JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Girl Scouts to Aid in Red Cross Membership Drive. Bazaar for Wool Fund December 15—Miss Borda to Wed Doctor Royster January 15

THE Girl Scouts are going to help in the Red Cross membership drive, I hear, and that's fine, don't you think? Indeed, the Scouts are by no means the smallest of the junior organizations throughout the country, and the members are helping very materially in all the various branches of patriotic work now going on.

Headed by their captains, who are most of them Junior Leaguers, though the league, of course, has nothing to do with the matter, they are co-operating in every way by offering their services in many of the numerous undertakings. Mrs. Willis Martin has offered a merit stripe to the scout who will turn in thirty or more new members during the campaign of this and next week.

Then, on December 15, there will be a big bazaar at the Penfield Building to raise money to obtain wool for the Scouts to knit, as knitting, you see, is one of the accomplishments of the Scouts, and many of them have made a great many articles for the soldiers and sailors already.

In connection with the sale of fancy and useful articles common to most bazaars there will be a lunchroom which Gwen Martin will have in charge, and her troop from Chestnut Hill, which, incidentally, has many future belles therein, will act as waitresses. Those who will have charge of the other doings at the fair include Mrs. Drew-Baer, Ellen Mary Cassatt, who has had so much to do with the Girl Scout movement in this city; Katherine Lea, Anne Meirs, Elizabeth Adams, Elisabeth Packard, Mary Packard, Mary Newbold and Mrs. Radcliffe Cheston.

HAVE you heard that Helen Borda is to be married on January 15? She is going to sail for the Virgin Islands, where Doctor Royster is, on January 9, and will arrive at St. Croix on January 15, and the wedding will take place that day. You see, Doctor Royster is a surgeon in the navy and is stationed there and cannot come here to be married, so he has asked her to go there and she has very wisely decided to do so, as he cannot be sure when he can come, and in these days one can't be sure of how long any one will be stationed at one place or when he will be sent off to camp. Mrs. E. G. Hakanson, a friend of both Helen and Doctor Royster, expects to meet her at St. Thomas, and she will go on with her to St. Croix and be matron of honor at the wedding.

Helen Borda, you know, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Borda, of Jenkintown, and a sister of Andrew Borda, Mrs. Harold Cross, Katherine, Edith and Eugenia, George and Charles Borda, Jr.

Doctor Royster's name is Thomas S. He is a son of Mrs. S. A. Royster, of Townsville, N. C. His cousin, another Doctor Royster, married Birdie Page, daughter of Judge Page, one of our Mr. S. Davis Page's many relatives. She often visited here before her marriage.

EDITH GRACIE is to wed Dunbar Adams next Saturday in Washington. The wedding was at first scheduled for November 1, but for various reasons could not take place that day, and so this present date has only just been given out. Edith visited Lucile Lusson Butler here on several occasions the year Lucile came out, you remember. Mrs. Henry D. Flood, wife of Representative Flood, is to be matron of honor at the wedding, and the bridesmaids will include Mary Millett, Frederica Peterson, Katherine Culver, Marie Louise Beckham, Adrienne Iselin and Helen Blodgett. Quite a few Philadelphians will go down to the wedding, among them Lucile and her husband, Russell Butler.

CERTAINLY, Mrs. Hazard Lippincott has ideas, and when she carries them out there's some go to them. The entertainment given last night by the men of the Marine Corps and Reserve Force of League Island at the Bellevue-Stratford for the Medico-Chi Social Service Bureau (whew! some sentence!) was a success with a capital S. The minstrel part was simply splendid, and the cunning little sketch with the singing of "I Don't Want to Get Well," by Elizabeth Latta and an enthusiastic jackie, brought the house down.

The ballroom was crowded to its utmost capacity with pretty girls and marines and jackies and older people, and the dancing lasted well into the evening. Brigadier General Waller made a splendid address, and from the "countenances" of the peach baskets, which seemed to be fairly bursting, I should say the harvest was quite fine.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR RED CROSS TONIGHT

Debate on War Question in Tioga Will Be Presided Over by Lieutenant Skidmore

An entertainment in aid of Red Cross work that is attracting much attention will take place tonight in the large auditorium of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal Church, Broad and Venango streets. The program includes a debate on the question, "Resolved, That as a better means of prosecuting the war all citizens of the United States (both male and female) should be conscripted for national service," and a number of selections by well-known musical artists. Lieutenant J. W. P. Skidmore, of the Canadian army, just returned from the fighting front, will preside and will make an address, illustrating his story with helmets filled with bullet holes, gas masks and various souvenirs from foreign battlefields.

The debate will be between the 1916 team of the Central Evening High School and the Chatham Literary Society. The latter team will take the affirmative side, with Mr. Eugene W. Wall, Mr. John B. Campbell and Mr. Alan H. Minton (in rebuttal) as the speakers. The Central Evening High School team will be represented by Mr. Harry L. Neal, Mr. Charles A. Collins and Mr. William M. Keenan (in rebuttal). The judges will be Brigadier General L. W. T. Waller, of the United States marine corps, who will make a short address during the evening; Professor Charles S. Red Cross Auxiliary No. 231, which will benefit by the entertainment, has done splendid work in hospital garments and surgical dressings, and like many other Red Crossers who have turned out such a wonderful account of the dressings the group has been urged to do more of this work. The entertainment was an informal home gathering, with sacred music and an old-fashioned luncheon for the boys away from home. Clever Monologist at Wyncote Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Wyncote had an evening recently with Miss Ruth Draper, monologist. This talented and charming young woman, whose picture we have seen in Vanity Fair, is a granddaughter of Charles Dana, of the New York Sun, and so comes by her talent quite naturally. Her character sketches are cleverly and remarkably well done.

MRS. JOSEPH F. CREAMER, JR.

Mrs. Creamer will be remembered as Miss Margaret Cronin, of Overbrook. Her marriage to Lieutenant Joseph F. Creamer, Jr., of this city, took place on December 1. The young couple are on their way to Arizona, where Lieutenant Creamer will be stationed.
