

Members of the Red Cross Auxiliary of the Chapel of Holy Communion, Twenty-seventh and Wharton streets, at Work on Hospital Garments. Left to Right, Mrs. E. Kleckner, Miss M. Stratton, Miss M. Smith, Mrs. L. Heck and Mrs. Plumb.

Old King Winter Arrives With His Chill Retinue

Even the Bust of William Shakespeare Minds the Cold Snap, at Least So Must Have Thought One of the Workmen Demolishing the Old Chestnut Street Theatre in Lending the Likeness His Coat.

Latest Contingent of Philadelphia Draftees to Arrive at the Camp Meade Cantonment Are Reminded of the Rigors of Army Life by a Blinding Snowstorm. General Photo Service.

One of New York's First Women Trolley Conductors in Her Smart Uniform. International Film Service.

"Group of the Nations," Which Will Be a Feature of Tomorrow Night's Production of "Over Here" at the Bellevue. Back Row, Left to Right, Mrs. W. F. Moore, Representing Belgium; Miss Marjorie G. Watt, Poland; Miss Mary Eastwick, Rumania; Miss Louise Eveland, Russia; Miss Dorothy Wilson, Japan; Miss Ballock Richards, Italy. Front Row, Miss Grace Carhart, Great Britain; Miss Elizabeth Latta, America; Miss Margaret La Rue, France.

"Death Valley" Jim Scott, Erstwhile Star Twirler of the Chicago White Sox and Now a Captain in the United States Army, Bids Farewell to His Bride of a Week.

Chaplain John M. Groton, of the Episcopal Hospital Unit, Formerly Rector of the Church of Our Saviour at Jenkintown. Wm. Shewell Ellis.

One of the Fair Skaters Who Celebrated the Opening of the Skating Season Yesterday on Concourse Lake in Fairmount Park.

The Snake Formation Once Again Becomes a Familiar Sight With the Advent of Skating on Concourse Lake.