JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Has More to Tell About the Jumble Inn Sale, Which Will Be Held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of This Week

THE Jumble Inn will open on Thursday at 1006 Chestnut street and the sale is to last for three days, and, indeed, the women who are running the affair insist that they have something entirely new in the way of a rummage sale. They are going to have live stock and everything else and finstead of but) the kitchen stove, for I believe there will be the proverbial kitchen stove there. It's wonderful what splendid things they do have. Why, I heard a young woman recently lamenting that she did not have a baby to buy a baby carriage for, because she saw one at one of the sales for "almost nothing, which must originally have been worth at least $65."

And when she told of it another spoke up and said: "My goodness, do they have things like that? I'm going to the next, for my cousin is going to bring her baby to our house to stay awhile, and I certainly do want a crib or small bed for him." "Perhaps they'll have one at the St. Nicholas sale of the seventh, eighth and ninth," said the other. And so, you see, there is always some one who wants something that some one else has no use for. The sale this week is to be given for the benefit of the St. Nicholas Day Nursery, of which Mrs. Charles Howell is president. There will be every kind of merchandise, and a moving-picture performance will take place during the morning and afternoon. Many valuable donations have been made, a number of which, including a thoroughbred setter dog, will be auctioned off. And I really think they will have dandy things; just listen to some of the departments.

The clothing department will have on sale cloth suits in good condition for both men and women, as well as a number of evening gowns that, still fresh and clean, will prove acceptable to many. A large assortment of children's clothes are also on hand, which are of good value and will be sold at exceptional prices. This department is under the management of Mrs. Edward B. Chase, Mrs. Henry Bartol Brazier and Mrs. Isaac H. Clothier, with Mrs. John Harvey and Mrs. Nathaniel Knowles selling the children's clothes.

Dispensing the china and bric-a-brac will be Mrs. W. Middleton, Mrs. Walter Massey and Mrs. William B. Chamberlain, while Mrs. Sydney Mason and Mrs. William H. George will have charge of the books. Mrs. J. Ernest Richards, assisted by a number of aides, will have a most attractive five and ten cent department, while the jewelry, much of which is antique and of considerable value, will be sold by Mrs. Charles H. Howell, Mrs. Henry E. Busch and Mrs. Guilliaem Aertsen.

The managers of the nursery include besides Mrs. Howell, first vice president, Mrs. C. Wilmer Middleton; second vice president Mrs. Henry Bartol Brazier; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Draper Whiting; secretary, Mrs. J. Ernest Richards. Mrs. Guillaem Aertsen, Mrs. Henry Paul Baily, Mrs. George R. Boker, Mrs. Henry E. Busch, Mrs. William Chamberlain, Mrs. Edward B. Chase, Mrs. Isaac H. Clothier, Jr., Mrs. N. Myers Fitler, Mrs. William H. George, Mrs. John S. C. Harvey, Mrs. Nathaniel Knowles, Mrs. Sidney Mason, Mrs. Walter S. Massey, Mrs. J. Ernest Richards and Mrs. Henry C Thompson.

A GOOD many persons who were at Edith Earle's wedding on Saturday are in Washington today at Rebecca Wiley's wedding. Rebecca was here for some time last summer, when she and her sister Elizabeth were bridesmaids at Jean Lillie's marriage, and she made a lot of friends in this city. She is the daughter of Captain Henry A. Wiley, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Wiley, and the man she is marrying, Philip Childs, of Boston, is also a U. S. N. R. Elizabeth will be her maid of honor, and the four bridesmaids, Elizabeth Austin, Martha Wall, Nanette Kennedy and Muriel Childs, will represent, respectively, our own city, Richmond, Montreal and Boston. The Rev. Herbert Scott Smith will perform the service, and Captain Wiley will give Rebecca in marriage. Mr. Childs is a Harvard man, class of 1917, and is well known here and in New York. NANCY WYNNE.

The Women's Army and Navy Relief of Germantown, of which Mrs. Francis Howard Williams is president, has been making a large number of layettes, under the supervision of Mrs. Richardson, chairman of the layette committee. They are beautifully made, and are composed of everything a baby could possibly need from knitting caps to little socks made of outing flannel. The boxes are all packed and ready to be forwarded through the French War Relief as soon as transportation will permit.

The comfort kit committee of the Women's Army and Navy Relief made, filled and shipped as holiday gifts, fifty-seven bags valued at $2.50 each, to individual Germantown boys in Florida, Cuba, Texas, Canada, Oklahoma and nearby camps. They contained carefully selected and useful articles and a great deal of Christmas cheer. There was a small pocket especially made to hold the trench mirror, and a tiny little sewing bag with all the necessary mending articles in it. As one boy said, "They were well named comfort bags, as they had everything a soldier could use." Six of these kits were sent to Lieutenant Kay, of the army guard Philadelphia Navy Yard, and $81.39 was donated by and through the members of the Women's Army and Navy Relief.

Mrs. Ida L. Machan, who is chairman of the comfort kit committee, not only devotes her entire time to this relief work, but she also acts as "mother" to a great many of these boys, writing them cheery letters and taking an interest in their personal welfare, which means a great deal to a boy who, perhaps has no parents of his own, or is far away from friends. The general comfort and necessities of our boys is looked after, but it is the little kindnesses that make for their happiness.

COLONIAL TEA FOR WOOL FUND

Church in Falls of Schuylkill Will Celebrate Washington's Birthday With Benefit Entertainment, When Guests Will Wear Costumes

A COLONIAL reception and tea will be given on February 22 by the national service commission of the Presbyterian Church in the concert hall of the building in aid of the wool fund. The sweaters being knit now are heavier than those prepared earlier in the season, and the commission workers have completed twelve complete sets of knitted garments for the young men of the church who will leave for service this month.

Colonial costumes will be worn at the reception and the guests will be received by the entertainment committee, which includes Miss Anna Fulton, Mrs. Benjamin Marley, Miss Sara Starrett, Mrs. James McMurtrie, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Robert Crooks and Mrs. George Hamilton. The latter is chairman of the commission, and her assistants are Mrs. Jennie Chidester and Mrs. George Wagner. Mrs. Elizabeth Dobson Altemus is chairman of the wool committee and has Mrs. Harry Jones to assist her. There are quite a number of young girls who are doing splendid work for the association, among the number being Miss Viola Markley, who is just eleven years old and has completed fifty knitted squares for a soldier's blanket, besides wristlets and scarfs. She is a member of the magazine committee and has collected quantities of up-to-date magazines for the soldiers. In order to conserve the coal the meetings of the commission workers on Friday evenings will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Crooks, on Ridge avenue.

Mrs. John Holien-Adel gave a card party, followed by a dinner, on Tuesday evening at her home on Queen lane. The decorations and favors were pink. Her guests included Mrs. Lewis Reese, Mrs. E. Gehring Harkness, Mrs. Joseph Roseman, Mrs. William Benham, Miss Lidie Stewart, Miss Mary Roseman, Mrs. Barth and Mrs. Louis Roseman.

Mrs. James Dobson has presented to the Thirty-ninth District police station a large service flag in honor of the men from the station in the service.

The following members of the Falls troop of Boy Scouts have been selected as Government dispatch bearers: Holden Booth, James Seeds, Augustus Fromeyer, James Murphy, Merton Boyd, Paul Muench, Enrico Gargolle and John Tempest.

Hooverizing entertainments as well as food has brought to the front many old-fashioned stunts, among them the old time spelling-bee, of course, the recent spelling-bee was in aid of Red Cross work, and as she was a Red Cross worker, her soldier laddie was interested in the entertainment and secured the services of a well-known high school professor to give out the words. She was a good speller and so was he, and each headed a side, and finally stood alone, having spelled the others down. Now it happened that he stammered a little on the letter "S," only when it stood at the beginning or a word, and the word was solemn. With flushed face and quivering tongue, he began, "S-s-s-o-l sol, did you say s-s-solemn." "Yes," said the professor. He tried again s-s-s-o-l, sol, is it ss-solemn." "Very," solemnly said the professor. And as the tall soldier glanced at her twinkling eyes, and heard the suppressed titter of the down-and-out spellers, he blushed furiously and said in haste ss-s-s-o-l, sol, u-m, um, solum."

The young people of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Thirty-fifth street and Midvale avenue, will give a musicale on next Wednesday evening in the lecture auditorium of the church in aid of the rebuilding fund. The building was greatly damaged by fire and had to be rebuilt, but the amount necessary to meet the great expense has not all been realized. This entertainment will give the Falls' church members an opportunity to enjoy a pleasant evening and help the young people in their efforts.

In addition to the program of excellent music there will be presented a humorous sketch. Those who will take part are Mr. Arthur Ensley, Mr. Harry Harker, Mr. William MacDowell, Miss Mabel Fenner, Miss Louise Moosbrugger Mr. George Shaw, Miss Victoria Brehm, Mr. David Furman, Mr. Christopher Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruch, Mr. Benjamin Marley, Miss Hazel Stamm and Mr. Jacob Brehm.

Mehler is pastor is interested in the work of the citizens' patriotic committee for the Falls soldiers and sailors and has a special committee to look after the welfare of its own boys on the church honor roll: Mr. Collings Longbaugh, Mr. Irwin Holmes, Mr. Arthur Turner, Mr. Elmer Kline and Mr. Raymond Gabert. The committee includes Miss Louise Moosbrugger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruch, Miss Irene Farrell and Mr. George Shaw.
