

147 AMERICANS TUSCANIA TOLL; FIND 126 BODIES

Total of Missing Placed at 166 by British Admiralty

Great Military Service for Transport's Dead to Mark Burial of Heroes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. Out of the war zone today came the names of hundreds of American boys saved from the torpedoed Tuscania to ease anxiety in the homes of this country.

The names are now being sent across the water in a steady stream and as rapidly as possible being compiled for publication. Not until the entire list is in will the War Department be able to check up and determine those who gave up their lives.

LONDON, Feb. 9. The British Admiralty announces that 2255 persons on the Tuscania were saved and that about 166 are missing, 147 of them American soldiers—four officers and 143 enlisted men.

The saved, it was added, included 113 American officers, 1917 American men, sixteen officers and 183 men of the crew and six passengers. There were 117 American officers and 2060 enlisted men on board the Tuscania.

The bodies of 126 American troops have been recovered.

Of the 148 survivors landed on the Scottish coast 134, including seven officers, belonged to the United States Army. Of these one officer and twenty-five men are remaining where they landed to attend to the funeral arrangements for the Americans dead.

Reports received at the American embassy indicated the loss of 101 lives, while the British Admiralty's estimate was 210. This discrepancy now seems to have been due to the fact that the figures supplied to the embassy evidently did not include the missing, of which there are still many.

As the list of Americans on board the Tuscania was not when the vessel went down, it will be impossible to ascertain the names of those lost until the names of the survivors have been cabled to the United States.

It is announced that arrangements are being made by British and American officials jointly for great military funerals for the Tuscania dead.

Berlin and Vienna Both Announce Conclusion of Treaty

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 9.

Germany is secretly fomenting war with the Rumanians, Ukrainians and Finns against the Bolsheviki in order to complete the disintegration of Russia, according to accusations made at Petrograd and contained in a dispatch received here today.

The German allies are said to have entered into a secret pact and that Germany and Austria-Hungary are giving aid to the anti-Bolsheviki forces in southeastern Russia.

The statement of Count Czernin, the Austrian Foreign Minister, that Austria probably will effect a formal peace treaty with the Ukraine next week, was followed today by a report from Germany that the Central Powers have virtually completed the terms of a peace pact acceptable to the Rumanians, except for the question of Alsace-Lorraine.

Bakers Required to Use 5 Per Cent Wheat Substitute All Week

Philadelphia does not know that it is eating bread with a wheat substitute in it, according to the food administration. Beginning last Monday all bakers were required to use at least 5 per cent substitute in all wheat bread. This rule is being rigorously observed by the baker, the food officials say. It is urged that beginning next Monday all bakers must use at least 19 per cent of the substitute. By February 29 all bread must contain 29 per cent of substitute.

Several restaurant keepers in the city were summoned to Jay Cooke's office. Howard Heinz, Federal food administrator for Pennsylvania, had previously said that a ruling supplementing this order was not necessary. Following the disclosure of the failure to follow the order on this point, it is believed that a supplementary ruling will be necessary.
