Home Unit Has Been Formed to Work for Base Hospital No. 34 at St. James Guild House—News of American Englishwomen

AMONG the active and vigorous voluntary agencies now at work is Home Unit No. 34—composed of the relatives and friends of Base Hospital No. 34, U. S. A., which has been equipped and sent from here under the auspices of the Episcopal Hospital, now "somewhere in France," of which Doctor Ashhurst is the director. Though organized but little more than a month ago, this Home Unit has already enrolled about 200 paying members and its weekly meetings for work (knitting and the preparing of surgical dressings) are largely attended.

These are held each Tuesday in the Guild House, 2210 Sansom street, in rooms put at their disposal by the courtesy of the authorities of St. James's Episcopal Church. In addition, monthly meetings for the transaction of business, reading of letters from abroad and addresses are held, which have been found full of interest. Last Thursday, the 14th, Dr. Charles H. Frazier, by whom the unit was organized, was present and spoke to the workers. The rector of All Hallows Church, Wyncote, one of whose sons is an enlisted man of the unit, is president of the Home Unit, and associated with him in its executive committee are Mrs. Philip Rhinelander, Mrs. Hampton L. Carson, Mrs. John E. Zimmerman, Mrs. John C. Browne, Mrs. Edwards F. Leiper, Mrs. Clayton L. McElroy, Mrs. Lewis V. Biggs and Miss Elizabeth C. Tyson. Dr. Charles H. Frazier, Mr. James Logan Fisher and the Rev. George Calvert Carter have kindly consented to act as an advisory board, representing the board of managers of the Episcopal Hospital. Recent advices from the unit report it as soon to take over a very large base hospital with a capacity of more than 1000 beds, which will necessitate an increased equipment beyond that taken with them and calling for all that the friends at home can do by way of co-operation. The Home Unit feels that it has a large field of work before it into which it has plunged most courageously. Mrs. Edwards F. Leiper is the secretary and treasurer of the unit.

DID you know that Nancy Hollingsworth Marks has a little daughter? Born in London, where Nancy is now living. You remember early in the war just before the submarine terrors she went to England to marry Lieutenant Marks there, as he was unable to get a furlough to come for her. They had been engaged some little time before. Nancy is a daughter of Mrs. Samuel Hollingsworth, of this city, and a sister of Jack and Esther Hollingsworth. Jack married Amy Clark, you remember. Henry Geyelin married Lieutenant Marks's sister, Gladys a year or so ago. They are living in New York.

SPEAKING of a Philadelphia girl who married an English officer, have you heard that Kit Dohan's husband, Edward Barnard-Hankey, has been made a brigadier general or some such wonderful personage? It appears he was in charge of the British tanks with General Sir Julian Byng and did such wonderful work that he was promoted from lieutenant colonel.

Love is a funny thing, isn't it? I don't know of any girl who was more sought after than Katherine Dohan, and wasn't she beautiful? And yet no American man could win her. That was left for an Englishman. She married Ned Barnard Hankey about eight or ten years ago and has lived in England most of the time since, having paid a few visits here to her mother, Mrs. Michael Dohan, who lives at Darlington. Katherine was more identified with the hunting set here than any other, and she certainly was a stunner on a horse.

MY TALE has to do with a teakettle—one of those amiable, shiny, smiling ones, you know, that every housewife just loves. Well, this teakettle was a particular pet possession of a certain young housewife whom you know and I know. She couldn't quite explain why, but whenever she looked at it she felt happy; and, if the chops did happen to burn or the cornbread emerge from the oven in a dejected, unpatriotic state, why, Friend Teakettle's soothing purr always comforted her, and made her feel that she had certainly done her best, and it wasn't her fault, after all.

But the little housewife's husband didn't just see it that way. Oh, no, I don't mean the cornbread and the chops—he really swallowed those manfully, and showed what heroic stuff he was made of. It was that peculiar attachment to a plain, ordinary teakettle that he positively could not understand; and so, on one of those frightfully cold mornings not so long ago, when he discovered that his little Ford's radiator needed some hot water, into the kitchen he strode (his wife wasn't there) and seized upon Friend Teakettle. Well, he gave the car a nice drink, and then, because he was in an awful hurry and because his mind was occupied with graver things, he started off with never a thought of the poor, shivering teakettle he had set down on the running-board. Of course, the car hadn't gone far at all before the worst happened—off bounced Friend Kettle into the snow, while the loving owner's husband drove on, blissfully unconscious of his cold cruelty. Yes, and in a few minutes along came a big truck and—well, you can guess the rest. All of it. Of course, you will see the moral to this—specially if you happen to be a man. You'll agree with Nancy that it's always best to treat your wife's little unaccountable whim with care, even if said whim is only a mere teakettle.

NANCY WYNNE.

Social Activities

Miss J. Elsie Taite, of 6804 McCallum street, Germantown, will entertain her bridge club on Wednesday afternoon at her home. The members of the club are Mrs. Walter Barnes, Miss Marguerite Tattersfield, Mrs. R. J. Boltz, Mrs. H. B. Gaylon, Miss Blanche Chaveau, Miss Edith McMurtrie, Mrs. H. Clinton Geagary Miss Virginia Bary and Miss Mervin Graham.

Miss Martha Serrill Shoemaker, of 402 West Price street, Germantown, gave a small informal tea on Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Eleanor Rogers, of Virginia, who is the guests of Miss Anna Atlee, of 647 Pelham road, Germantown.

The 1913 June class of the William Penn High School for Girls celebrated its fifth reunion at the Grand Fraternity Building on Saturday evening. The reunion took the form of a military dance, to which a number of marines from the navy yard were invited. Major Pickering and Mrs. Pickering were special guests and Miss Eleanor Kervin, Miss Charlotte Kienzle, Mrs. William F. Owens, Mrs. Ellinger, Mrs. Isadore Strauss and Mrs. Francis Fazey chaperoned. The committee in charge included Miss Emma E. Owens, president; Miss Margaret Keenan, vice president; Miss Sadie Solomon, treasurer; Miss Adele Strauss, secretary, and Miss Ethel R. Dent, chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, 3d, of Magnolia, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, Miss Helen Mass and Mr. William Morrow, of Delair, on Thursday evening. Mr. Morrow leaves for camp today and the party was given in his honor.

"ROBIN HOOD" REVIVAL TO BE WELL ATTENDED

Number of Box Parties Being Planned for Production by Phila. Operatic Society

The production of "Robin Hood," the charming opera by Reginal de Koven, will be given at the Metropolitan Opera House on February 21 and 25, by the Philadelphia Operatic Society, for the benefit of the Philadelphia base hospitals for service in France and for the benefit of the Knights of Columbus war camp fund.

Reginald de Koven, it is said, will attend one if not both of the productions. "Robin Hood" has not been seen in this city since it was produced here by the society in 1916. Numerous box parties are being arranged which promise a representative attendance at the affair.

Among the boxholders are Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Drayton, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Celeste D. Heckscher, Mr. Charles F. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Vare, Mrs. Wassell Leps, Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton, Mrs. C. S. Wurts, Mrs. Howard Lewis, Mrs. Pope Yeatman, Mrs. Charles Henry Scott, Miss Mary K. Gibson, Mrs. George D. Dixon, Mrs. Clement B. Wainwright, Mrs. Francis Patterson, Mrs. Edward Horner Coates, Mrs. Samuel Castner, Jr., Mrs. Maurice Heckscher, Miss Nina Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Jenkins, Mr. John Luther Long, Mr. John F. Braun, Mrs. James W. White, Mrs. Allan H. Strong, Miss Mary Converse, Mrs. J. Ernest Richards, Mrs. Richard F. Edwards, Mrs. George McClellan, Mrs. Richard Harte, Mrs. William Burnham and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer.

MASS-MEETING IN CHELTENHAM

Large Gathering From Jenkintown, Cheltenham and Abington Will Hear Talks on War Work

Members of the Cheltenham, Jenkintown and Abington Branch of the Council of National Defense have arranged to hold a large mass-meeting in the Cheltenham High School tomorrow. The meeting, which is to take place at 8 o'clock in the evening, is called for the purpose of arousing the people of that section to a greater interest in and understanding of what is required of those who wish to help in the general war work.

Two speakers will be on hand to supply some interesting and valuable information, Mr. T. F. Rockwell giving a lecture on Food Production and Mr. C. J. Hepburn addressing the meeting on Food Conservation. Another speaker, whose name has not yet been announced, will give a talk on women's work as laid down by the Council of National Defense. This particular lecture, while of importance to every one, will appeal particularly to the women, and they have been urged to have a large attendance present for the occasion. Charles D. Barney, of Elkins Park, is expected to preside.

The committee which is in charge of the movement is composed of the following: Mrs. T. W. Morris, Jr., chairman; Mrs. W. N. Stewart, first vice chairman; Mrs. H. N. Harrison, second vice chairman, and Mrs. John Gilbert, third vice chairman.

Mrs. A. B. Hubbard is in charge of registration. A committee has been appointed to visit the homes of all residents of the three towns, collecting data as to the nature and amount of war work already done by the women of the various households. The information so obtained is to be filed away for reference and every effort will be made by the investigating committee to give assistance in the way of suggestions. This will be of great help to many women who, anxious to give their share of assistance as a patriotic duty, are prevented from doing it by lack of knowing how to go about it, or else what to do.

Other appointments made are: Mrs. H. K. Taylor, food production; Mrs. W. H. Snyder, food conservation; Mrs. John Scribner, women's industry and child welfare; Mrs. Charles H. Culin, maintenance of existing social agencies; Mrs. Herlow Voorhees, education; Mrs. H. M. Watts, Liberty Loan; Mrs. Marmaduke Tilden, Jr., foreign relief branch of social service, and Miss Frances Robbins, safeguarding of moral and physical forces.

IT'S A BUSY TIME FOR CANTEEN WORKERS

Lansdowne Red Crossers Answer Emergency Call to Take "Eats" and "Smokes" to Soldiers

Again the canteen department of the Lansdowne Red Cross branch has proved its extreme usefulness. On Wednesday, in quick response to an emergency call, a number of women interested in this department assembled at one of the Philadelphia stations and distributed apples, cigarettes, magazines and postcards to about two hundred soldiers who were passing through the city. Their work was certainly a good one, for it is just such little "extras" as these that are so appreciated by all of the men.

Miss Mabel Phillips is at the head of the canteen department out in Lansdowne, and among those who assisted her on Wednesday were Mrs. Robert Downing Taylor, Miss Louise Vanzandt, Miss Elizabeth Fackler, Mrs. Walter Bowers, Mrs. M. Garettson Cook, Miss Garettson, Miss Gertrude Edwards, Miss Dorothy Edwards, Miss Dorothy McEwen and Mrs. Henry Statzell.

Lansdowne does not miss an opportunity to impress upon its people the importance of food saving and especially of saving the wheat. Wherever one goes, to a musicale, to a club meeting, to a movie, or to a surgical dressing class, there are always men or women who give stimulating four-minute talks upon this subject. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Chalmers spoke at the Red Cross House; on Wednesday evening Mrs. Lacey H. Evans spoke there, and at the surgical dressings class on Thursday morning, which is always a large one, Mrs. Isaac H. Rhodes gave a short talk on wheat substitution. Even if a woman is already doing her bit in this direction, these talks cannot help but impress upon her even more strongly the absolute necessity of what she is doing.

A charming little valentine musicale was given on the night of February 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sill. It was given under the direction of Miss Christine Nichols and of the members of her Red Cross unit. This unit is doing splendid work in knitting sweaters, socks, helments and wristlets, and these articles, when finished, are sent direct to the soldiers in the different camps, instead of being turned in to the Red Cross headquarters. The members of the unit are Miss Nichols, Miss May Pearson, Miss Elizabeth Pearson, Miss Helen Adams, Miss Florence Paul, Miss Marie Bennett, Mrs. Edward Rittenhouse, Mrs. Martin White and Miss Jane Pearson.

The program on Thursday night consisted of vocal solos by Mr. Charles Wood and by Miss Florence Sausser, readings by Miss Isabel Galbraith, piano duets by Mrs. H. Rose Smith and Miss Grace Bond, piano solos by Miss Perris and songs by Miss Laura Willis.

The junior section of the Twentieth Century Club is planning to give a card party on Saturday afternoon, March 2, at the Devonshire. It is to be for the benefit of the Woman's Hospital in Philadelphia, and the girls expect to make quite a success of it, for those who do not care to play cards during Lent can come and bring their knitting.

The women of the Twentieth Century Club were entertained on Tuesday afternoon with a most delightful musical program by the Matinee Musical Club, which Mrs. Frederick W. Abbott, the president of the club, had arranged to give them. There were songs by Mrs. Charles Fricke, violin solos by Miss Florence Haenle, readings by Miss Blanche Lester, songs by Miss Emma Olden and duets by Mrs. James Foote and Mrs. S. Marshall Wilson. An enjoyable part of the program was the community singing, in which all the women joined. There was also community whistling, a novel idea which provided a lot of fun for everybody.

The junior section of the club met at the home of Mrs. Charles S. Musser on Tuesday evening. Nominations were made for officers for the ensuing year. The nominations were: President, Miss Grace Bond; Miss Laura Willis; secretary, Miss Mary Frances Gallagher, Miss Margaret Willis; treasurer, Miss Dorothy McEwen, Miss Marian Mishler. An interesting program followed, which included a talk on the German spy system by Miss Isabel Galbraith; a review of Mary Roberts Rinehart's book, "Long Live the King," by Miss Helen Read, and songs by Miss Florence Sausser, accompanied by Miss Ruth Decker. A number of the girls are planning to attend the reciprocity day of the junior section of the Norwood Century Club, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Samuel Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Irwin, is home from Princeton. He expects to enlist in the navy.

Miss Florence Sausser has been visiting Mrs. F. J. Bush, Jr.

NOON WEDDING TODAY AT ADELPHIA HOTEL

Miss Rose Hess and Mr. Abraham Fellheimer Married Today by Rev. Henry Berkowitz

An interesting wedding took place today at noon at the Adelphia Hotel, when Miss Rose R. Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon J. Hess, of 3532 North Twenty-first street, became the bride of Mr. Abraham Fellheimer. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Berkowitz, D. D., of the Rodeph Shalom Congregation.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her traveling suit of dark blue tricotine with a hat of the same color, and a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Sidney B. Strouse, sister of the bride, was her only attendant.

Mr. Fellheimer and his bride will leave on an extended trip through the South, and will be at home after the middle of March at 3523 North Twenty-first street.

FORAN-CUNLIFFE

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna M. Cunliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Cunliffe, of 254 Sumac street, Wissahickon, to Lieutenant John J. Foran of Hampton Roads, Va., on Tuesday, February 12, at 6 o'clock, in the Church of St. John the Baptist, by the Rev. P. M. Maginnis assistant rector. The bride was given in marriage by her father and the quiet ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Lieutenant Foran and his bride left on Friday evening for an automobile trip through the South to Stockley Garden, Norfolk, where they will live.

KIRKPATRICK—ALDRICH

An attractive home wedding took place on Saturday at 12 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Dunn Aldrich, of Osage avenue, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Lamson Aldrich, became the bride of Mr. W. Alton Kirkpatrick. Miss C. Evelyn Smith, of Rutledge, was maid of honor, and Mr. Robert E. Bennett, of Overbrook, was best man.

The wedding ceremony was preceded by a new wedding song, "O Perfect Love," composed for the occasion by Mr. Aldrich and sung by Miss Viola Brodbeck, with violin obbligato by Mr. Carbon Deber, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Neebe. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was sung by a quartet, Miss Brodbeck, Miss Jane Miller, Miss Gladys Sutton and Miss Laura Willis, who marched down the stairs followed by the maid of honor and the bride. The singers remained at the foot of the stairs and immediately after the ceremony sang the wedding music from "Lohengrin." The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John R. Davies, of Bethlehem Presbyterian Church, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's gown was of white beaded net over white satin. Her tulle veil was held in place by sprays of lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. Miss Smith was gowned in pale pink georgette crepe trimmed with silver ribbons. She wore a hat of pink georgette crepe and her bouquet was of pink sweet peas.

The four singers chose the pastelle shades. Miss Brodbeck wearing nile green tulle over silver cloth. Miss Miller wore yellow georgette crepe. Miss Sutton wore lavender crepe de chine and Miss Willis wore pale blue georgette crepe. They wore corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Aldrich was gowned in black chiffon velvet trimmed with gold lace, while Mrs. Kirkpatrick wore gray georgette crepe over burnt orange satin.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Florence A. Burleigh and Mrs. Ida A. Burleigh, of Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. Cora Lamson Watertown, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Aldrich, of New York city.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be at home at 4220 Osage avenue.

Items of news for the society page will be accepted and printed in the Evening Public Ledger provided they are written on one side of the paper only and are signed with full name and telephone number of the sender, as it must be possible to verify the notes. HONOR ROLLS OF ROXBOROUGH

Washington's Birthday Commemorated Yesterday at Patriotic Service in Honor of Church Members in Army and Navy

THE members of Camp 50, Patriotic Order Sons of America, commemorated the birth of George Washington, after whom their order was named, by impressive patriotic services yesterday morning in the Roxborough Baptist Church, when the first public recognition was given the men of the camp who are in the service of the country. The Rev. Johnson Miner made a patriotic address, and a special feature of the patriotic music was the cornet solo by Mr. Hiram L. Wynne, Jr., son of Mr. Hiram L. Wynne, a direct descendant of Dr. Thomas Wynne, who came to America with William Penn.

Mr. Orland S. Black is president of Camp 50, Mr. William Struse, vice president; Mr. Harry Price, master of forms; Mr. Fred Loos, financial secretary; Mr. John E. Milligan, recording secretary, and Mr. Robert A. Keely, treasurer. The men on the honor roll to whom tribute was paid are Mr. John Barr, Mr. Walter Bachman, Mr. Charles Booth, Mr. John C. Booth, Lieutenant Harry S. Carmany, M. D.; Mr. William F. Carpenter, Mr. Howard M. Cantrell, Mr. Frank H. Carr, Mr. Samuel Clark, Mr. George E. Davis, Mr. William G. Daymond, Mr. Gustav Deschin, Mr. Wilbur Dewees, Mr. Harry Esterheld, Mr. Roland Engel, Mr. William P. Fetzer, Mr. John C. Fair, Mr. William L. Farrand, Mr. Ivan S. Field, Mr. Joseph Francis, Mr. John Frischolz, Mr. Charles Frost, Mr. Russell A. Funk, Mr. Samuel P. Geary, Mr. Ralph Glaney, Mr. Harry Graul, Mr. Edmund D. Grindrod, Mr. Edward P. Haney, Mr. Robert J. Hartley, Mr. William Koelick, Mr. Morris L. Hoff, Mr. Ralph H. Horrick, Mr. Morris Hunter, Mr. Leon Johnson, Mr. Wilhelm H. Karash, Mr. William B. Kemper, Mr. Lee L. Kester, Mr. F. E. Kirkpatrick, Mr. Fred Knoeller, Mr. Harry G. Krohn, Jr., Mr. Walter Krieger, Mr. Gordon Leech, Mr. Charles H. Lewis, Mr. George H. Missimer, Mr. Robert Moore, Mr. Walter Morris, Mr. Francis Earl Morton, Mr. Alfred Miller, Mr. William J. Milner, Mr. George S. Marks, Mr. Ralph B. Maxwell, Mr. Elmer Milligan, Mr. C. Taylor, Mr. George Thackeray, Mr. Charles H. Thomas, Mr. George W. Winkerle, Dr. Howard K. White and Mr. James R. White.

One of these young Americans, in a letter to the chairman of a Wissahickon Bible class, said: "When I joined the P. O. S. of A. I put my hand on the Bible and said I would defend my country, and I am going to stand by that pledge." And the large audience paid tribute to the absent ones pledged to safeguard their country.

On Thursday evening Camp 50 will give a musical and literary entertainment at headquarters, Ridge and Lyceum avenues, followed by an informal reception.

A Colonial reception and dance will be given on Friday evening at Woodvale, the clubhouse of the American Bridge Company's club, under the auspices of the members of the club. The decorations will be patriotic in color and design, and the guests will be attired in "ye olden tyme costumes."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keever gave a family dinner on Wednesday evening at their home on Harmon road, in celebration of the birthday of their son, Master Jack Keever. Their guests included Miss Agnes Foley, Miss Emily Foley, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foley, Mrs. George Geisler and Mr. Russell Foley.

The X L N C, a club of young men of Wissahickon, Roxborough and Manayunk, gave a successful dance in St. John's Hall on Saturday evening. The members of the club include Mr. John S. Burgess, Mr. J. P. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Leo J. McKernan, Mr. Francis E. McGill, Mr. William C. Ryan, Mr. Hugh J. McMann, Mr. James J. Callahan, Mr. Daniel McGill, Mr. Francis Dever, Mr. William J. The February meeting of the Baptist Young People's Association of the Mount Vernon Baptist Church will be held at the home of the pastor, the Rev. W. B. Forney, tomorrow evening. The pastor and Mrs. Forney and the young people keep in touch with the boys from the church in the army and navy and look after their welfare. The honor roll includes Mr. Daniel Raymond Taylor, in France; Mr. Henry B. Steinruck, Mr. Frank Carr, Jr., Mr. Charles Frost, Mr. David Van Fossen, Mr. Fred Reidel, Mr. Samuel Reidel and Mr. Joseph Summerscales.

The annual Lenten recitals in St. Timothy's P. E. Church commenced last evening. The program included Gounod's "Gallia," with piano and organ accompaniment, Mrs. George Clay Bowker at the piano and Mr. Ernest G. Thomas, choirmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. M. Pass, of Roxborough, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, James Hindle Pass, on Sunday, February 10.

Lieutenant Calvin S. Hain has been home on a two months' furlough, having been transferred from the field artillery to the aviation department. He reported on Saturday for further training. He was previously connected with the National Guard in the cavalry and took a three months' training at Fort Niagara, where he received his commission.

The members of Division No. 5, S. O. H., unfurled a service flag at their patriotic demonstration at the February meeting in America Hall. M. P. J. McGarvey, chairman of the county board, made a patriotic address, and Mr. Edward Fitzgerald, the president, presided. Mr. Michael Walsh is vice president; Mr. James McCauley, Mr. Michael Green are the secretaries and Mr. Thomas Martin is treasurer. The honor roll includes Lieutenant John J. Foran, Mr. Adrian Devlin, Mr. John Gallagher, Mr. Raymond Gallagher, Mr. William Mahon, Jr., Mr. Sylvester Bowe, Mr. James McCoog, Mr. Eugene O'Connell, Mr. William Foran, Mr. Sylvester Mahon, Mr. Patrick McFadden, Mr. Bart Gorman, Mr. James Cronin, Mr. Andrew McDonald, Mr. Maurice Foley, Mr. Andrew Foley, Mr. John Dougherty, Mr. Michael Conroy, Mr. Joseph Hagney, Mr. Francis Quigley, Mr. William Welch, Mr. A.
