

Sleigh Bells Jingle
Yuletide Tunes
Whole Week Before
Christmas

One of the Youthful Sportsmen Who Enjoy the Bully Sledding in Fashionable Rittenhouse Square is Jack Wheeler, Son of Alexander Bowman Wheeler.

The Sight of Women Clearing the Streets After a Snowstorm is a New One Even for New York.
Underwood & Underwood.

The Sound of Sleighbells So Early in the Season is a Bit Unusual Along the Beautiful Wissahickon Drive, as It is Also in Other Outlying Sections of the City, Where a Generous Covering of Snow Has Lain for Days.

Scenes Such as the Above Have Become Quite General at the Philadelphia Coal Yards Now That the Supply of Fuel Has Dwindled to Famine Proportions. Thousands of Citizens, Many of Them Desirous and Capable of Purchasing Coal in Large Amounts, Have Been Forced to Become Disciples of the Cash-and-Carry Plan to Ward Off Cold and Sickness in Their Homes.

A Class of American Aviators Mastering the Mechanism of the Machine Gun, Their Future Offensive Weapon Against Opposing Boche Air-men.
Committee on Public Information.

Sergeant John J. Morrow, Whose Recent Bravery in Rescuing Forty Horses During a Fire Has Caused Him to Be Awarded a Medal by the S. P. C. A.

Two Energetic Women Who Are Spreading the Red Cross Doctrine Along the Main Line—Mrs. William J. Clothier (Left) and Mrs. John M. Denison.

Women of the Main Line Who Are Conducting the Red Cross Membership Campaign in Their Respective Localities Meet in the Bryn Mawr Firehouse to Discuss Progress of Their Work Toward the Desired Goal.