The following appeared in the Phila-delphia Record yesterday: Those who are close to the Gover-nor cannot help but chuckle when they iell what they believe prompted him to consider an extra session call. It is pointed out that the Governor has been reading closely the autobiography of the late Governor Pennypacker and that he became vitally interested in the difficulties which confronted the former Executive when he was con-eldering an extra session for reap-portion in 1906. It is now believed that it was this sketch that prompted Governor Brum-baugh indicate that this gave him a thought, and it was about the time the extra session chapters were appearing that Brumbaugh first let it be known that he was willing to hear what could be said for and against an extra ses-sion this year.
