TRAINS HIT IN STORM; ONE DIES; THREE HURT

Passengers Stalled Near Gallitzin Rescue Nine Laborers After Snow Drift

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 29.—One man lost his life and three others were severely injured when two freight trains collided as they were plowing through the drifted snow near Lovett.

The dead man was Robert Englert, twenty-three years old, of Johnstown. The injured are John Dunmire, forty-two years old, of Conemaugh, leg injured; Robert Bunton, thirty-three years old, South Fork, bruised about the head and body, and Roy White, twenty-eight years old, of Summerhill, cut and bruised.

Dunmire was the engineer of a train which was pushing a long string of cars down the mountainside. The train broke and ran into another, which was coming up the hill. The accident occurred during one of the worst snowstorms in the Conemaugh region.

INDIANA, Pa., Jan. 29.—One man was burned to death and two others narrowly escaped a like fate following a collision between a double-headed freight train and a light locomotive on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railroad north of here during the storm. Charles Tyger, twenty-three years old, a brakeman, of Rossiter, who was asleep in the caboose, was the victim. The stove in the caboose was overturned and the coals fired the floor.

The other two occupants of the caboose leaped to safety when the fire broke out and Tyger's charred body was found in a bunk.

GALLITZIN, Pa., Jan. 29.—Two hundred passengers an eastbound Pennsylvania train No. 9 were marooned several hours when the train was caught in a snowdrift near here.

Nine track laborers woking to clear the ten and twelve foot drifts were buried under an avalanche shortly before noon, and 100 men passengers from stalled trains worked for more than an hour before the employes were rescued. Three of the men were unconscious when dug out.

NEWS OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD—NEW YORK AND PHILADELPHIA STOCK PRICES

BULLS ARE IN ABSOLUTE CONTROL ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Increasing Interest in Long Side and Pronounced Strength for Foreign Bonds Make War Developments Important—Steel Active

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

Bulls were inabsolute control of stock market operations all through the forenoon, and the manner in which all the various active groups of stocks were absorbed on buying orders coming at times in large blocks and in others in small amounts indicated a steady increasing interest on the long side, which, coupled with the pronounced strength in foreign bonds, caused acute interest to be taken in all the developments connected with the foreign situation.

There was a general assumption on the board room floor that the United States Steel common dividend to be acted on htis afternoon would be maintained at the 17 per cent basis, and many wagers were offered on the floor that the same dividend wil lbe declaerd as for the preceding quarters. Some important houses insisted they had absolute information that this action would be taken and several of them were the heaviest buyers of this stock. Shearson, Hamill & Co., who often handle what are called inside orders, bought 10,000 shares during the first hour and helped to put the price up 1½ to 92¾.

All the other steel industrials followed in line, with Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Pressed Steel Car active features in the trading during the first half of the day.

The railroad stocks moved in unison with the industrials, with St. Paul common advancing 2¼ to 46, and the preferred advancing 1⅝ to 75⅝.

Marine common rose ⅝ to 25¼, and the preferred ⅞ to 92½.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.

There was an easier feeling in the market for oats today, following yesterday's pronounced strength. The cash situation remained strong, but it was believed that the buying movement had been overdone. The trade was disturbed by persistent talk about price-fixing.

January opened, unchanged, at 84½c, but declined to 84c. March started ¼c lower at 84¼c and dropped to 83½c. May was quoted at 81¼@80¾c at the outset, compared with 81¼c, the final quotation of yesterday, and later declined to 80¾c.

The receipts here today were 116 cars. The visible supply in the United States is 14,057,000 bushels, against 15,335,000 bushels in the previous week and 43,975,000 bushels last year.

Corn was quiet. The weather was colder over the West, but the car situation was declared to be better, and receipts were larger, notwithstanding the abnormal conditions.

The arrivals here today were 288 cars. The visible supply in the United States is 4,647,000 bushels, against 3,976,000 bushels in the previous week and 9,882,000 bushels a year ago.

URGE SCHOOL COAL MINE

City-Owned Fuel Source for Buildings Suggested

A coal mine owned by the city to supply the needs of the public schools, so that a famine similar to the one that has held the city in its grip would be averted, so far as the schools are concerned, is being advocated in educational circles.

Lack of coal has caused more than a score of schools to close at different times. Although the Board of Education of its own free will could not purchase and operate a coal mine, Secretary William Dick said legislation could be obtained which would allow the board to take such action.

LIVERPOOL CABLES SEND COTTON DOWN

Losses Attributed to Moderate Buying for Foreign Account in Absence of Other Incentive

COTTON BELT WEATHER CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The following temperatures were recorded in the cotton belt this morning:
Oklahoma, 10: Fort Smith, 18; Little Rock, 20; Memphis, Nashville and Abilene, 22; Shreveport and Vicksburg, 30; Knoxville, 32; Chattanooga, 34; Meridian, 36; Asheville, 40; Augusta, 44; New Orleans, 46; Wilmington and Tampa, 62; Thomasville and Jacksonville, 64; Savannah, 66, and Charleston, 68.
There was .01 inch of precipitation at Memphis; .02 inch at Asheville, Little Rock and Nashville; .10 inch at Chattanooga; .12 inch at Knoxville; .24 inch at Meridian, and .28 inch at Augusta.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

There was no feature to the trading at the opening of the cotton market and the tone was easier, with prices 2 to 10 points net lower. Operators generally attributed the trifling losses to poor cables from Liverpool, in the absence of any other incentive.

Liverpool spot houses and trade interests were moderate buyers, but the supply coming from Wall street and local operators was more than sufficient to take of the demand. Commission houses had orders on both sides, probably selling on balance.

It was cold again this morning in the west and southwest, but in the central and eastern portions of the belt temperatures were nearer normal for this season with light scattered precipitation.

WATER RATES VOIDED

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—The Public Service Commission has declared the new rates of the Upper Dublin Water Company, operating in Montgomery County, effective July 1, 1917, to be void.

The complaint of the Ambler Highlands Improvement Association that the notice of the new rates did not call for an increase and was not posted as required by the act of 1913 is sustained. The bills since July 1 will have to be made at the old rate.

CONDUCTORETTES ON JOB

They Appear on Queens Lines in Natty Uniforms

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 — Queens borough saw women conductors for the first time when several of them appeared on the trolley cars that ply between Manhattan and Jamaica by way of the Queensboro bridge. The traction company made a hit with the women by providing them with natty blue uniforms with gold letters on the collar, giving them the smart appearance of a naval cadet. This makes the Manhattan and Queens Traction Company the leader in fashions for women conductors, and a rush of applicants is expected.

The conductorettes—or is it conductettes?—are allowed to sell thrift stamps while on duty, and all of them have volunteered. The women are given the same wage scale as the men, with time and a half for overtime.

Wholesale business on the Street in the morning was virtually nothing, trade being hampered by the heavy snowstorm. In the absence of transactions on which to base prices quotations are necessarily omitted.
