

THE KING OF HOPE SHOULD COME WITH NEW YEAR—365 DAYS ALL UNOPENED

AND NEW ROAD OF US HAS EVER TRIED Lined With New Jobs, Rekindled... Wireless Cookers—Surprises Have... where to Hide in the Future

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

I had good times when I was small. I like the child I used to be. I'm sorry years keep piling up And separating him from me.

THIS is why the New Year means a freshening of hope. Some women want new jobs, some want their husbands to love them again.

THE WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

Answers to yesterday's inquiries: 1. How have women been pressed into service in the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H.?

2. What neck line is most becoming to the woman who is thin? 3. Is it correct for a man to give a woman money to put in the collection box at church?

Answers to yesterday's inquiries: 1. A piece of table-talk etiquette that has lately come into practice in London is the barring of all war conversation at dinners.

2. Italy accords to women the same rights of education granted to men by permitting them to study side by side with men in the universities.

3. If the strands of a cap hair net are cut when it covers the front of the hair the net is unnecessary to most women will be eliminated.

Bleach for Skin: Dear Madam—I am a daily reader of the Philadelphia Ledger and would like you to state in your valuable paper a very good recipe for bleaching or whitening the skin.

Games Are So Lengthy: Dear Madam—Kindly inform us of interesting games to be played indoors after a long winter. We would prefer that the games be quiet and not too strenuous.

Cheer Up When Train Halts: Dear Madam—If in order for me to get a word here, I should like to see you with the delay in traveling these days.

Disgusting Behavior: Dear Madam—Ever since the letter on "Disgusting Behavior" appeared in your issue of December 22, 1917, I have wanted to write you.

Tomato Sauce: Dear Madam—You give me a good recipe for tomato sauce, such as is often given in your issue of December 22, 1917.

You Note: Dear Madam—Please note that the article on "Disgusting Behavior" in your issue of December 22, 1917, was not intended to be a personal attack.

QUESTION BOX

By JOHN HARVEY KELLOGG, M. D., LL. D.

ONE of the mistakes most commonly made in treating anemia is to depend upon a milk diet. Now, a person suffering from anemia on a milk diet for three months will have more anemia than when he began.

THE United States has been at war for something over seven months. In an unbelievably short period after the declaration of hostilities the reality of war came home to us.

Women, who in the past had been assigned to the rather negligible role of sweeping and waiting, became vital factors in the actual prosecution of the war.

WAR WIDENS WOMAN'S ORBIT

IN THE SPHERE OF LABOR

Invading Successfully Many Paths of Activity Hitherto Regarded as Closed to Her Sex, She Has Rendered Obsolete the Servant

By MLISS founded, coupled with the labor shortage, is expected to produce an acute situation next spring.

There has been much talk in consequence of the fact that it is going to do for women. Much of this is speculative, but a subject that can be handled with some definiteness in view of the last seven months is what the women have done for the war.

At least 100 per cent more women are employed now than were at the outset of the war.

Many fields hitherto not regarded as women's have been opened to female labor, but the greatest demand for women is still in those industries that always have employed them.

Jobs there are for all, but the advances in wages have been slight.

The giving out of piece work to be done in the home has been reduced to a minimum.

The demand for women office workers has shot far ahead of the supply and many firms which never before had female clerks in their office personnel have broken their established rule.

According to the experience of the Federal Labor Bureau, the Pennsylvania farmer, although his need is great, does not take to the idea of employing female laborers on his farm.

Very likely. This condition is caused by weakness of the muscles of the foot, and it is the wearing of incorrect shoes, with much standing and walking, that produces the weakness of the muscles and ligaments.

CAPTURED

By Lieut. J. HARVEY DOUGLAS

THE commander of the party avoided the main streets, as this was the first time prisoners had been paraded through Cologne in this manner and he did not know how the people would act.

When we arrived back at the hospital I overheard the following conversation between a Tommy who had been out and one of his less fortunate friends:

"What did they take you to, Bill?" "Yeh don't say so."

"Yeh, but the blinkin' thing was chuck full of boches."

"After this the Germans felt frightened at what they had done, and we were not allowed out again for a month."

"We had many interviews with the inspector and made ourselves so objectionable that, in order to gain peace, the walks were resumed, but at irregular intervals."

"We were more fortunate than the men who, on each of four walks we were allowed to take, were conducted to a different cemetery."
