, and we hear one man's theories and another man's proved stories, and now and again in between we hear some woman who has a message for us, until we all will be so full of knowledge I hope we won't burst.

DID you know they are having a sale all day and—well, no, not all night. but part of the evening-at the suffrage headquarters, 1721 Chestnut street? I think they speak of it as a bag sale, but goodness knows they have about everything else but the kitchen stove, so far as I can see. It opened on Wednesday and will keep up until tomorrow evening. They have clothes, pictures, jewelry, books, antiques, old silver, afternoon tea and all the other things which go to make up a successful sale. It's worth going to, really and it's under Dr. E. M. Hiestand Moore, who is chairman of the Ambulance Aid of the Woman Suffrage party.

Mrs. George Dunning, you know, is general chairman of the Woman Suffrage party and she is interested in the bazaar, as are a number of other women who go regularly to the Chestnut street headquarters.

AT THE Armenian meeting tonight at Scottish Rite Hall the committee of men and the women's committee of the Emergency Aid will both be represented. Bishop Rhinelander will make the opening address-he is the head of the men, you know-and Mrs. George Horace Lorimer will tell something of her committee's work. There will be music and the Honorable A. J. Elkus, American Ambaseador to Constantinople, will speak.

AMONG the auxiliaries looking forward most eagerly to the Red Cross drive for membership the week of December 17 is Auxiliary No. 324, which meets every Friday afternoon in the parish house of the Chapel of the Holy Communion, at Twenty-seventh and Wharton streets, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

The auxiliary started last July as Group No. 2 of Auxiliary No. 47, but grew so rapidly that two weeks ago it became a separate unit. Out of a membership of sixty there is an average attendance of forty-five, who already have made and sent in forty-two shoulder capes, seventeen pairs of bed socks, fifteen pairs of pajamas, twenty-six hospital shirts and 159 towels. while they have knit five sweaters, nine pairs of socks, five pairs of wristlets and nine trench washcloths.

Plans are being made to have various speakers during the winter who will tell of their experiences in Red Cross work This afternoon Mrs. Walter Fox will tell of her work at the Hopital Jardin Colonial, near Paris.

Mrs. Frank Williamson, of 2302 Spruce street, is chairman of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Thomas Harvey is chairman of the new membership committee.

AND two more engagements to be talked about! Did you ever know anything like the number of them these days? Margaret Burton and Cowan Bain and Mar jorie Willcox and Alberto Santa Maria. They are very nice ones, too. I am sure you'll agree with me on this matter. Margaret Burton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burton, you know. Her mother was Margaret Handy, a very popu lar belle in her debutante years. Cowan Bain is a son of the late Frederick Bain, a well-known broker, who married Miss Charlotte Mock, of Salisbury, N. C. Mrs. Bain lives at 2218 Pine street with her daughter Charlotte. Cowan is in the avia tion corps of the United States army and is stationed at Princeton.

Marjorie Willcox is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. James Willcox, of Wawa, and a sister of Mark Willcox, who married Margaret Keating about ten years ago. Her flance, Alberto Santa Maria, calle here from Cuba to attend college and later engaged in the automobile business with Bruder Biddle. Several months ago he joined the Imperial Royal Flying Corps and has been commissioned a lieutenant. His mother was Miss Marie Laine, a sister of Dr. Dama Laine, her mother having been a Miss Garesche. It is an odd thing that through the Garesches the Laines and the Keating family are related, Mrs. Santa Maria being a cousin of Mrs. Mason Lisfe, who was Miss Mary Keating. The Santa Marias now live at Ardmore.

There is no talk yet of a marriage fate in either engagement, but 'ho can tell

IT WAS a dismal, rainy afternoon, and Mrs. S--- had nothing to do; but that was only part of the trouble. The real ache was caused by the fact that she had no word from Bob-the apple of her eye for whom she bravely flaunted a service flagsince he had left her several weeks before. She had been very proud of him in his uniform and had thrilled at the news of his promotion at camp; but now the un certainty of his whereabouts was driving her wild. And so on that rainy afternoon she picked up her knitting and started for a motion-picture show in the hope of a little diversion. The pictures were good and a little fat man in one of them had done much to help Mrs. S--- out of the blues, for she even in one of them had done much to found herself chuckling a little; but the comedy ended and Pathe News was flashed on the screen. This was generally interest-ing, but today it was war, war, var, and team went book to her eyes.

The city will supply the uniforms, which are to be similar to those of the State police—a very dark gray. Special emphasis has been given to the fact that the Chestnut Hill and Germantown divisions are considered sufficiently well drilled to be among the few companies which have been chosen as a whole and not by the selection of a few of the best men, which has been the case in some sections. # Engagement Announced in North Philadelphi Entertainment Next Monday Evening for the Work of Comfort League

The few informal social affairs each week give just enough variety to relieve the great stress of war work for the Red Cross Society and the Emergency Aid. Women endowed with remarkable sensibilities enjoy much, but they also suffer much and must have some relaxation. In no city in the Union have the women been more generous both with time and money than in Philadelphia. Among the entertainments opening the month was the luncheon, followed by cards, given on Monday by Mrs. Robert Foster at her home, 2316 North Broad street. Her guests were members of her bridge club and included Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. William Stevenson, Mrs. Harry Painter, Mrs. Alfred Bracher, Mrs. Thomas Patton, Mrs. John Frey, Mrs. Edward Haehnien, Mrs. Unium Myers, Miss Annette Bleim, Mrs. David Redmond and Mrs. William Perrine.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pile, of 1425 North Fifteenth street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillian Marie Pile, to Lleutenant L. Richard Dressier, of Jersey City.
