"OWED" TO HEATLESS MONDAY

We have heard a proclamation That has served to rock the nation While we struggle with our problems manifold. For the fuel administration Made a rule and regulation That has left us all to shiver in the cold.

But with due capitulation We have faced the situation That prevails throughout the cosmic length and breadth. We are planning conservation Without any reservation, We will stand or fall together until death.

For the nation's preservation, Tis no time to sit and vaguely theorize. We can't win without contention, We must give it widespread mention,

We're at war! a fact which some can't realize.

We must "pinch" to desperation

In apartments that are heatless We serve luncheons that are eatless, For with ready will we try to do our bit, Though the roast is mostly meatless And the bread and cakes are wheatless,

Yet we cavil not, but swallow all with grit. There's no doubt they'll call it cheatless To have made my bookshelves Keatsless There's no time for munching literary plums. With my trousers nearly seatless My appearance is quite neatless,

Yet I smile and answer when my summons comes.

We are through with dissertations, Endless notes, reiterations, We are in the fight to win, cost what it may, So with grim determination. And no thought of trepidation, We will do and dare till we have won the day.

INCREASE IN MILK PRICE IN FEBRUARY NO INCREASE IN MILK

Officials of Producers' Association Says Present Figure Will Stand

LOSS AT 914 CENTS

Farmers Hope to Make Up Deficiency Next Summer, Says Secretary Balderston

There will be no increase in the price of milk on February I, when the Federal food administration, in conjunction with Dr. Clyde Is, King, appointed as milk expert for Fennsylvania by National Food Administrator Hoover, revises, or continues the present price for another month, according to officials of the Interstate Producers' Milk Asso-

The farmer is losing money on the "The farmer is losing money on the present price of nine and one-quarter cents a quart for his milk," said R. W. Balderston, secretary of the association, today. "However, he is willing to take this loss if he is resured of making it up during the summer. The cost of producing milk in the winter is 120 per cent of the average. In summer, it is 80 per cent. The producer can afford to lose now if he can make a profit on the entire year. "I do not believe there will be any increase in the price on February I. Such an increase would be unnecessary. I will not say that it would be unfair."

None of the officials would comment upon the reduction of the retail price of milk in Wilkes-Barre from fourteen cents a quart to twelve cents. They disclaimed all knowledge of the situation, as it was out of their district. "If any one thinks the price of milk is too high at nine and one-quarter cents a quart," said H. D.
