

YOUNG AND OLD ASSEMBLE AT CATHEDRAL TO PAY THEIR FINAL TRIBUTE TO ARCHBISHOP PRENDERGAST

Extending from the main entrance of the sacred edifice, facing Logan Square, and along Eighteenth and other streets, Catholics representing nearly every parish in the city and its suburbs assembled today. Their object was to obtain a farewell view of the features of Archbishop Prendergast, whose body, in state before the main altar of the Cathedral, was exposed to public view. The hour set for opening the doors was 4 o'clock, but long before that time hundreds of persons had congregated about the building, in front of which police lines had been stretched. Succeeding hours increased the numbers of the assemblage, until by nightfall several thousand were in the church or in the slow-moving procession.
