Jumble Inn Rummage Sale Opened Yesterday at 1026 Chestnut Street-Nancy Has an Interesting Encounter in Crowded Car

In case you may be slightly mixed in your mind as to where the rummage sale is taking place this week, it's at 1024 (Chestnut street, and it's being given for the benefit of the St. Nicholas Day Nursery. Through a typographical error the Sunday papers announced that the sale would be held at 1208 Chestnut street. As it is two blocks farther down most of us would rather leave the car at Tenth or Eleventh street than at Twelfth, and then have to walk down a block or more on these dirty streets, and so perhaps it will be a help to know that the sale is going the benefit of the St. Nicholas Day Nursbe a help to know that the sale is going on at 1024 Chestnut street.

The St. Nicholas Day Nursery does a splendid work and anything that can be done to help the board of managers to keep it up is certainly worth while, I would say. With so much war work taking our attention, we are apt to forget the local needs, perhaps, and if the babies are not saved and brought up in good health, how about the future of the nation?

TREAT to lovers of music as well as A those who can appreciate the churm of rhythmic expression in dancing is in store for those who attend the concert and cantata to be given for the benefit of the Priends' Reconstruction Work in France.

The entertainment, which is under the musical direction of Mrs. Laura Anderson Lanning, will take place on the evening of February 20 in the auditorium of the Young Women's Christian Association, Eighteenth and Arch streets, and the silver offering that will be taken at the door will be devoted to the Friends' Society which is restoring the devastated towns and villages abroad.

The program will consist of a cantata, which will be produced by the pupils of the Noyes School of Rhythmic Expression "The Morn," "White Butterflies" and "Garden of Flowers" will be interpreted by Miss Endora Sellner, of New York, assisted by a chorus including Miss Minerva Rose, Miss Carrie Hudson, Miss Lillian Frank, Miss Carolyn Bergman, Miss Marion Javloson, Miss Allicia Bazin, Miss Marion Holt and Miss Athens Pushurs.

Violin solos will be given by Miss Helen Belt, of Washington, D. C., and the further musical program will include songs by Miss Mae Rosen, Miss Minerva Rose and Miss Letitia Petre Strehl.

AUXILIARY GETS LETTERS OF THANKS

Germantown Workers Have All Meetings on One Day on Account of Coal Shortage

Red Cross Auxiliary No. 26, connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Advocate, Wayne avenue and Queen lane, and the United Presbyterian Church, Germantown which held its meetings every Monday and Thursday, has on account of the shortage of coal been obliged to concentrate its meetings on one day. Thursday, from 9:36 a. m. until 10 p. m.

Since January 12 this auxiliary has given over thirty one knitted articles to the different men who have left for camps and "over there," and has turned in over 1500 surgical dressings.

The canteen branch of the auxiliary has fact the troop trains twice, and is waiting to be called out again to give the soldiers smokes, papers, chocolate, etc., as they pass through the city. There are now 100 memhers belonging to this auxiliary and about fifty are in attendance at every meeting. The fast monthly meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lukens, on West School House lane, where several very interesting letters were read from the men, thanking the auxiliary for the aweaters, belinets and other articles which had been sent them.

It is the blinded solders who have per-haps made the greatest sacrifice of all. We hear so much of the happiness of the blind, but it is only after mouths of heart-rending but it is only after months of heart-rending despair that they finally come to a certain degree of philosophy which brings them happiness only because they have learned to renounce everything that is dear to seeing men and begin a whole new life. They give up ambition, career, independence and the hope of ever marrying. A few do marry, but only a very small percentage. The educated men learn to read by the Braille system and to write on a typewriter in order to be able to communicate with seeing people, while the less intelligent men make cane nears for es intelligent men make cane reats for chairs, brooms, etc., and seil their products, It is dreadful to think of these strong, healthy men, who have given more than their lives for the principle for which they are fight-ing, and it is not charity, but a debt on our part to take an interest in and to further the and in many cases their lives to the care
